

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

SOLDIER BONUS MEASURE IS PASSED BY SENATE
AFTER FERVID APPEAL BY REPUBLICAN LEADER

Death Hour Near at Hand, DuPre Sheds Tears

BANDIT WILL PAY
MURDER PENALTY
THIS AFTERNOON

Tears Blind Bandit When Miss Jeannette Jones
Asks God to Prepare His Soul to Meet Fate.

PEOPLE ON STREETS
PRAY FOR PRISONER

For Hours Thursday Night
Little Groups Gather Near Prison—All Hope
Now Abandoned.

Pres. Harding Declines
To Act in DuPre Case

President Harding Thursday declined to take a hand in the eleventh-hour efforts being made to save the life of Frank B. Du-Pre, who goes to the gallows this afternoon. The influence of the president was asked for by Mrs.
C. T. Osburn, Atlanta woman, who has worked for the condemned boy, and last night she received the following telegram:

"President Harding can only wire Governor Hardwick as a private individual because the federal government has no relation to state cases."

(Signed)
"GEORGE B. CHRISTIAN, JR.,
"Secretary."

Moultrie, Ga., August 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—Governor Thomas W. Hardwick on his arrival here tonight received a telegram from the private secretary of President Harding advising him that the president had received a petition from Georgians in behalf of Frank DuPre, who is to be hanged in Atlanta tomorrow.

There was no comment and the governor apparently considered the message as an acknowledgment of the receipt of the petition.

BY GARLAND E. PORTER.

For the first time since he was sentenced to die for the murder of Irby Walker, December 15, 1921, Frank B. DuPre, youthful "Peachtree bandit," who will be hanged at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, shed tears
Thursday afternoon when Miss Jeannette Jones, a girl friend, prayed for the repose of his soul, while both she and DuPre knelt on the cold cement floor of the Fulton county tower.

Tears Blinding Bandit.

Rising to her feet after the touching prayer, Miss Jones, who was dressed in black, and who is a slender young woman with a brunette and pretty, held her hands through the bars to DuPre and told him to face death with confidence in the power of God to bring rest and peace to his soul. Tears were blinding DuPre and he held his handkerchief to his eyes as he rose from his knees, the moment witnessing the first real emotion he has displayed in the long fight for his life. Even then he did not lose his nerve entirely.

After Miss Jones had gone, DuPre turned to a Constitution reporter, his handkerchief still in his hand:
"It was hard trying to keep the

Continued on page 2 col. 3.

Station WGM to Open Big 500-Watt Radio Set Tonight

Three big programs tonight will open the powerful new 500-watt radio broadcasting set of Station WGM, The Atlanta Constitution. These programs will be broadcast on central standard time between 6 and 6:30 o'clock, 6:30 and 7 o'clock and 9 and 10:45 o'clock.

In charge of the grand concert between 9 and 10:45 o'clock will be Enrico Leide, while B. H. Warner, director of Warner's Seven Aces, The Atlanta Constitution orchestra, and Signor E.
Volpi, Atlanta opera coach, will direct the other two programs.
The new radio broadcasting station of The Atlanta Constitution is equal in power to any similar plant in America, using four 250-watt vacuum tubes, two as oscillators and two as modulators connected in a modified form of the Stanley British circuit.
Full details of the big concert tonight will be found in the Radio Department of Today's Constitution.

LIMIT IS PLACED ON COAL PRICES
FOR ALABAMANS

Mobile, Ala., August 31.—Roy R.
Cox, state fuel administrator, this afternoon announced maximum prices for coal which may be charged by coal operators, brokers and retailers in Alabama, during the winter, according to long distance message from the state capital. Immediately after he made public the prices, Governor Kilby issued a statement in which he declared that any violation of the maximum prices would mean an extra session of the Alabama legislature.

ALLEGED LIQUOR
RUNNER KILLED

Boss Parker Dies From Injuries After Auto Leaves Road Near Cumming Friday Morning.

Boss Parker, 33 years old, of 225 Ivy street, was killed shortly after midnight this morning when an automobile he was driving at a high rate of speed left the road near Cumming, Ga.

According to the meager reports filed at police headquarters by Barclay & Brandon, morticians, who sent a car for the body, Parker was attempting to escape from prohibition enforcement officers at the time of the accident.

He is said to have been on probation for one year for violation of the liquor laws. He had been arrested several times, according to police authorities here.

AMERICAN WOMAN
VICTIM OF LONDON
TRAIN ROBBERY

London, August 31.—A $50,000 jewel robbery with an American woman as the victim has led Scotland yard operatives to seek the trail of what is believed to be an international band of train thieves.

Mrs. J. Byrne, who reported the theft, was on her way from Paris to London at the time.
Advertisements in London newspapers offer $5,000 reward for recovery of the jewels.

GREAT BOOZE HAUL MADE AT SAVANNAH

Over 5,000 Quarts of Rye and Scotch Whisky Seized in Record Prohibition Raid.

Savannah, Ga., August 31.—(Special.)—More than 5,000 quarts of rye and Scotch whisky and Gordon dry gin, which has a market value of approximately $50,000 in New York, where most of the whisky was being shipped, was confiscated today by Agents McCann, Gossnell, Edmonson, DeLoach, Crowder and Bergstrom, who staged a series of raids under the personal direction of Division Chief R. Q. Merrick.

The biggest haul of the day was made late this afternoon, when 4-800 quarts of Lewis Hunter and Cedarbrook rye whisky was found in a freight car on a side track of the Seaboard Air Line railroad, four miles west of Savannah.

The barrels had been loaded in a freight car and had the prohibition agents been an hour later, the containers would have been on its way to New York city, as a switch engine of the Seaboard came for the freight car while the whisky was being destroyed.

In each of the 160 barrels there

Continued on page 4 col. 7.

PLOT TO DYNAMITE
NEW YORK-CHICAGO EXPRESS CHARGED

Arrests in Chicago Disclose Alleged Conspiracy of Wholesale Terrorism in Rail Shop Strike.

BRIDGES ARE BURNED AND WORKERS SLUGGED

Wholesale Arrests Are Indicated as Likely to Follow Federal Sleuths' Trail in West.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Chicago, August 31.—The discovery of a new train wrecking plot, an attempt to blow up a train, the burning and dynamiting of bridges and other railway property, greasing of tracks, slugging of workers and other acts of violence marked the railroad shopmen's strike today.

A pile of debris heaped on the tracks near Spring Lake, Iowa, was reported to have resulted in the death of one man and the injury of three others when an inspection car on which they were riding struck the obstruction.

An attempt to blow up a Chicago and Alton train near Alton, Ill., the bombing of a bridge in Wilmington, Del., and the burning of seven bridges on the Cotton Belt line, also were reported simultaneously with the arrest of three men in Chicago charged with a plot to dynamite and wreck
the New York-Chicago Western express, of the New York Central line.

Follows Arrests.

The latest arrests followed those of four other men accused of wrecking a Michigan Central express train near Gary, Ind., two weeks ago by removing spikes from the rails. The wreck caused the death of two engine men and efforts were being made by federal and state officials to determine whether there were any connection between the two groups.

Railroad detectives, posing as strikers, obtained the first information concerning the plot. According to the investigators, the wreck was first supposed to occur Tuesday but the arrest of the four men in connection with the Gary outrage postponed the execution of the plot. The men were being questioned today in an attempt to learn if others were connected with the conspiracy. Wholesale arrests of terrorists was indicated while federal agents continued their activity in all parts of the central west.

Guards Are Beaten.

Despite the wide extent of the day's outbreaks and the heavy property loss, few injuries were reported.
At Sedalia, Mo., four railroad guards were beaten by thugs. The Wilmington bombing disabled a railroad bridge and shattered windows for blocks.

Continued on Page 4, Column 6.

EXPECT ARRESTS
IN DYNAMITE PLOT

Huge Property Loss to Railroads and Probable Loss of Life Planned, Say Federal Agents.

Dynamite plots involving a huge property loss to railroads terminating in Atlanta and probable loss of lives of employees, have been uncovered by federal secret service agents, it was announced Thursday by United States District Attorney Clint Hager. While government operators are reluctant to discuss their future steps in this connection it is known that a number of men are under surveillance and arrests are expected in the near future.

"Our information is of the most concrete character," Hager stated;
"we know the parties involved, and the details concerning their activities."

The district attorney said, the loss would have been staggering had the "red" program been carried out to its completion.

Charge of U. S. Agents.

Government officials charge that a lawless element among the strikers has been planning the destruction of railroad shops where the strikers were formerly employed and of the sleeping

Continued on Page 16, Column 4.

Real Victim of Frank B. DuPre FACE DEATH LIKE MAN, FATHER'S PARTING WORD Describes Prophetic Vision

BY FUZZY WOODRUFF.
The most pitiful victim of the "Peachtree bandit" sat in the office of the bandit's lawyers all Thursday afternoon. He sat there though hope had fled from those minds and tones and energies with which the battle has been made for the bandit's life. The lawyers had told the victim as tenderly as they could that an end of their resources had been reached, that there was nothing that could be done but to await the grim hour when fate and the law joined in writing the last chapter in this horrible narrative that began last December among the merry shoppers of the blessed Christmas season.

The victim sat there with hope gone and power to think gone. He knew that he could do nothing to soften the blow that was to fall. He knew that no man could or would still in his brain the dreadful sentence that he had heard pronounced on his last born; "On Friday, September 1, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. you shall be hanged by the neck until dead."

But still he sat there. Maybe it was because he had learned to look on that office as the home of the hopes that have been blighted one after the other. Maybe it was because there was someone there with whom to talk, and he must talk or go mad. Maybe it was because he had no place else to go and the father of a doomed man must be somewhere. Merciful nature has not provided a magic that will permit this father simply to cease to exist.

Father Real Sufferer.
F. A. DuPre, father of Frank
B. DuPre, after all is the real victim of this tragedy. The unrighteousness of the act in robbing Irby Walker of life; the suffering that the death of Walker placed on his innocent widow and fatherless child, are not forgotten. But that suffering can be little compared to the agony that will be the father's as the clock hands dash their interminable way or dash madly around the cycle of time that brings them to Friday morning's fatal hour.

The father says that all hope has gone, that all power to do for his boy, all power to think for his boy, have been wrecked in his sea of trouble. All that can be done for him must be done for him by others, says the father.

"I can't even hope," the words are his own. They tell eloquently of his impotency.

As the elder DuPre talks of his boy and his own hopelessness, he speaks as a man newly awakened from sleep speaks of a dream before the conviction has quite commanded his mind that the dream was not a dream but a stern reality.

Note of Despair.

He talks in a low monotone that sounds a note of despair that a Wagner or a Puccini would have given a lifetime to reproduce. His tone is soft, redolent of the South Carolina seaboard from which he hails. And as he speaks his eyes wander "way off into vast distance, trying to find in all that void the reality of the thing that he cannot grasp in a work-a-day world.

"Frank's mother died when he was about eighteen years old," he said. "And right at her deathbed, I got the notion that something terrible was going to happen to this boy. I didn't worry about Joe, his older brother, though at that time Joe was 8-900 miles away from home, fighting in the war."

Continued on page 2 col. 5.

Britain Rescinds
Powers Granted
To U. S. Consul

Coercion in Vise Granting Given as Reason for Closing of Consulate.

Denies Charge.
London, September 1.—The Daily
Chronicle, says that Fred C.
Slater, the American consul at Newcastle, in an interview last night said with regard to the withdrawal of his exequatur:

"The only reason I know for the drastic step taken by the British government is that I was suspected of favoring the American line.
This I deny."

BY RALPH H. TURNER,
United News Staff Correspondent.
London, August 31.—Alleged efforts of the American consul at Newcastle to induce British subjects to travel on United States ships have resulted in the withdrawal of the consulate's powers by Great Britain.

The consulate was closed Thursday and a notice was posted that the British government had withdrawn its consular powers.

It was learned reliably that the British withdrew official recognition of both Consul Slater and Vice-Consul Russell Brooks, stationed at Newcastle. It was claimed they had attempted virtually to coerce British subjects who applied for passport visas into traveling on American vessels. About six weeks ago, it was learned, the British foreign office notified the United States that it was in possession of evidence regarding the alleged coercion and proposed the withdrawal of the Newcastle consulate's powers, promising, however, to defer action for a month if the United States meantime saw fit to remove the consular officers there.

U. S. Did Not Act.

The American government took no action on the first British note, whereupon Great Britain last Monday dispatched another note announcing the action that had been taken.

As a precedent, the British government cited an incident occurring in 1856 when the United States is said to have similarly withdrawn the powers of the British consuls at New York, Philadelphia and Cincinnati on the charge that they were recruiting for the British army. The British note quoted the reply made at that time by Lord Clarendon in which the British official acknowledged that he was unable to deny the United States the right to withdraw the powers of the British consuls there. Great Britain pointed out that it consid-

GERMANS GRANTED
PARTIAL RESPITE ON REPARATIONS

Commission Grants Delay in Cash Payment
When Belgium Agrees to Accept Plan.

BERLIN AND BELGIUM
TO SETTLE QUESTION

Germany Will Meet This Year's Payments With Treasury Bills Payable in Six Months.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Paris, August 31.—The reparations commission has relieved Germany of the necessity of making any further cash payments in reparations for the remainder of 1922, but defers its decision on the question of a moratorium until radical reforms in Germany's finances are carried out. These include the balancing of her budget, reduction of Germany's foreign obligations, currency reform and the issue of foreign and internal loans.

In rendering its decision the reparations commission takes into account the fact that "the state has lost its credit and the market has depreciated continuously."

Announcement of the commission's action was made by Sir John Bradbury this evening after a session lasting an hour and twenty minutes.
The decision was immediately communicated to the German delegates and the various governments by telephone. It is understood that Premier Lloyd George personally approved the settlement by telephone.

Surprise To Many.
The decision came as a surprise to some circles, where it was expected that M. Dubois, representing France, would vote against any solution other than one complying with the original demands of Premier Poincare.

As accepted the settlement constitutes a modified form of the Belgian compromise proposal and Belgium is given the honor of having brought about the last-minute agreement when a break in the commission seemed inevitable and the members of the commission felt that the very existence of the commission was at stake.

Premier Poincare gave his approval on condition that Germany furnish a gold deposit sufficient to guarantee the deferred payments involved. The threatened breach in the Franco-British relations has thus been averted by the French premier, who was only prevailed upon to withdraw his objection to the compromise after it became certain that independent action by France would be interpreted by Great Britain as a virtual tearing up of the treaty of Versailles.

Out of Commission.

The question now passes out of the
(Continued on Page 5, Column 3.)

PROTEST PLANNED
ON PAVING DELAY

Buckhead and Peachtree
Road Residents May Call Mass Meeting to Express Indignation.

Citizens of Buckhead and those living in that section of Fulton county, together with residents of the section between Buckhead and Brookdale may be called upon at an early date to attend a mass meeting to express public indignation at delay in progress of paving work between the street car tracks on Peachtree road.

One of the leading merchants of Buckhead is interesting himself in the matter and he has sounded other business men of that community and citizens living along Peachtree road.

He declares that unless this work is put immediately underway and finished without the delay that has characterized it since it began a month ago, he will get signatures for a meeting to be called for next week, which he says will be "the liveliest meeting ever held in Buckhead."

The work of repaving Peachtree road from the city limits to near Buckhead was begun about a month ago under contract let by the county commissioners. The street car

KLAN INSURGENTS FORM RIVAL BODY,
SAYS CHATTANOOGA

Chattanooga, Tenn., August 31.—
According to information given out here today at a meeting held in a nearby city Wednesday the National Association of Klansmen, a rival organization of the Ku Klux Klan, was organized by insurgent members of klans from various sections of the country.

WATSON SUGGESTS
U. S. SEIZE FRENCH SHIPS FOR DEBT

In Speech Opposing Bonus Measure, Georgian Advocates Drastic
Course on War Debt.

Explains Position
ON SOLDIER BONUS

Approves Bonus Principle, But Opposes Bill to Save Taxpayers From Added Burden.

Constitution Bureau
Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, August 31.—(By Constitution Leased Wire.)—In a highly sensational speech in the senate today on the soldiers' bonus bill, Senator Watson, of Georgia, advocated the seizure of all French ships in American waters as a means of enforcing payment of interest on obligations owed this country by France unless other provisions are made.

Opposing the bonus bill, Senator Watson declared that one of the few methods which he would approve for raising the expenditure necessary would be through collection of interest on the foreign debt. He stated that while he favored the principle of a bonus, he would not "even for a soldier's bonus burden the shoulders of the American taxpayer with an additional dollar of taxation."

It is taken for granted, he said, that England will pay her obligations and France will not.

Urges Drastic Course.

"The time has been when we had a president who knew what to do to bring France to terms," Senator Watson said. "If we had Andrew Jackson . . . in the white house to meet such a crisis he would say to France those words which would make her put on her thinking cap and find the wherewithal with which to pay interest on her American debt."

Referring to the French army being maintained in Palestine, Senator Watson declared "We are financing France's wars of conquest." He added:

"Why not say, in diplomatic language, 'We cannot further do that,'
and let it be understood that unless provisions are made to meet the interest on these past due debts . . .
within a reasonable time . . . we will seize every French ship within our waters, and if she chooses to make it a cause of war, dare her to the battle. That would bring her to her senses in short order."

Position on Bonus.

Explaining his position on the bonus question, Senator Watson said:
"My idea has been that while I favor a soldier's bonus, and have done so from the first, and have cited from time to time the examples of the great men who had favored the principle of a bonus or recompense or reward to the soldier, I would not, even for a soldier's bonus, burden the shoulders of the American tax payer with an additional dollar of taxation for any purpose whatsoever. That has been my position heretofore. That is my position now."

"I take that position, because, as everybody knows, the people are now taxed to the limit of endurance, taxed to the limit of toleration, taxed prohibitively, taxed until homes and farms are being sold by the hundreds and by the thousands all over this union, east, west and south."

Taxed to Limit.

"When a people is taxed to the extent that the ordinary small farmer is sold out in one county of a state like Georgia by his taxes, and his family are turned into the road, and that is done to the extent of 300 farms during the few months of this year which have already passed, then the man who will deny that our people are taxed to the limit of endurance shuts his eyes to the facts."

The Georgia senator declared that the whole bonus question has been

Continued on Page 4, Column 5.

LODGE SAYS BILL WILL ADD NO LOAD
TO U. S. TAXPAYERS

But Cabinet Members Predict President Will Vet Measure Despite Lodge Plea.

FINAL VOTE WAS 47
FOR AND 22 AGAINST

Measure as Passed Offers Five Forms of Bonus to World War Veterans.

MACNIDER EXPECTS HARDING'S APPROVAL

Washington, August 31.—The soldiers' bonus bill, passed by the senate Thursday, has left the legislative decks of both houses of congress clear for cleaning up, the coal legislation asked by President Harding and an early recess pending return of the coal, bonus and tariff bills from conference.

Forty-seven votes were cast by the senate in favor of the bonus bill.
Twenty-two votes were cast against it.

Senators supporting the bill were: Brandegee, Bursum, Cameron, Cummings, Curtis, Gooding,
Jones of Washington, Kellogg, Lalette, Lenroot, Lodge, McCormick, Cumber, McLean, McNary, Nicholson,
Oddie, Rawson, Shortridge, Stanford, Sutherland, Townsend, Watson and Willie, all republicans, and Ashurst, Broussard, Culberson, Fletcher, Gerry, Hefflin, Hitchcock, Kendrick, McKel-lar, Pittman, Pomeroy, Ransdell, Reed of Missouri, Robinson, Russell, Simmons, Smith, Trammell, Walsh of Montana, and Walsh of Massachusetts, all democrats.

Senators opposing the bill were: Ball,
Borah, Calder, Dillingham, Edge,
France, Frelinghuysen, Keyes, Nelson,
New, Phillips, Hayden of Pennsylvania, Smoot, Sterling and Wadsworth, all republicans, and Dial, Glass, Myers, Shields, Swenson, Underwood and Williams, all democrats.

Lodge Makes Plea.

Final vote on the bonus came after a fervid appeal by Senator Lodge, republican leader, in its behalf. He addressed himself largely to the task of disproving contentions of bonus opposers that the measure, if made a law, would impose an added burden upon the national treasury and the people's purses.

With house and senate conference anxious to make quick work of the bonus bill, that the president may

The Weather
GENERALLY FAIR.

Washington—Forecast:
Georgia—Generally fair Friday and Saturday.

Local Weather Report.

Highest temperature 87
Lowest temperature 72
Mean temperature 80
Normal temperature 75
Rainfall in past 24 hrs., in00
Deficiency since Jan. 1, in 12.78
Excess since Jan. 1, in 12.78

Dry temperature 73 87 70
Wet bulb 65 72 57
Relative humidity 67 48 77

Reports of Weather Bureau Stations

Asa, cloudy	88	50
Asa, pt. cloudy	80	54
Asa, cloudy	82	50
Cromery, pt. cloudy	80	50
Oriema, pt. cloudy	82	58
York, cloudy	86	78	54
Platts, clear	92	102	60
Asa, clear	98	104	60
Asa, pt. cloudy	98	104	60
Burg, clear	74	54	48
Asa, pt. cloudy	74	56	50
Francisco, clear	68	50	50
Asa City	78	82	54
Asa City, cloudy	70	82	54
Asa, clear	84	86	54
Asa, pt. cloudy	78	58	54
Asa, clear	70	68	54
Burg, clear	84	90	60
Asa, pt. cloudy	74	56	50

have his final word on it, it is expected to be in Harding's hands within ten days. Two amendments to the original draft were a part of it when it finally passed the McNary land reclamation option and the Simmons proposal for diverting interest on foreign debts to payment of the bonus.

The president would not be expected to look with favor on either, the former because he might not believe it pertinent to the bill and the latter, because it does not provide a form of financing certain to bring in necessary funds.

Veto Predicted.

Cabinet officials predicted Thursday that the president would veto the bill. Congressional leaders predicted that the house and senate would not pass the bill over such a veto.

The bonus bill as passed by the senate provides:

A world war veteran may make application for one of five optional bonus plans: Cash pay, paid-up insurance certificates, vocational training aid, farm or home aid, or a 100 acre land settlement.

Though the application can be made at any time, paid-up insurance certificates with a loanable value will not become effective until January 1, 1925. Thereafter, the bank of the nation are authorized to loan on these certificates not to exceed 50 per cent except in a few instances, of the full face value, plus interest, from the date of the certificate to making of the loan. If the loan is made within three to six years of the date of the certificate, the amount loaned can be up to 85 per cent of the value; up after six years, up to 70 per cent of the value of the certificate, both plus interest.

Cash Up to $50.

Service men whose credit is not more than $50 may receive this amount in cash, the payment to be made as soon as practicable after the bill is law.

Veterans choosing vocational training are entitled to an amount equal to his adjusted service credit, plus 40 per cent, at the rate of $1.75 a day.

The farm or home aid option, provides that veteran may receive from the government to buy or improve homes, or to pay off indebtedness on farms or homes an amount equal to the following percentages of his adjusted service credit: 100 per cent if the payment or the first installment thereof is made during the calendar year 1923; 105 per cent if the payment or the first installment thereof is made during the calendar year 1924; 110 per cent if the payment or the first installment thereof is made during the calendar year 1925; 120 per cent if the payment or the first installment thereof is made during the calendar year 1926; 130 per cent if the payment or the first installment thereof is made during the calendar year 1927 or thereafter.

Coal Bill Up.

The Borah coal commission bill was taken up immediately after the bonus was passed, and will continue before the senate until disposed of. It is intended as a substitute for the Winslow coal commission bill.

The Borah bill contains certain recommendations with regard to nationalization, standardization and stabilization of the industry which the Winslow measure lacks. However, neither measure has "teeth" aside from a penalizing clause applicable to all who refuse to testify before the commission. While opposition has developed on both sides of the senate on the ground that the measure suggests government interference in business, nevertheless administration leaders are satisfied that the measure will pass.

Some delay in disposing of the measure may come through the introduction of an amendment or an independent measure embodying Senator Pepper's separate anthracite commission proposition, upon which final settlement of the anthracite strike is said to be conditioned. This additional legislation has not yet been placed before the senate.

Consideration of the Cummins coal distribution bill will follow the Borah measure.

The house has passed the Winslow distribution and anti-profiteering measure, but its final enactment must wait upon disposition of the Cummins bill.

With the passage of the Winslow bill Thursday, the house has practically concluded its business and is expected to begin a series of three-day recesses by the end of the week. These recesses will continue until the bonus and tariff bills are ready for final consideration.

Wharton Denies Charge He Heads Striking Railmen

Chicago, August 31.—Emphatic denial of charges that he is serving not only as a member of the United States railroad labor board, but also as president of the striking shopcraft organization, was made today by A. O. Wharton, one of the three labor members of the board.

Mr. Wharton made the report when informed of a dispatch saying the charges would be contained in an article in September 2 issue of a New York magazine, quoting another member of the federal arbitration body as saying "the shopmen's strike was engineered from inside the labor board."

Mr. Wharton was president of the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor from 1912 to 1920, when he was appointed to the labor board. He said he was re-elected president at the union's convention last April, but that his re-election was merely a formal tribute in appreciation of past services.

"It was specifically understood," he said, "that I was not to serve as head of the organization and that I was not to do anything that conflicts with my duties as a member of the labor board."

Bert M. Jewell, who has been known as head of the shopmen's organization, was elected vice president at the convention, Mr. Wharton said, adding: "But it was also understood that Mr. Jewell was to be president, and therefore, F. J. McGrath was elected as a second vice president."

"As soon as I was formally notified of my election, I wrote a letter to Mr. Jewell, in which I refused to serve, but thanked the organization for the vote of confidence. This is a matter of record."

It also is charged, according to the report, that Albert Phillips, another labor member of the board, is vice president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers. Mr. Phillips is at present in California.

Mr. Wharton said he knew nothing of circumstances under which Mr. Phillips took office.

Section 306 of the transportation act under which the labor board was created provides that no member shall be actively connected with any labor organization or any railway enterprise and that he shall have no pecuniary interest in any carrier enterprise but adds that he shall not be required to relinquish honorary membership in his rights in any insurance or pension or other benefit fund maintained by any organization of employees or subordinate officials or by a carrier.

MEXICAN DEPUTY KILLED IN CHAMBER

Mexico City, August 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—Tortuato Lemus, a co-operative deputy, was shot and killed today in the green room of the chamber of deputies. Martin Barman, independent member in charge of the shooting, which followed a dispute over the contested credentials of the two men as deputies from the state of Michoacan.

ON EVE OF DEATH, DUPRE SHEDS TEARS

Continued from First Page.

tears back that time," he said, drying his eyes again.

Pray for DuPre.

Even at midnight Thursday small groups huddled against the grim stone wall of the Tower and engaged in fervent prayer for the doomed youth. Scores were denied admission to the prison, and they assembled in tiny groups, from three to six and seven in each group and knelt and lifted their prayers to God for the salvation of DuPre.

From between the barred windows of the prison, floated strains of those old-time favorites such as "Nearer, My God to Thee," "Rock of Ages," and "Jesus Lover of My Soul." Inquiry developed that the music came from the throats of a crowd of prisoners which included some of the most hardened police characters of the city.

According to John Davis, a city plainclothesman who went into the interior of the prison during the singing, bootleggers, automobile thieves, burglars and convicted criminals of every description were reverently huddling themselves in prayer, some of them no doubt for their first time.

DuPre late Thursday told a Constitution reporter that he could not understand why he was not allowed to take his case to the federal courts. He wanted a fair trial in the highest courts, he said.

Many People Present.

A great number of people crowded into the death corridor at the time to see the condemned man, wishing to shake his hand. Many of them had never seen DuPre before and introduced themselves. When asked if he was not trying to have as many people there, DuPre replied that he had to see the people, for they were interested in him.

"And I may never see them again," he said.

DuPre remained standing throughout the time The Constitution reporter was at his cell, with the exception of the time he knelt for prayer.

Death Rope Is Ready.

Just beneath his cell, in the anteroom set off from the engine room, the rope on which DuPre is to hang already has been knotted and is ready for the execution. It is 16 feet long and is of new hemp.

Friday afternoon at about 1 o'clock the few persons who were permitted to witness the falling of the death trap which will end DuPre's life will gather in the death chamber of the Fulton tower. There will be several deputy sheriffs of Fulton county and others of the department arranged about the spring that will throw the trap, and on one hand or will know after the fatal trap is thrown who threw it except the man who pulls the trigger.

Will Hang in Afternoon.

DuPre will die on the gallows in the Fulton county tower Friday between the hours of 9 a. m. and 4 p. m., according to the sentence of the Fulton superior court, for the murder of Irby C. Walker, a Lexington detective.

Chief J. L. Lowry indicated late Thursday afternoon that in accordance with the wishes of DuPre and his father, execution of the sentence would not take place before 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Luke McDonald, a negro murderer, will hang on the same gallows on the same day, the governor having denied a reprieve.

As for DuPre, his attorneys, H. A. Allen and Louis Foster, who have exhausted every effort in their struggle to save DuPre's life, practically have abandoned hope. So have DuPre, his father, F. A. DuPre; his brother, Joe DuPre, and the Atlanta lawyer who has fought his battle to the last. Throughout Thursday these people united in an effort to prepare DuPre for the ordeal he faces Friday.

One Glimmer of Hope.

But one glimmer of hope is held out by the attorney Foster. He said Thursday admitted that it was nothing more than a glimmer. "We have a report," he said, "nothing more than a report, that one of the jurors was distinctly related to Mrs. Walker by marriage. We are investigating this report, but we have no results yet. It would be a basis for a new trial we believe we could prove it. We have reported this to Governor Hardwick, but the governor declines to take any action until we have produced something tangible."

"We hope to get something tangible from Montgomery, Ala., where our investigation centers before the hour of the execution tomorrow. Unless we do, DuPre must meet his doom."

Declaration that DuPre is mentally normal was made to the Constitution Thursday afternoon by Dr. N. M. Owensby, prominent mental expert, who dispelled the fact that one week ago he conversed with the prisoner for about 30 minutes to determine for his own curiosity if the slayer is a moron or mental defective.

Pin Hopes on Prayers.

The band of women who pleaded for the commutation of DuPre's sentence before the prison commission and before the governor planned their faith in prayer. Headed by Mrs. J. C. Osburn, they began on Thursday a day of fasting and supplication for divine interference in the execution of a man made decree. They declared they were prepared to pray and prepared to expect this succor even up to the last minute.

F. A. DuPre, the father, however, confessed that he had abandoned all hope. He paid his farewell visit to his son late Thursday afternoon in company with his older boy, Joe DuPre. The condemned man was in his cell being shaved as they arrived.

No one except the barber and the death watch of two deputies has been permitted within the death cell. Even the father and brother have been compelled to converse with Frank through the grating.

These precautions are taken despite the fact that DuPre has given no indication that he plans any desperate attempt to end his own life and cheat the hangman. His father has told him that he must meet death bravely, and it seems his grim determination to do so.

Retains Composure.

Up to midnight Thursday night, with the exception of a brief period when prayers were being said for him by a group of women, he retained that remarkable composure that has baffled all who have observed him since his arrest and conviction. During the prayers he wept in company with all those present.

Final efforts were made Thursday to get the case before the United States courts. Application for a writ of error was made to Chief Justice Fish, of the supreme court, in order to raise a federal issue. Judge Fish declined to certify to the writ, telling Mr. Allen that he was certain there was no federal question involved and that it would be so held by the federal tribunal. Judge S. H. Sibley of the United States court, the only other person to whom Mr. Allen could turn, was in Florida.

Early Thursday afternoon, throngs began to gather around the tower. Some of the people were interested in DuPre's spiritual welfare, but most of them were the morbidly curious.

No visitors were admitted save at the request of DuPre, his father, and his counsel.

Leading Mentality Expert.

Dr. Owensby, the specialist who Thursday declared DuPre was of average intelligence, is one of the country's leading mentality experts. He has been retained for sanity tests in some of the most noted criminal cases in the country, including the Harry Thaw case.

"I was at the tower last Friday to make some mental tests when I recognized DuPre and secured permission to talk with him," Dr. Owensby said. "For half an hour I conversed with him. I found him to be of average intelligence, and that he has the vocabulary of a 25 or 30-year-old man."

"He is inordinately vain. Probably he would have been on guard if he had known my purpose in talking with him. I didn't reveal my identity. When he talked to me it was in a most pleasing way, and he was delighted to talk about himself."

His career in the navy demonstrated that he is no moron, for many applicants are subjected to the Binet-Simon intelligence test or the Sanford revision of that test, which would have excluded him if he had been a moron."

DuPre Thanks Mrs. Perdue.

Mrs. Graham Perdue, who has for many years been actively engaged in Christian work among the prisoners held in the Fulton county tower, and who has visited Frank DuPre regularly since his confinement there, after his sentence to death for the murder of Irby C. Walker, is in receipt of a letter from DuPre, thanking her for the work she has done for him and asking that she continue praying for him. It was Mrs. Perdue who first brought Rev. Jones Tyler, Methodist evangelist, who gained DuPre's conversion, according to DuPre, to see him in his cell at the tower.

The text of the letter follows:

"My dear Mrs. Perdue—I wish to thank you from the bottom of my heart for the interest you have taken in me and for the work you have done in my behalf; and if God will spare my life, I will certainly try to prove that your kindness towards me is really appreciated. Mrs. Perdue, I trust you will read this letter to other young boys who in turn will see the mistakes I have made, thereby reaping benefit from them. My greatest desire now is to help some one else to lead a Christian life."

"You have probably noticed from time to time that the newspapers speak of me as disinterested as to how my fate goes, just as if I were a hardened criminal, and, dear lady, I am sure you will understand what I tell you. It is faith in God that makes me have the courage I have, as I truly believe He is listening to my prayers and is going to save my soul."

"May God bless you and repay you for the kindness extended me; also I am asking that you continue in your prayers for my soul. I beg to remain,

Faithfully yours,

"FRANK DUPRE."

VICTIM DESCRIBES PROPHETIC VISION

(Continued from First Page)

ing the battles of his country in Siberia. But at that deathbed I knew that I was going to have to watch Frank and shield him constantly. I knew that unless I did something awful would happen."

"I was on one side of his mother's bed and I on the other. Just before she died she looked at him and at me. 'You must take care of him,' she said and then she repeated the words and on her face I could see a sickening fear for the boy, and I knew that she had seen something about that boy that I must always guard against."

Tried To Shield Son.

"Well I tried to. Lord knows I tried. But I got out of work at Charleston when they closed the navy yard and I finally had to look for a job. I could get a job, it wasn't much of a job, and it separated me from this boy. There was a fatality in it."

"It was then that he came to Atlanta and got into bad company. It was then that he stole from Revelle. Now I had been a good friend to Revelle. I had loaned him money. I had helped him out of difficulties and if I ever needed a friend it was at that time. If Revelle had only written me that the boy had stolen I would have caught the first train to Atlanta. I would have turned him over to the law. I would have fought to make a man of him and I would have paid him every cent. For I knew of the danger. I knew of the prophetic vision my wife had on her deathbed."

"But Revelle didn't write. He left me in ignorance of the boy's theft, and before I had had the chance to put him back on the right path he had fallen in with Betty and the crooks and had committed this awful crime."

"Since that day when he was brought back from Detroit I have realized that the worst was the thing that was most likely to happen. I have tried hard to save the boy. I've done everything that I could do honorably for him. And I've tried to make him realize that must get ready for the worst."

Final Advice.

And then without raising his voice, Mr. DuPre told of his final advice to his son.

"I've told him that when all hope is gone and when he must face that awful thing, he must face himself like a man," he said. "If he has to go, I want him to go penitent for the wrongs he has committed, but I want him to go courageously as becomes a man. I want him to go like he was paying a huge debt he owed to the law. I believe he will."

Mr. DuPre stopped to wipe his forehead with a handkerchief. Perpiration was pouring from it.

"If Frank could have just died as Walker died I would have been almost glad. If he could just have died as his mother died, I wouldn't be so grieved. It's just the manner of his going. Death isn't a thing to be dreaded. But that awful thing tomorrow—"

His words failed for the first time.

He paused and looked about. The shades of evening were falling. The sun was setting for the last time on a world that held both himself and his son. Suddenly there was a compelling urge that came over his spare figure. He arose. His shoulders were thrown back. He was a man about to face an ordeal, but trying to face it bravely.

"I guess I'll go down to the jail now and talk to him. I won't stay long. I can't stand it. It will be the last time I'll see him on earth. I'll say goodbye then and I won't go back."

Then a new thought flashed through his tottering brain. "I won't go back—"

"I won't go back—"

"I'll go to him, but God knows how can I stand it."

"111" cigarettes

They are GOOD! 10¢

Buy this Cigarette and Save Money

A new experience for this Atlanta motor truck user

Capital Stone Company says Autocar Factory Branch service fulfills all before-sale assurances. They wrote recently:

"We bought our first Autocar truck early in 1921. Up to that time, it had been our experience that real helpful truck service was a thing spoken of before sales were made and forgotten after consummation of the sale. We have been happily surprised in that your promises of service have been lived up to."

"Recently we bought one of your three-ton, four-cylinder Autocars for our heavier work. This truck has given us remarkable results with an unusually low consumption of gasoline and oil. The Autocar short wheelbase design is invaluable in connection with our work. It is a great time saver in our own yard and in all tight places where truck operation is difficult."

"We have not asked our Autocar trucks to do anything that they have not done with ease. As you know, our work is decidedly of the heavy duty variety. Yours very truly,

"CAPITAL STONE COMPANY,"

"By S. C. DOBY."

The Autocar Sales and Service Company

226-230 Ivy Street, Atlanta

Direct Factory Branch of The Autocar Company, Ardmore, Pa. Est. 1897.

Manufacturers of the

5 ton Heavy Duty	2 ton Heavy Duty	1 1/2 ton Autocar	1 1/2 ton Autocar	1 1/2 ton Autocar
4 cylinder engine 120" wheelbase, $4100 120" wheelbase, $3950	4 cylinder engine 114" wheelbase, $3975 114" wheelbase, $3950	2 cylinder engine 120" wheelbase, $2950 97" wheelbase, $1850	2 cylinder engine (Rebuilt) 120" wheelbase, $1750 97" wheelbase, $1650	2 cylinder engine (Reconditioned) 120" and 97" wheelbases, $1100 to $1400

Autocar

Wherever there's a road

TEXACO

GASOLINE

THE VOLATILE GAS

(Volatility: the readiness with which gasoline gives up its power)

Volatility is the life of gasoline.

And because of that lively response, with Texaco Gasoline you do with your accelerator what otherwise you would have to do with your gear shift.

SHIFTING REDUCED

THE TEXAS COMPANY, U. S. A.

Texas Petroleum Products

TEXACO GASOLINE

TEXACO MOTOR OILS

Run it with Texaco Gasoline

Save it with Texaco Motor Oil

THE C. B. Myers Construction Company operates two trucks with Goodyear Cushion Tires on the front and Goodyear All-Weather Tread Solids on the rear, and considers this "the ideal equipment for cushioning and non-skid service."

And now the Goodyear Cushion Truck Tire is made with the famous All-Weather Tread for added resilience and positive traction, and with a pressed-on base for easy and secure application.

GOODYEAR

For Sale by DOBBS TIRE CO.
180 W. Peachtree St., Atlanta, Ga.
Ivy 5648
Goodyear Truck Tire Service Station

THE MOTOR TIRE CO.
Atlanta, 90 W. Peachtree
Ivy 5980
Goodyear Truck Tire Service Station

E. SELL FORD CARS
L. BELLE ISLE — IVY 507

Stewart's Main Floor Shoe Dept.

Today only

Annual $ 1.00 Sale

OF ALL

White Slippers and SPORT STRAPS

And Oxfords at one dollar the pair

Do Not Send Mail Orders

Stewart's All Sales Final

10-Gallon MILK CANS

Extra heavy government standard block tin. Will outwear all others. $7.50 value. Special Friday and Saturday.

$3.95

Heavy Aluminum Navy Plates, 75¢ value.

23c

"Kean Kutter" Chop and Hotel and House size. 15¢ value.

$6.95

10,000 Brass Screws.

5c Doz.

Stonebridge Folding Ladders.

95c

Crutches.

$1.50

U. S. Army Canteens.

2 for 5c

U. S. Army Garbage Cans.

$1.95

U. S. Army 95c

U. S. Army 95c

U. S. Army 95c

U. S. Army 95c

U. S. Army Campaign Hats

Fine for Boy Scouts and general sports wear. $2.00 value. Special Friday and Saturday.

95c

Pay Tents, $3.45 value.

95c

Reclaimed Army Galvanized Buckets.

19c

4-lb. Box Graphite Axle Grease.

39c

U. S. Army Fireless Cookers.

$3.95

Man's and Boy's Oxfords and Linen Coats.

59c

U. S. Army 95c

U. S. Army 95c

U. S. Army 95c

U. S. Army 95c

U. S. Army 95c

U. S. Army 95c

15-Gallon Boilers

Brand-new, made for use in Q.M.C. Department. Very heavy, strong construction. Special.

$3.95

U. S. Army Garbage Cans

5-gal. 95c 20-gal. $2.95 30-gal. $3.95

U. S. Army 95c

U. S. Army 95c

U. S. Army 95c

U. S. Army 95c

U. S. Army 95c

U. S. Army 95c

U. S. Army 95c

U. S. Army 95c

U. S. Army 95c

MAIL ORDERS

UNITED STATES

BUY NOW STORES SAVE MONEY

Dept. of Army-Navy-Marine Goods

22 East Alabama Street AND 171 PETERS STREET

TODAY'S TALK

ST. GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

(Copyright, 1922, for The Constitution)

SHAMS.

In nature there are no shams.

The dead and rotten are on the side of the strong and vigorous brother.

The wilted flower leans in its decay upon the breast of its budding companion.

Ever genuine and deserving character despoils shams.

And yet our every day are woven with them like a spider's net.

And we are all caught in their web.

Sometimes I even think that many people are being deceived.

Nevertheless these same shams despoil our personalities and lead us astray from our best ideals.

Whether because of force of circumstances, or a literal straying of our feet, it is certain that we are not quite sure, but it is certain that we accept too much weight too little, and take too much for granted.

I grow weary of these shams, court them, and then support them as though they were to us our own children born.

How many friendships there are which are nothing more nor less than shams.

The dog doesn't put up with any sham friendship—either he is for you or against you.

And yet we human beings will smile a soft smile to one of our kind and then say mean things behind his back.

The great evil of much money is that it feeds on shams, boasts and insincerities.

I saw a piece of rare looking furniture the other day. It was sold for a genuine old piece—but my friend, who is an expert, showed me the sham of it.

You, as an employee, either are practicing shams or else you are a loyal, happy worker.

It is a half-way and success long at it.

What you are speaks louder than anything you may be able to say.

Genuineness is a silent proposition.

Its only advertisement is itself.

The God in whom I believe is full of mercy and His love is as wide and deep as space, but He has no patience with shams.

He will forgive seventy times seventy—but a sham He will pass by.

Sincerity is always the best policy.

The most difficult thing to get in London is a glass of water.

They never think of serving water in any of the restaurants and as for ice water—try to get it at Simpson's.

The most difficult thing to get in London is a glass of water.

They never think of serving water in any of the restaurants and as for ice water—try to get it at Simpson's.

The most difficult thing to get in London is a glass of water.

They never think of serving water in any of the restaurants and as for ice water—try to get it at Simpson's.

The most difficult thing to get in London is a glass of water.

They never think of serving water in any of the restaurants and as for ice water—try to get it at Simpson's.

The most difficult thing to get in London is a glass of water.

They never think of serving water in any of the restaurants and as for ice water—try to get it at Simpson's.

The most difficult thing to get in London is a glass of water.

They never think of serving water in any of the restaurants and as for ice water—try to get it at Simpson's.

The most difficult thing to get in London is a glass of water.

They never think of serving water in any of the restaurants and as for ice water—try to get it at Simpson's.

The most difficult thing to get in London is a glass of water.

They never think of serving water in any of the restaurants and as for ice water—try to get it at Simpson's.

The most difficult thing to get in London is a glass of water.

They never think of serving water in any of the restaurants and as for ice water—try to get it at Simpson's.

The most difficult thing to get in London is a glass of water.

They never think of serving water in any of the restaurants and as for ice water—try to get it at Simpson's.

The most difficult thing to get in London is a glass of water.

They never think of serving water in any of the restaurants and as for ice water—try to get it at Simpson's.

The most difficult thing to get in London is a glass of water.

They never think of serving water in any of the restaurants and as for ice water—try to get it at Simpson's.

The most difficult thing to get in London is a glass of water.

They never think of serving water in any of the restaurants and as for ice water—try to get it at Simpson's.

The most difficult thing to get in London is a glass of water.

They never think of serving water in any of the restaurants and as for ice water—try to get it at Simpson's.

The most difficult thing to get in London is a glass of water.

They never think of serving water in any of the restaurants and as for ice water—try to get it at Simpson's.

The most difficult thing to get in London is a glass of water.

They never think of serving water in any of the restaurants and as for ice water—try to get it at Simpson's.

The most difficult thing to get in London is a glass of water.

They never think of serving water in any of the restaurants and as for ice water—try to get it at Simpson's.

The most difficult thing to get in London is a glass of water.

They never think of serving water in any of the restaurants and as for ice water—try to get it at Simpson's.

The most difficult thing to get in London is a glass of water.

They never think of serving water in any of the restaurants and as for ice water—try to get it at Simpson's.

The most difficult thing to get in London is a glass of water.

They never think of serving water in any of the restaurants and as for ice water—try to get it at Simpson's.

The most difficult thing to get in London is a glass of water.

They never think of serving water in any of the restaurants and as for ice water—try to get it at Simpson's.

The most difficult thing to get in London is a glass of water.

They never think of serving water in any of the restaurants and as for ice water—try to get it at Simpson's.

The most difficult thing to get in London is a glass of water.

They never think of serving water in any of the restaurants and as for ice water—try to get it at Simpson's.

The most difficult thing to get in London is a glass of water.

They never think of serving water in any of the restaurants and as for ice water—try to get it at Simpson's.

The most difficult thing to get in London is a glass of water.

They never think of serving water in any of the restaurants and as for ice water—try to get it at Simpson's.

The most difficult thing to get in London is a glass of water.

They never think of serving water in any of the restaurants and as for ice water—try to get it at Simpson's.

The most difficult thing to get in London is a glass of water.

They never think of serving water in any of the restaurants and as for ice water—try to get it at Simpson's.

The most difficult thing to get in London is a glass of water.

They never think of serving water in any of the restaurants and as for ice water—try to get it at Simpson's.

The most difficult thing to get in London is a glass of water.

FRANCIS PLANS PITOL CLEANUP

Says Past Legislature Failed to Co-Operate
With Him in Abolishing Needless Offices.

Helena, Ga., August 31.—(Special.)—Attacking the legislature for what he termed its failure to back him in carrying out his pledges to the people in the 1920 gubernatorial race, Governor Francis, in his speech here today, reiterated his determination to "make a clean sweep of all useless and unnecessary offices."

"If I am elected for another term and given a legislature that will support me," said the governor, "I am and will accomplish all the reforms I started out to accomplish before my services will have ended."

"One of the principal cries against me is that two years ago I promised that I would take a new broom and sweep the capitol clean of useless offices and unnecessary officials."

"Now, remembering that, what is the record? The day I was inaugurated governor of Georgia, addressing the general assembly of the state, I used these words:

"In the reconstruction that is incident to a great war, a certain amount of readjustment is inevitable and unescapable. During this period, a spirit of hysteria, a spirit of over-regulation is equally inevitable, and growing out of this spirit, created by both state and federal legislation, boards, commissions and committees have been created."

"I would not impair useful service in any proper line of the state's duties and responsibilities."

"I would not weaken the performance of any necessary or useful function of the government, but with this single qualification, I unhesitatingly declare that the insidious paternalism and the unbearable expense of these boards and commissions unite in condemning them, and it is my purpose, if I may have co-operation of the general assembly, to sweep this state clean of them. It is my purpose to leave to the line in this matter wherever the chips may fall, and I unhesitatingly urge abolition of every useless board, of every unnecessary commission, of every ornamental officeholder. Let us purge Georgia's payroll of them all."

"Again, in my first message to the general assembly of Georgia delivered in person to that body on July 6, 1921, I called attention to these boards, bureaus and commissions, quoting a report of the budget investigating commission to the effect that Georgia was trustee-ridden, and that the university system alone had 277 trustees."

"A large crowd heard the governor speak here."

"Boards Must Go."

"They undertake to remedy the shortcomings of human nature with the sophistry of cranks. They constitute a menace to our continued solvency. For both of these reasons most of these boards must go, although it is not our purpose to impair useful service in any proper line of the state's duties and responsibilities."

"I would not impair useful service in any proper line of the state's duties and responsibilities."

"I would not weaken the performance of any necessary or useful function of the government, but with this single qualification, I unhesitatingly declare that the insidious paternalism and the unbearable expense of these boards and commissions unite in condemning them, and it is my purpose, if I may have co-operation of the general assembly, to sweep this state clean of them. It is my purpose to leave to the line in this matter wherever the chips may fall, and I unhesitatingly urge abolition of every useless board, of every unnecessary commission, of every ornamental officeholder. Let us purge Georgia's payroll of them all."

"Again, in my first message to the general assembly of Georgia delivered in person to that body on July 6, 1921, I called attention to these boards, bureaus and commissions, quoting a report of the budget investigating commission to the effect that Georgia was trustee-ridden, and that the university system alone had 277 trustees."

"A large crowd heard the governor speak here."

HARRIS ENDS SERVICE AS ADJUTANT GENERAL

Constitution Bureau, Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, August 31.—(By Constitution Bureau Wire.)—The term of Major General Peter C. Harris, of Georgia, as adjutant general of the United States army expired today after an incumbency of four years.

General Harris was succeeded by Major General R. C. Davis, Pennsylvania, recently appointed by the president.

While the Georgia official has been nominally the head of the adjutant general's office, he has not taken an active management of its affairs for several weeks, having been granted a leave of absence. He is at present making a tour of Europe, planning to return in the early fall, it was said.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, DIARRHOEA AND DYSENTERY REMEDY

FOR THE RELIEF OF Pain in the Stomach and Bowels, Intestinal Cramp, COLIC, DIARRHOEA
— SOLD EVERYWHERE —

A New Lot of Sterling Silver Bags

A new lot of Sterling Silver Bags has just been stocked by us. They are all in new and popular shapes, and are unquestionably the finest values we have seen.

Can't see this display.

Write for twenty-seventh annual catalogue.

Mail orders shipped prepaid.

Our store will close at 1:00 o'clock Saturday, September 2. We shall keep open all day Labor Day.

MAIER & BERKELE, Inc.

Gold and Silversmiths
31 Whitehall Street
Established 1887

Frantic Rescuers Boring Passage To Buried Miners

Jackson, Cal., August 31.—Three routes of escaping from the pitch black, smoke choked underground mine drifts to sunlight and ground are possible to the 47 miners imprisoned since midnight Sunday in the lower levels of the Argonaut mine.

Two are through passages which workers are endeavoring to cut from the Kennedy, an adjoining mine. The third is through the shaft of the Argonaut itself.

A second rescue corps, on a level 300 feet below the group that has worked since Monday to reach the entombed men today have made perceptible progress. It will be a long siege, through 500 to 600 feet of loose dirt, before a 140 foot wall of solid rock is reached.

This second corps is working from the 3,900 foot level of the Kennedy mine, burrowing toward the 4,000 foot level of the Argonaut.

Fire Is Out.

Three hundred feet above them toll and sweat the half naked workers who have drilled in brief shifts since Monday to cut through more than 700 feet of loose dirt and timbers and thirty feet of hard rock.

The fire in last night, slowing their progress. They estimated there would be between 90 and 100 feet more of rock dirt to be cleared.

The fire in the mine shaft is out. This was the announcement last night of experts working in the Argonaut shaft itself. The heat in the shaft, they said, was so intense that flames may break out again at any time. It will be five days before an entrance may be made through the flame charred section above the 3,900 foot level to reach the men on the levels below.

New Hope Feels.

But the announcement that the flames were subdued added hope to the grey-faced groups who wait in shifts at the entrance of the pit and gave new strength to the grim workers battering at rock walls in subterranean passages in the hope of finding the rescued miners alive.

Rescue workers descending the shaft this morning got as far as the 2,400 foot level in mine shafts, went 100 feet further on ladders. They found the smoke greatly diminished.

The water pipes at the side of the shaft were still too hot to touch. Temperature at the 2,500 foot mark was ten degrees below normal, but there was still gas.

The second attempt to reach the Argonaut lower levels from the Kennedy was the result of a meeting of rescue experts from mines of the state and from the state and federal mine rescue departments. This body last night took charge of the work.

Wives Voice Prayers.

Wives and families of the entombed men gathered at the mouth of the shaft in prayer meeting yesterday. Overhead the winches screamed and shrieked as workers were lowered into the shaft.

Two women were hastening from far away Spain in anticipation of a happy reunion when they reach this little mining town. Their husbands, T. Garcia and L. Gonzales, are among the prisoners.

Some months ago these two women sent the money to Spain that their wives might make the journey to America. The women are expected to arrive in Jackson the end of this week.

WORKMAN FALLS; BACK IS BROKEN

Falling a distance of four floors and landing on the concrete flooring in the basement, M. H. Strickland, 29, of 115 Kennedy street, Thursday afternoon suffered injuries that will likely prove fatal, according to surgeons at the Grady hospital where he was rushed for treatment.

Strickland, who is an employee of the Otis Elevator company, was engaged in the installation of a motor on the roof of the three story structure being erected at Cone and Luckie streets by the Pittman Construction company for A. G. Rhodes and Son.

In an unexplained manner he lost his footing, falling down the elevator shaft to the flooring of the basement. He received a compound fracture of the left arm and leg and a broken back, surgeons fear.

Several workmen in the building saw Strickland as he fell and rendered first aid.

STOWAWAY WIFE MUST RETURN TO RUSSIA

Savannah, Ga., August 31.—Final hopes of allowing Mrs. W. Kunning, Russian stowaway who arrived here several weeks ago at this port to join her husband, to remain in this country, were dispelled today when advice was received from Senator W. J. Harris stating that the state department had ruled that the woman must return to Germany.

Her case has elicited much sympathy and various women's clubs have actively espoused her cause to allow her to remain in the United States.

U. S. COMMISSION TESTS MERGER

Washington, August 31.—The federal trade commission has issued a formal opinion charging that the proposed Midvale-Republic-Infant steel merger constitutes an "unfair method of competition in violation of the federal trade commission act."

The complaint came as something directly under the federal trade commission act, whereas Attorney-General Daugherty's recent ruling had not so directly with the combination's culpability under the Sherman, Clayton and Webb laws.

The commission has reason to believe that the merger of the three companies, now in competition with each other, will center the control of some 35 corporations in one group, will eliminate competition between the companies, restrain trade and tend to create a monopoly in iron and steel production in interstate commerce, particularly in the states of Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky, Indiana, Michigan and Illinois.

Commissioner Rankin, chairman of the commission, in a statement explained the commission's action did not conflict with the attorney-general's ruling.

There is a distinct difference between the operation of the Sherman act and the federal trade commission act, the commissioner stated. The Sherman act is "both a declaration of restraint of trade and monopoly are contrary to public policy and a prohibition of the use of conspiratorial methods of competition in interstate commerce, as defined by law."

The proposed steel company steel combine, however, came clearly within the scope of that section of the federal trade commission act which declares that "unfair methods of competition in interstate commerce are hereby declared unlawful," it was set forth.

GERMANS GRANTED
PARTIAL RESPIRE

Continued from First Page.

hands of the reparations commission and becomes a matter of negotiation between Germany and Belgium, the latter agreeing to accept treasury bills from the German government, payable in six months, in lieu of cash payments to which Belgium is entitled under a priority agreement.

The commission took the view that the proposal of the German government respecting deliveries of coal and wood in 1922-23, which included the rate contracts between the German government and German industrial interests, was conditional on granting a full moratorium, and that unless the German government was justified in accepting the offer if present arrangements for the delivery of coal and wood were deemed to be impossible.

It is believed that this offer will be accepted within a short time.

Text of Decision.

"The reparations commission, after considering the new request for a moratorium, dated July 12, 1922, and taking into account the fact that the German state has lost its credit, lost its internal and external, and that the mark has depreciated continuously down to three one-thousandths of its normal value, decides:

"Firstly, to defer its decision on the request of the German government until the commission has completed its scheme for the radical reform of German public finances, including:

(A) Balancing of the budget. (B) In the event of the governments represented on the reparations commission giving the prior consent thereto, reduction of Germany's foreign obligations in so far as may be considered necessary for the restoration of her credit. (C) Currency reform. (D) The issue of foreign and internal loans in order to consolidate the financial situation.

To Accept Treasury Bills.

"Secondly, with a view to giving effect to the reparations commission's decision, the measure referred to in paragraph 1 above, the commission agrees to accept in payment of the cash installments falling due August 15 and September 15, and unless in the meantime other arrangements are made, of the further cash installments falling due between October 15 and December 31, 1922, German government six month treasury bills payable in gold and guaranteed in such manner as may be agreed upon between the German government and the reparations commission. (The power the payments have been assigned) or in default of such government, by the deposit of gold in a foreign bank approved by Belgium."

St. John Bradbury, to the Associated Press correspondent.

"The effect of this arrangement is that Germany gets a respite for the remaining cash payments due this year, provided she can find suitable guarantees for the payment of treasury bills due at the end of six months under the decision. The question now leaves the commission and the reparations commission."

"In default of these payments, Germany must agree to deposit gold in foreign banks, but the amount of the deposit is to be decided by Germany and Belgium."

German Delegates Pleaded.

Herr Schroeder, head of the German delegates, when asked his opinion of the decision said:

"It is a good thing, as representing a point in the reparations question."

"Do you consider it a victory," a correspondent inquired.

"I would not say that," replied he. "But certainly it is most satisfactory to me, personally. I think the respite will temporarily improve German exchange, which is the object for which we have been fighting all along."

Herr Schroeder would not suggest what guarantees will be furnished to Belgium, as the matter now is in the hands of the German government. Asked if he thought the German government would place a gold deposit in any country, he replied:

"That is a matter for the German government, but personally I do not think so, and I would not suggest it as reducing the gold in the treasury would damage exchange. We have not enough gold to allow any to leave the country. However, Germany has kept her word in the past on reparations matters, and will still try to do so."

PARTAIN ON TRIAL FOR DEPUTY'S DEATH

LaFayette, Ga., August 31.—Will Partain and Ott Ross were placed on trial in superior court here today charged with the killing of Deputy Sheriff J. C. Parrish and his 14-year-old brother, Cecil Parrish, in a gun battle near Hix Point last February, in which Tom Partain, brother of one of the defendants, also was killed.

Board of Judges Decides Sutton, Smith and Coleman Hold Result of The Contest in Hand Contest Winners Today

The three judges who will decide today who is entitled to the prizes in The Constitution's Ford automobile contest are:

Professor Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of the public schools of Atlanta.

Professor J. H. Smith, assistant principal of Tech High school.

Professor M. E. Coleman, who holds the chair of history at Tech High school.

The three judges were selected from a list of 30 prominent educators of the city after a poll of them all had been taken just about half of the prospective judges were disqualified from the fact of having entered the Ford contest themselves.

The board will begin the final work of judging the essays and word lists early this morning and will work continuously through today with the probability that the decision will not be reached until just before 9 o'clock, the time at which the winners will be announced in the first edition of The Constitution.

MAN SENTENCED TO HANG FRIDAY
GETS NEW TRIAL

Savannah, Ga., August 31.—The case of Lee Curry, white, in the Chatham county jail under sentence to hang Friday has been taken to the supreme court of the state for the third time.

Judge R. N. Hardeman, sitting at Lyons, declined to grant a new trial and attorneys for Curry immediately appealed to the supreme court, which automatically stops the execution to be held tomorrow.

The supreme court on the two other occasions granted him a new trial after the trial court had refused this plea. His attorneys claim that a member of the jury, Wade Mitchell, is related to the defendant.

TWO ARE KILLED AS TRAIN HITS CAR

Valdosta, Ga., August 31.—(Special.)—Charles C. Cline, flagman, was instantly killed and Luke M. Dunn, engineer, received injuries from which he died a few minutes later, when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by a Georgia and Florida freight train on the Toombs street crossing in this city about noon today.

The accident occurred in the yards of the Georgia railroad, and the train that struck them was backing into the yards, switching cars in making up a train. Both were employees of the Southern railway and resided in this city, neither being married.

The automobile driven by Dunn was not traveling fast and the train was moving slowly.

Flagman J. W. Cross, on the rear of the train, saw the car just before the collision and signaled for the train to stop. He acted too late to avoid the crash.

The train, which was loaded with demolition and was dragged under the freight car for about 100 feet.

The bodies of the men were removed from under the next car about eighty feet from the crossing.

PROTEST PLANNED
ON PAVING DELAY

Continued from First Page.

company was to put its tracks in order before the work of repaving began.

Track Torn Up.

The right side of the track going north was torn up for about a mile and a half before the work of repaving was undertaken. Then track hands started on the work of putting the track in shape, making very slow progress and for much of the time none at all.

The paving contractor started on the right side of the track after laying rock for only a few hundred feet, withdrew his force, saying that he could not proceed ahead of the track hands.

In the meantime much of the old paving between the tracks was thrown out on the highway, almost obstructing the east side of it, and thus forcing both north and southbound traffic to the west side.

Serious Accident Occurs.

A serious automobile accident occurred a few nights ago as a result of an attempt to cross the tracks between the high embankment on the east side of the highway. Other minor accidents are constantly reported.

This is perhaps the most generally used of all highways entering the city, and the vexation caused by the delay in this work is by no means confined to the community along the highway.

County Commissioner George W. Hope, on being asked about the matter yesterday, said:

Doesn't Blame Citizens.

"I do not blame the people of Buckhead for getting excited, and if this meeting is held and nothing is done between now and then to put this work on a better basis than has been shown, it is so far, I will myself be a star performer at that meeting."

"This delay has been inexcusable, and while the so-called county commissioners are not responsible for it, its members will be responsible if we permit this condition to continue. You may rest assured that we are taking the matter actively in hand. If this work is not pushed immediately through we will know the reason why and will give the public the benefit of the information."

EXCURSION
Tampa and St. Petersburg and return, $12.00 September 2.
Southern Railway System

MAKES HAIR GROW

Your curly, matted hair will straighten out and grow long, smooth, and easy to dress in any style if you use

QUEEN HAIR DRESSING

Removes dandruff, relieves itchy scalp, stops hair falling, feeds hair roots. Send 25c. for large box today to NEWBORN WPS. CO., Atlanta, Ga.

AGENTS WANTED

Write for Terms

COL. GRAY ZALINSKI GOES TO PHILADELPHIA

To assume charge of the Philadelphia Quartermaster Intermediate depot, Colonel M. Gray Zalinski, who has been in charge of the Atlanta depot since June 23, 1919, left Atlanta Thursday. The Philadelphia depot is one of the largest army supply centers in the country.

Colonel Zalinski was one of the best known and most popular figures in southern military circles during his stay here. He was prominent in Atlanta's social life, and he takes with him to his new station a charming Georgia wife, whom he married about sixteen months ago.

Colonel Zalinski served in France during the world war as supply officer of the important army base at Bordeaux. Upon his return to the states he took charge of the local depot. At that time the camps throughout the southeastern supply zone were occupied by troops returned from overseas and in the course of demobilization, and all these camps, most of which had been abandoned, were dependent upon the Atlanta depot for supply.

After the muster-out of the troops and the closing up of camps, stocks were taken and a check of the inventory showed the money value and cost of the goods to aggregate $110,000,000.

Since that time practically all of these supplies, subsistence, clothing and equipment, harness, saddlery, hardware, etc., have been disposed of by auction sales by the surplus property division of the department. The remainder of the enormous accumulation will be auctioned off September 12.

Colonel Zalinski is the possessor of the distinguished service medal for world war services. The French government has also conferred upon him the Order of the Black Star, Foreign Legion of France.

ASKS REHEARING IN CORONADO CASE

Washington, August 31.—Petition for rehearing of the famous Coronado Coal case, in which the United States supreme court recently laid down a far-reaching construction of the liability of organized labor, although not incorporated, was filed today with the court by John W. Davis, as counsel for the coal companies. No action will be taken on the petition until the court reconvenes in October.

The original proceeding was a civil suit instituted by the Coronado and other companies against the United Mine Workers of America, district 21, and local unions of that organization and individual members for treble damages caused by destruction of property during the strike in 1918.

The supreme court, in a decision rendered June 5, 1922, sustained the contention of the coal companies that the mine workers' union and other unincorporated labor organizations were liable for the destruction of property caused by the lower federal courts.

"Essential mistakes and misconceptions of the facts" by the supreme court were stated as grounds for a rehearing, the petition asserting that "when the principles of law announced by the court are applied to the facts actually appearing in the record," the judgment against district 21, as rendered by the lower courts, must be affirmed, and probably also the judgment against the United Mine Workers of America.

ANTHRACITE MEN ENCOUNTER SNAG
IN STRIKE PARLEY

Philadelphia, Pa., August 31.—Hopes for a settlement of the anthracite coal strike received a setback late Thursday.

The general policies committee of the operators declared, after discussing peace proposals put forward in Washington, that they were unwilling to continue old wages beyond April, unless there was "public mandate" demanding it.

They did not, however, finally reject the proposed settlement.

Former Secretary Of Senator Watson Leaves Washington

Constitution Bureau, Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, August 31.—(By Constitution Bureau Wire.)—John I. Kelley, former secretary to Senator Thomas E. Watson, left for his home in Lawrenceville, Ga., tonight where he will resume the practice of law. Mr. Kelley announced his resignation several weeks ago.

At Lawrenceville it was stated he will become a member of the law firm of Kelley & Kelley, with which he was associated prior to his connection with the Georgia senator's office. Mr. Kelley's place will be taken by Miss Sarah Orr, of Dublin.

POLICEMAN IS FREED OF MURDER CHARGE

Athens, Ga., August 31.—A verdict of not guilty was returned in the Walton county superior court late yesterday in the case of Joe Johnson, Monroe policeman, charged with attempt to murder Cal Hawkes and Charles Atkinson, of Athens, when he fired at a car in which they were riding last August, resulting in serious injuries to both of the young men.

U. S. CONSULATE POWERS WITHDRAWN

Continued from First Page.

ered the Newcastle case similar to this.

Great Britain also contends the action is legal under the Anglo-American commercial convention in 1915, which provides the terms under which consuls may be expelled and punished.

Statements Included.

As a matter of courtesy, the British government included with the rote sworn statements from British consuls alleging that the American consul and vice consul virtually refused visas until they were assured that applicants intended to travel on American vessels. One British consular claims he applied for a passport visa at the Newcastle consulate and was practically told that a visa was obtainable only if he traveled on an American vessel. He thereupon reserved a stateroom on a shipping board vessel—though not paying for it—and returned to the consulate. Upon explaining that he had made a reservation, he obtained a visa at once, he says. He was still left free, however, to travel on any ship he chose.

Another Britisher alleged that the consul, after delaying issuance of a visa, finally said: "You seem to be a decent sort of chap. I'll give you a passport on condition—that you go to America on the United States lines."

Woman Testifies.

One woman, it was alleged, said the only way she could obtain a visa was to purchase a ticket for an American steamer and presenting it to the consulate.

The British also charge that Consul Slater and Vice Consul Brooks hinted at consequences that might be encountered in the United States by persons not traveling on American vessels.

In the note the British government points out that a number of American consulates present applicants for visas on a condition which is printed in the address of the nearest office of the American ship lines. It admits that this is legitimate, but adds that it is a condition on which is printed in the address of the nearest office of the American ship lines.

Mrs. Bertha Blancett, only woman golfer in the Young Men's National park, recently won commendation for her quick action and fine work in putting out a forest fire that threatened disaster.

The Election of W. W. Lotspeich

Chief of Construction

Will insure a strong, efficient, aggressive organization, operating as a UNIT for YOUR SERVICE. Such a business organization will be free and able to plan and execute for the city's best interest without suggestion or interference from any quarter.

VOTE FOR HIM ON SEPT. 6

Heroism of Wife
May Not Suffice
To Save Aviator

Macon, Ga., August 31.—(Special.) After his wife has submitted to 98 operations to yield skin to his wounds, W. L. Fisher, the aviator who was seriously injured in a fall at Central City park five months ago that cost the lives of his two companions, himself is at the point of death tonight, hospital officials report.

The valiant fight for recovery waged by Fisher has caused hosts of people in this section to hope with his wife for victory, but after weary months the burned and battered aviator has given up his fight, and is holding on to life until his father can arrive from Colorado.

Besides Mrs. Fisher, many other persons have given their skin to Fisher, who now refuses to submit to further grafting of skin after the other pieces have failed to grow as they should. This refusal has caused blood poisoning to set in. Tonight he developed a high fever.

The potato was born into the vegetable kingdom on the terraces in the mountains of Peru. The Pacific ocean covers more than a third of the globe and contains over half of the world's water supply. During the world war Italy was the only warring nation that called out her 17-year-old youths.

W. L. DOUGLAS

$5.00 $6.00 $7.00 & $8.00 SHOES FOR MEN AND BOYS

W. L. DOUGLAS
PEGGING SHOES AT 7 YEARS OF AGE.

W. L. DOUGLAS $7.00 and $8.00 shoes are absolutely the best shoe values for the money in this country.

WEAR W. L. DOUGLAS SHOES AND SAVE MONEY.

W. L. Douglas $4.00 and $4.50 shoes for boys, best in quality, best in style, best all around shoes for boys.

It is worth dollars for you to remember that when you buy shoes at our stores YOU PAY ONLY ONE PROFIT.

No matter where you live, shoe dealers can supply you with W. L. Douglas shoes. They cost no more in San Francisco than they do in New York. Insist upon having W. L. Douglas shoes with the name and retail price stamped on the sole. Do not take a substitute and pay extra profits. Order direct from the factory and save money.

Write for Catalog Today W. L. Douglas 210 Spark St., Brockton, Mass.

W. L. Douglas Store: 11 PEACHTREE ST., Atlanta

OPEN SATURDAY EVENINGS

JUDGE PENDLETON RESIGNS POSITION

Appointment of a successor to Judge John T. Pendleton, who resigned from the Fulton superior court Thursday, will be made by Governor Hardwick upon his return from his present speaking tour, it was believed Thursday night.

Shepard Bryan, attorney of the legal firm of Bryan & Middlebrooks, was being widely mentioned Thursday as the likely successor to Judge Pendleton. The term does not expire for two years.

Judge Pendleton gave continued ill health as the reason for his resignation. He is recognized as one of the ablest jurists of the state, and had served on the bench for eighteen years. He has passed his seventieth birthday, and is a veteran of the civil war, having served in the Confederate army for four years.

BROWN ANNOUNCES DATES FOR SPEECHES

J. J. Brown, commissioner of agriculture, Thursday announced his speaking appointments for the next ten days as follows:

Saturday, September 2, 2:30 p. m., Washington, Ga.

Sunday, September 3, 10:30 a. m., Rural Carriers' association meeting at Ansley hotel, Atlanta.

Tuesday, September 5, at noon court recess at Danville.

Wednesday, September 6, at noon court recess Lawrenceville.

Thursday, September 7, 2:30 p. m., Dublin, Ga.

Friday, September 8, 2:30 p. m., Moultrie, Ga.

Placed in Bankruptcy.

Edward L. Kellen, owner of the Supreme Market, 233 Ponce de Leon avenue, was declared bankrupt yesterday in a petition filed in the federal court by the White Provision Company, Morris & Co., and the Cudahy Packing company. The court action was taken, the petition stated, after Kellen had written a letter to his creditors admitting his inability to pay his bills.

Steps Are Taken To Get Aviation Landing Field

Practical assurance that Atlanta would soon be provided with a suitable aviation landing field was given by the city finance committee Thursday afternoon when members of the air board, recently created by the mayor, appeared to petition early action on the field. A committee composed of Aldermen Choate and Councilmen Murphy and Watkins was appointed by Acting Chairman Nutter to meet with the air board Friday morning at 10 o'clock at the chamber of commerce to investigate ways and means of completing arrangements and reported back to the finance committee for further action.

Mayor Key, honorary member of the board, presented the need for a landing field. He laid special stress on its commercial importance to Atlanta in view of the rapidly developing passenger and mail lines which are already in operation in many sections of the country. He stated that New Orleans, Montgomery, Birmingham, Macon, Columbia, Nashville and other southern cities were equipped with first-class landing fields while Atlanta was still lagging behind in this movement, although both the need and the opportunity had been agitated for some time.

Many Available Sites.

Major Henry B. Claggett, commanding the air force of the U. S. army in the southeast, appeared before the finance committee to state that he had surveyed the country around Atlanta from the air and that there were sites within easy reach of the city.

Major Claggett pointed out the value of established air fields, not only for regular commercial purposes, but as a logical and effective means of defense in event of war. He also laid emphasis on its great usefulness in such emergencies as the threatened rail strike, declaring that in such a time the air service would keep the mails moving in spite of trains falling to move.

Tells of Field Value.

Van H. Burgin, chairman of the air board, spoke briefly on the value of a landing field to the city from the standpoint of actual returns to be gained from various concessions. Mr. Burgin, who with Mr. Addicks of the chamber of commerce, has been active in sounding out the commercial possibilities of the proposed field, stated that he had received letters from the U. S. war department agreeing to erect hangars, shops, oil and gas tanks and various equipment, as well as letters from several large corporations interested in commercial aviation to the effect that they would erect places on and around the field for serving the planes. Both the Wright and Curtis companies have expressed their approval of Atlanta as a site for their southern assembling plants in event that a suitable landing field is obtained. He pointed out that it was only a matter of time before the field would be self-supporting.

Members of the board present at Thursday's meeting were: Mayor Key and Major Claggett (honorary members), representing the city and war department respectively; Van H. Burgin, chairman; James T. Wardlaw, vice chairman; Henry O. Mitchell, secretary-treasurer; John E. Addicks, representing the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce; B. C. Getsinger, representing the U. S. department of commerce; Charles D. Robertson, representing the city club; Captain George H. Hope, representing the Fulton county commissioners; and William M. Spatlin, representing the Kiwanis club.

Rev. James Manry Will Speak Sunday At Second Baptist

Rev. James C. Manry, who has just returned from a year spent in Poland as representative of the student relief work under the auspices of the World's Student Christian federation, and who for six years past has been a teacher in an American mission college in Allahabad, India, will occupy the pulpit at both services at the Second Baptist church, next Sunday. The students of some twenty-five affiliated national organizations in as many different lands, scattered from New Zealand to Sweden, and from France to Japan, helped in the work for the hard-pressed students and professors of central Europe. The work is still going on, and has been extended to Russia, where there are 150,000 students enrolled in universities and institutions of equivalent standing.

In the morning Mr. Manry's subject will be "The Gospel, a Substitute for War." Mr. Manry will tell some of his experiences in Europe, where he had unusual opportunities for observing the present movements of nationalism. In the evening Mr. Manry will speak on "Christ for India and India for Christ."

BREAD BAKING FULFILLMENT CHOSEN FOR FULTON

Misses Thelma Fair and Eva Baker, of the Ben Hill school; Miss Lizzie May Maynard, of the Mayson school, and Miss Beatrice Dobbins, of the Guinn school, are the four girls chosen to represent Fulton county at the bread-baking contest to be held at Griffin Thursday and Friday. The contest is being held under the supervision of the home demonstration agents, in conjunction with the state agricultural college and the department of agriculture.

The winners of the contest will compete with the winners from other states at the cattlemen's association meeting to be held at Chicago next spring. Mrs. Elroy Shannon McEwen, home demonstration agent for Fulton, who conducted the contest to choose Fulton's entries, instructed the Fulton girls here.

MISS MARY HEMRICK HURT BY AUTOMOBILE

Miss Mary Hemrick, of 223 Courtland street, Thursday was recovering at her home from painful injuries suffered Wednesday morning when she was struck by an automobile at Forsyth and Mitchell streets. The machine was driven by a negro, Henry Brandon, who was arrested by officers under charges of reckless driving.

The giant condor lives at the chilly altitude of 15,000 feet.

The harbor of Kingston, Jamaica, is one of the finest in the world.

Opportunity School Registration Books Will Be Open Today

Opportunity school, at 18 Auburn avenue, will open the registration books Friday morning at 8:30 o'clock, announced Miss Ann Stephens, principal of the school, Thursday. Classes will begin September 11, and the hours this year will be from 8:30 until 5 every day except Saturday, when the school will close at noon.

DUNLAP WILL SPEAK TO AMERICAN LEGION

Edgar Dunlap, who has just returned from Europe, where he visited the battlefields, will address the weekly luncheon of the American Legion at the Ansley hotel Friday. Mr. Dunlap will speak on European conditions as he saw them. Education week also will be discussed by members of the legion; and the "On to New Orleans" committee will report. Fonville McWhorter will preside.

Excursion Jacksonville and return, $7.00 September 2 Southern Railway System

The highest legal minimum wage for women is said to be that of Columbia, where the rate is at $16.50.

THE saving road to your future is straight and smooth and clearly marked. It leads to your success. There are no byways of misfortune. It is the only sure way to an independent, happy old age.

Earn 4% on Your Savings

IN THE OLDEST AND STRONGEST TRUST COMPANY IN GEORGIA

$1.00 OPENS THE ACCOUNT

4% Interest allowed—Compounded Semi-Annually

Deposits Made on or Before September 5th Bear Interest From September 1st.

We also maintain the following departments:

- A Commercial Department, "accounts subject to check"
- A Bond Department—A Trust Department and a Real Estate Department.

DIRECTORS:

ROBERT C. ALSTON	JAMES E. HICKEY	JAMES H. NUNNALLY
WILLIAM C. BRADLEY	DR. THOMAS P. HINMAN	THOMAS B. PAINE
J. BULOW CAMPBELL	HAROLD HIRSCH	J. CARROLL PAYNE
WILLIAM E. CHAPIN	EDWARD H. INMAN	SAM TATE
ROBERT D. COLE	STEPHEN A. LYNCH	CHARLES A. WICKERSHAM
THOMAS K. GLENN	HENRY W. MILLER	CHARLES R. WINSHIP
JOHN N. GORDIARD	BROOKS MORGAN	ERNEST WOODRUFF
LEE HAGAN	JOHN E. MURPHY	ROBERT W. WOODRUFF

Trust Company of Georgia

Member Federal Reserve System

Capital, Surplus and Profits, $3,000,000.00—53 North Pryor St.

MEMBER FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

All Atlanta in School

THE CENTRAL BANK & TRUST CORPORATION is interested in Education Week, September 3d through the 10th, because it realizes that it is well for every citizen to stop and think just what it means to our city to have every young person in school.

A locality progresses as its individual members thrive. No community can be stronger than the mentality of its masses. This is an age of specialists, and in every business, every city and in its great government every person has a duty to perform, and if any one individual fails, the whole system is weakened. The public schools of our city and country train the young mind for the duties of future citizens. The excellent corps of teachers of which we boast is loyal and efficient. They are putting forward every effort under the able leadership of Supt. Willis A. Sutton, to build our schools to their highest efficiency. In this patriotic work, they deserve the co-operation of every business man.

THE CENTRAL BANK & TRUST CORPORATION is ever interested in city, state and nation. We congratulate Supt. Sutton and his able assistants upon this wide-awake program for educational advancement, and assure him of enthusiastic assistance in carrying out the high aims and purposes which he has started.

Central Bank & Trust Corporation

CANDLER BUILDING

Mitchell Street Branch
Mitchell and Forsyth

Tenth Street Branch
Tenth and Peachtree

Remember Education Week, Sept. 3d to 10th

CAPITAL & SURPLUS $1,500,000

Out today New Victor Records

September 1922

Here you will find not only the kind of music you like best, but you will find such music presented by the truly great artists of the world. The numbers are classified for your easy selection. Hear these new Victor Records—any dealer in Victor products will gladly play any of them for you.

POPULAR CONCERT AND OPERATIC		Number	Size	Price
Madame Butterfly—O quanti occhi fesi (Oh Kindly Heavens) (Puccini) In Italian	Alda-Martinelli	89163	12	$2.00
My Mother (Wagstaff-White)	Orville Harrold	66071	10	1.25
My Ain Countrie (Demarest-Hanna)	Mme. Louise Homer	87345	10	1.25
Wonderful World of Romance (Simpson-Wood)	John McCormack	66080	10	1.25
Ay-Ay-Ay (Creole Song) (Perez-Freire) In Spanish	Tito Schipa	74753	12	1.75
Solvejg's Cradle Song (From "Peer Gynt")	Lucy Isabelle Marsh	45321	10	1.00
(a) The First Primrose (b) Greeting	Lucy Isabelle Marsh
MELODIOUS INSTRUMENTAL
Concerto in A Minor—Andante (Goldmark) Violin Solo	Jascha Heifetz	74764	12	1.75
Chanson Arabe (From "Scheherazade") (Rimsky-Korsakow) Violin Solo	Fritz Kreisler	66079	10	1.25
Viennese Folk Song—Fantasy Violoncello Solo	Hugo Kreisler	66082	10	1.25
Oberon—Overture—Part 1 (Weber)	Mengelberg and N. Y. Philharmonic Orchestra	74766	12	1.75
Oberon—Overture—Part 2 (Weber)	Mengelberg and N. Y. Philharmonic Orchestra	74767	12	1.75
Nocturne in B Flat (Paderewski) Piano Solo	Ignace Jan Paderewski	74765	12	1.75
Tannhauser Overture—Part 3 (Wagner)	Philadelphia Orchestra	74768	12	1.75
SACRED SELECTIONS
Lead, Kindly Light (Newman-Dykes)	Ernestine Schumann-Heink	87340	10	1.25
No Night There	Elsie Baker	45322	10	1.00
Leave It With Him	Elsie Baker
LIGHT VOCAL SELECTIONS
Sweet Indiana Home	Aileen Stanley	18922	10	.75
Why Should I Cry Over You?	Victor Roberts
Kicky-Koo—Kicky-Koo	Billy Murray—Ed. Smalle	18918	10	.75
A Sleepy Little Village	Billy Murray—Ed. Smalle
RECITATION
The Lost Pocket-Book	Edgar A. Guest	45320	10	1.00
The Old Wooden Tub	Edgar A. Guest
DANCE RECORDS
Oogie Oogie Wa Wa—Fox Trot	The Benson Orchestra of Chicago	18917	10	.75
Deedle Deedle Dum—Fox Trot	The Benson Orchestra of Chicago
Who'll Take My Place (When I'm Gone)	Fox Trot Club Royal Orchestra	18919	10	.75
Georgette—Fox Trot	Club Royal Orchestra
Hot Lips—Blues Fox Trot	Paul Whiteman and His Orchestra	18920	10	.75
Send Back My Honeyman—Fox Trot	The Virginians
The Sneak!—Fox Trot	Club Royal Orchestra	18921	10	.75
Are You Playing Fair?—Fox Trot	Zee Confrey and His Orchestra
My Rambler Rose—Medley Fox Trot (from "Ziegfeld Follies")	Paul Whiteman and His Orchestra	18923	10	.75
Dancing Fool—Fox Trot	Club Royal Orchestra
Swanee Bluebird—Fox Trot	The Benson Orchestra of Chicago	18924	10	.75
Just Because You're You—Fox Trot	All Star Trio and Their Orchestra

RECENTLY ANNOUNCED! Victor Records for Health Exercises—3 double-faced ten-inch records, 12 exercises, complete chart—cost $3 for the set and make daily exercising a pleasure!

Victor Talking Machine Company, Camden, N.J.

MAN QUILTS PLACE VOCATIONAL BOARD

Dr. M. L. Brittain, president of Georgia Tech, will conclude his work today as executive and director of the state vocational board from which he resigned a few days ago. Dr. Brittain has been connected with the board which has charge of the work authorized by the Smith-Hughes law in Georgia, since it was founded, in addition to his work as state superintendent of schools, but tendered his resignation a few days ago because of his duties as head of Georgia Tech. After Friday Dr. Brittain will devote his entire time to Georgia Tech. Upon his resignation from the board a resolution was adopted by the members praising Dr. Brittain's "valuable service," and giving him great credit for the growth and success of the board's work.

Fort E. Land, of Macon, who was elected to take Dr. Brittain's place, will begin his new duties Monday. The board, which began its work in 1919 under Dr. Brittain's direction, has grown to four times its original size since then. In 1918 it spent $50,000 for the technical departments of education under its charge, agriculture, shop trades for boys, and home economics for girls. Last year $200,000 was spent in the state of Georgia for the same purpose. Half of the money used is supplied by the federal government and the other half by the local authorities. According to the federal officials of the national board, the work of the Georgia board under Dr. Brittain has been "the most complete and satisfactory of any state in the south."

GEORGIA RANKS FOURTH IN HYDRO- ELECTRIC POWER

For the first six months of 1922 Georgia is ranked fourth among all of the states east of the Mississippi river and tenth among all states of the union in the production of electricity by water power, according to figures just released by the United States geological survey of the department of the interior.

During these six months, Georgia produced from her water power developments 270,442.00 kilowatt hours of electricity, this being 3.2 per cent of the total hydro-electric energy produced in the 48 states during a similar period. What is also considered a remarkable fact is that 87 per cent of the total electric power produced in Georgia is secured from water power developments on Georgia streams, only 13 per cent of the power being dependent on fuel for its production. This is considered particularly fortunate during the present coal crisis.

Only New York, Pennsylvania and South Carolina, east of the Mississippi, exceed Georgia in hydro-electric production, while California, Iowa, Michigan, Montana, Washington and Idaho, west of the river, exceed her total production. South Carolina is the only southern state to approach Georgia's output.

File Bankruptcy Petition.
Abelson & Turner, retail dealers in luggage and jewelry, at 68 North Fourth street, filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy Thursday in the federal court. The firm's indebtedness was unsecured, and the company hopelessly insolvent. The petition appointed Lenoard Crawford receiver. No statement was made relative to amount of the firm's liabilities.

MOORE IS PROMOTED BY SOUTHERN STATES

Wilmer L. Moore, Jr., has been placed in charge of the Atlanta general agency of the Southern States Life Insurance company.

Born, brought up and educated in

W. L. MOORE, JR.

Atlanta, Mr. Moore, after being discharged from the machine gun officers training camp at Camp Hancock, on the signing of the armistice in 1918, began his business career in the office of the Southern States Life Insurance company, working his way through every department from the very lowest rung of the ladder up to the position of cashier, which office he resigned to apply himself solely to the field work of the company.

During the time he was on the office staff he found sufficient time out of his office hours to comply with the requirements for membership of the Anniversary club, of the company which is composed of those agents who during the club year pay for at least $100,000 of personally written business, so that in accepting this new position he does not come in as a new and inexperienced representative, but as one who has already proven his ability to secure business.

Active in Civic Matters.
Like his father who is one of the former presidents of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, he has interested himself in civic matters, having been one of the organizers of the junior chamber of commerce, acting as chairman of the organizing committee and is still a director of this chamber. Genial in manner and determined to succeed, he may be relied upon to make good in his position and place the Southern States Life Insurance company in the position she should occupy in her home city as a leader among insurance companies. Mr. Moore's office will be at 217 Healey building.

HICKS WILL ADDRESS CIVITAN CLUB TODAY

Lou Hicks, prominent Rotarian, will address the Civitan club at its weekly luncheon Friday on "Ambassadors of Business." Special notices urging 100 per cent attendance have been mailed to the membership by Mrs. Kate G. Kerlin, executive secretary.

With the beginning of autumn a much larger attendance at the Civitan luncheons is expected, according to President Julian Boehm. The club meets in the chamber of commerce dining hall.

A musical program will be furnished Friday by the Masonic quartet, and Fred Houser will lead the meeting in community songs.

FIND MISSING WIFE WENT HOME TO MOTHER

Mrs. Mary Neal, whose disappearance from her home at 580 North Ashby street with her two little children Wednesday, caused her husband, J. R. Neal, to fear that they had met with foul play, went home to her mother in order to be away from her husband, it developed Thursday, according to reports to police.

Smirning the elevator, Mrs. Napoleon B. Jennings, of Great City, Mich., 72 years of age, recently climbed the steps to the top of the Washington monument, a distance of 555 feet.

ATLANTA ATHLETIC STARS PERFORM ON HOWARD FILM

Flashes from the heart-breaking Penn State-Georgia Tech game at the Polo grounds in New York last fall, Atlanta bathing beauties and sport stars with picturesque East Lake setting for a background, feature "Athletic Atlanta," the two-reel motion picture presented by the Atlanta convention bureau, which will be shown all next week at the Howard theater.

The picture will be shown in conjunction with Gloria Swanson in "The Gilded Cage," beginning Monday.

Sport stars who have succeeded in putting Atlanta on the athletic map of the world in capital letters are shown in action.

Judy Harlan, of football fame, graces several scenes of the film. He is shown in action during the Penn State game, when the "Golden Tornado" went down in glorious defeat.

Bob Jones contributes a beautiful putt to the picture, and Alex Stirling, three times women's amateur national golf champion, demonstrates a drive with a perfect follow through. Fancy diving supplemented by trick photography contributes a scene of thrills.

Fred Houser, secretary of the convention bureau, stated the picture was supervised by De Sales Harrison, manager of the Howard theater, who unassumingly shuns the credit and passes it on to the man who made the picture.

James Hamilton, of the Hamilton Beach Film company, is responsible for the community, as well as the photographing.

Following the presentation at the Howard, the picture will be released through the Southern Enterprises of Georgia, and will be shown at 150 theaters throughout the south.

There was a pre-release showing of the film at the Howard theater Wednesday.

1,500 MEN INSURED BY EXPRESS COMPANY

President J. B. Hockaday, of the Southeastern Express company, announced that his company has taken out group life insurance to the amount of $1,000 on each of the 1,500 employees engaged by that company.

By the means of this group policy insurance, medical examination will be required of any employee which will doubtless permit many to enjoy the privilege of life insurance who otherwise would be deprived of it.

In addition to the sum paid on the death of the insured, there are clauses which provide weekly indemnity for total disability, running over a period of five years.

Also a clause which provides nursing service by trained graduate nurses where such service is now being conducted by the insurance company.

One of the most attractive parts of this group insurance will be the supplying to every employee of health booklets, which include "First Aid in the Home," "Fighting Consumption," "Care of the Teeth" and kindred subjects.

Notice of this act on the part of the Southeastern Express company has been posted on all of the bulletin boards of the system.

This group policy insurance on the employees of the Southeastern Express company was placed with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company of New York.

MISS HOLDITCH BACK FROM EUROPEAN TRIP

Miss Dorothy Holditch, of 107 Springdale road, returned to Atlanta Tuesday after visiting in Europe and Africa since February 14. While on her trip Miss Holditch took a trip into the Sahara desert on the back of a camel. She spent three weeks in Paris. From Paris Miss Holditch went to London for a three weeks' visit with her grandmother.

While in London Miss Holditch attended the English derby, where she saw King George and Queen Mary. She also saw the Prince of Wales while in London, she said. She described Spain as a beautiful country, adding that the women there are "mighty good looking."

Mrs. W. A. Bisbee, of Jacksonville, Fla., chaperoned Miss Holditch while on the trip.

SACRED HARP SINGERS TO CONVENE SATURDAY

The B. P. White Interstate Sacred Harp convention will convene Saturday and Sunday at the Central Baptist church. A number of leaders and professors of the old music are expected to be present from other states. The convention will continue through the day Sunday. Dr. C. A. Ridley will preach at 11 o'clock. An old fashioned basket-dinner will be served on the ground.

When a quart of sweat evaporates from your body you release 600 calories of heat.

Head of Highway Board to Control All Appointments

During the confusion on the last night of the recent session of the legislature a bill was passed which virtually empowers the chairman of the state highway commission to make all appointments in the state highway department and to fix the salaries of the appointees it was discovered at the capitol Thursday.

The bill as originally introduced by Representative Smith, of Marietta, reported to be a bill to abolish the position of special counsel for the state highway department. Somehow in the house or senate an amendment was tacked on to the bill which clothes the chairman of the highway department with authority to name all engineers and others connected with the department. Under the law creating the department authority to select the district engineers and other employees was vested in the state highway engineer.

An investigation of the manner in which the amendment was tacked on could be obtained as to how it was passed. It is signed by the speaker of the house, the president of the senate and the governor but the bill does not show on its face who introduced the amendment or when it was passed.

Through the passage of the bill control of the patronage of the highway department passes virtually to the governor. The governor has the authority to name the chairman of the highway department and the chairman has the authority now to appoint all engineers and employees. John N. Holder, an appointee of governor Thomas W. Hardwick, is now chairman of the state highway department.

The amendment provides that the highway board shall be empowered to make the appointments and when it is not in session such authority is vested in the chairman. The board meets only at infrequent intervals and this virtually gives authority to make all appointments to the state highway engineer.

ARREST IS MADE IN HERRIN PROBE

President of Mine Union Local Surrenders on Charge of Murdering Superintendent McDonald.

Marion, Ill., August 31.—Otis Clark, president of one of the mine union locals in Williamson county, came into town Thursday and surrendered to authorities who were searching for him, following the verdict of an indictment by the grand jury investigating the Herrin mine massacre. Clark is formally charged with the murder of C. K. McDowell, superintendent of the strip mine where 10 non-union miners were shot last June.

Clark's arrest is the first of a number that will be made, according to Attorney-General Brundage, in an effort to place responsibility for the mine massacre.

President Frank Farrington, of the Illinois miners, immediately moved to provide bail for Clark, but failure to agree on the amount resulted in his remaining in jail.

The arrest of Clark had an electrical effect on "Bloody Williamson" country. The massacre itself and the meeting of the grand jury were regarded with indifference and the affair was generally considered a "closed incident." Few miners took any notice of the convening of the jury. It was not believed that testimony before the grand jury would result in any indictments.

POLITICAL RALLY AT WALKER STREET SCHOOL TONIGHT

The citizens of the first ward will hold a political rally at the Walker street school house Friday night beginning at 7:30 o'clock at which time all candidates are invited to speak. Each speaker will be allowed ten minutes, and as many as can will be introduced before 10 o'clock, when the meeting will end.

EXCURSION

Jacksonville . . . $7.00
Tampa . . . $12.00
St. Petersburg . . . $12.00
Saturday, Sept. 2.
Central of Georgia Railway

PLAN PENCIL SALE FOR ATLANTA BABIES

A novel fund-raising method is planned for Thursday, September 7, by the Atlanta Childs home. A one-day pencil sale will be conducted for the benefit of the home by a committee of pretty young girls and matrons. Mrs. Arthur Pepin is general chairman of the campaign. Pencils will be sold at all central corners and in the big public buildings. Funds derived from the sale will be used for the maintenance and enlargement of the home for babies.

"If the public was only more familiar with the work being accomplished by the home, we are sure that everyone would be eager to buy pencils from the workers," said Mrs. Frank Mason Robinson, president of the home. "There probably is not an institution in Atlanta accomplishing a more worthy work than the Atlanta Childs' home."

Alamo School to Open.

Alamo, Ga., August 31.—(Special.) The new consolidated school will open in Alamo, Ga., next Monday morning with about ten teachers and several hundred pupils. Another large brick building is soon to be added to the present building to accommodate the many pupils clamoring for accommodations.

EXCURSION

Tybee and return, $7.00
Saturday, Sept. 2.
Central of Georgia Railway

Purely as a matter of personal friendship we ask our friends and

Sam Johnson's

friends to get out from now until September 6th and for him for Alderman from the Twelfth Ward. The whole City votes.

Work

R. W. Underwood
R. H. Wolcott
E. P. King
George T. Bush
Jas. B. McNeelley
Robert H. Jones, Jr.

W. Frank Luckiesh
H. C. Dunn
Joe Lazear
Dr. Dan Y. Sage
Dr. Leland G. Baggett
Jim Morris

USE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION WANT ADS

OUT TODAY

Cable's Choice of the 10 Best September
Victor Records

- DANCE RECORDS
1. Who'll Take My Place (When I'm Gone)—Fox Trot. No. 18919. 10 in. 75c.
 2. The Sneak—Fox Trot. Club Royal Orch. No. 18921. 10 in. 75c.
 3. I Are You Playing Fair?—Fox Trot. Confetti Club. No. 18922. 10 in. 75c.
 4. (Sweet) Bluebird—Fox Trot. The Benson Orch. of Chicago. No. 18924. 10 in. 75c.
- POPULAR SONGS
4. Sweet Indiana Home. Alleen Stanley. No. 18922. 10 in. 75c.
 5. Why Should I Cry Over You? Victor Roberts. No. 18923. 10 in. 75c.
- VOCAL AND INSTRUMENTAL RECORDS
5. No Night There. Elsie Baker. No. 45322. 10 in. $1.00.
 6. Leave It With Him. Elsie Baker. 10 in. $1.00.
- RED SEAL RECORDS
6. Chanson Arabe (From "Scheherazade"). Fritz Kreisler. No. 66079. Violin. 10 in. $1.25.
 7. Wonderful World of Romance. John McCormack. No. 66080. Tenor. 10 in. $1.25.
 8. Tannhauser Overture—Part 3. Philadelphia Orch. No. 74768. 10 in. $1.25.
 9. Lead, Kindly Light. Ernestine Schumann-Heink. No. 87340. Contralto. 10 in. $1.25.
 10. Madame Butterfly (Oh, Kindly Heaven). Frances Alca, Soprano—Giovanni Martinelli, Tenor. No. 89163. 12 in. $2.00.

Look for the "Cable Choice" List Each Month

On the first day of each month we publish a list of what we consider the ten best Victor Records released for that month. Almost every Victrola owner wants to add to his record collection a few of the "month's best records."

In being guided by this list, Cable patrons are certain of securing the month's "hits," whether they are Popular Song, Dance, or Red Seal Records. Watch for the "Cable Choice" list—on the first of each month.

September Special WE will place in your home the best music the world affords—

A Genuine Victrola
of any style or type that records the voices and music of the greatest artists. Call and hear one today.
Our generous terms of $1.00 per week will allow you to easily pay off the balance.

CABLE'S

The Store of Exclusive Victor Service
82-84 N. BROAD ST., ATLANTA, GA.

WANTED

Every person who has been requested to vote for their candidate for County Commissioner from the Country, Mr. Edwin F. Johnson, by anyone connected with the

McDOUGAL CONSTRUCTION CO.,

(a corporation which now has contracts for paving with Fulton County and with the City of Atlanta, and which naturally expects to get more) to apply to who is opposing Mr. Johnson for this position, but who is not representing any private interest, and who pledges himself, if elected, to deal with all matters arising impartially and with the public's interest alone in mind.

ARTHUR WRIGLEY

Served in the best places—simply because it is the best 15¢

Anheuser-Busch
Ginger Ale

ANHEUSER-BUSCH, INC., ST. LOUIS
Wholesale Distributors
290 Marietta Street
Atlanta, Georgia Phone Ivy 2679

The Southern States Life Insurance Company

ANNOUNCES THE APPOINTMENT OF WILMER L. MOORE, JR.

AS GENERAL AGENT

COVERING

THE ATLANTA TERRITORY

WITH OFFICES LOCATED AT

217 Healey Building

Mr. Moore has been associated with the Home Office of the Company for the past four years, where he has made a thorough study of the business of life insurance from all standpoints. At the same time he has had experience in field work, having qualified as a member of the Anniversary Club, which is composed of those who personally produce $100,000 annually.

The Southern States Life was organized by Atlanta business men in 1906, and its successful record should command for it the support of the people of this city. It has a Business in Force of $40,000,000, Assets of $4,500,000, and an annual income of $1,500,000. The Company is now writing a business of One Million Dollars a month, and showing a marked increase over the year 1921.

Mr. Moore wishes associated with him experienced insurance solicitors, men of character and with the best ideals of the profession.

OFFICERS

WILMER L. MOORE, President

MELL R. WILKINSON, Vice-president
LEWIS H. BECK, Vice-president
W. R. HALLIDAY, Vice-president, and Actuary
ROBERT F. MOORE, Secretary
A. H. RAMSEY, Treasurer
JOS. H. WILLIAMS, Auditor

M. A. LOCHRIDGE, Asst. Secy.
DR. C. E. WAITS, Med. Director
A. J. ORME, Counsel
WILFRED S. McLEOD, Agency Manager
JOS. D. SMITH, Agency Supervisor
C. H. CUSHMAN, Agency Secretary

DIRECTORS

PRESTON S. ARKWRIGHT, Pres. The Georgia Railway & Power Co., Atlanta, Georgia.

FRED S. BALL, Attorney-at-Law, Director Exchange National Bank, and Union Bank & Trust Co., Montgomery, Ala.

LEWIS H. BECK, Vice-Pres. The Southern States Life Insurance Co., Chairman Board of Directors Beck & Gregg Hardware Co., Atlanta, Ga.

EUGENE R. BLACK, Pres. Atlanta Trust Co., Atlanta, Ga.

W. J. BLALOCK, Pres. The Fulton National Bank, Atlanta, Ga.

E. BATES BLOCH, M. D., Physician, Vice-Pres. F. E. Block Co., Director Georgia Savings Bank, Atlanta, Ga.

J. W. CALLAHAN, Pres. Callahan Line, President Callahan Grocery Co., Vice-Pres. Bainbridge State Bank, Bainbridge, Georgia.

ASA G. CANDLER, Pres. Central Bank & Trust Corp., Pres. Emory University, Atlanta, Ga.

J. FERRIS CANN, Attorney-at-Law, Director Citizens Trust Co., Savannah, Ga.

RAYMOND CAY, Retired, Valdosta, Ga.

TENCH C. COKE, Pres. Battery Park Bank, Asheville, N. C.

W. T. GENTRY, Director South National Bank, Retired Pres. Southern Bell Tel. & Tel. Co., and other Bell Tel. Cos. of the South, Director S. Bell Tel. Co. and Cumberland Tel. & Tel. Co., Atlanta, Ga.

W. R. HALLIDAY, Vice-Pres. and Actuary The Southern States Life Ins. Co.

C. E. HARMAN, Pres. Atlanta Baggage & Cab Co., Atlanta, Ga.

FRANK HAWKINS, Chairman of Board Citizens and Southern Bank, Atlanta, Ga.

J. T. HOLLEMAN, Pres. The Southern Mortgage Co., Director The Atlanta National Bank, Atlanta, Ga.

A. B. HULL, Director, The Citizens & Southern Bank and Vice-Pres. Joseph Hull Co., Savannah, Ga.

W. J. KINCAID, Capitalist, Griffin, Ga.

V. H. KRIEGSHABER, of V. H. Kriegshaber & Son, Atlanta, Ga.

ROBERT F. MOORE, Secretary The Southern States Life Insurance Company, Atlanta, Ga.

WILMER L. MOORE, Pres. The Southern States Life Insurance Company, Director Lowry National Bank, Atlanta, Ga.

JOHN E. MURPHY, Director Lowry National Bank, Atlanta, Ga.

WILLIAM J. MURRAY, Pres. The Murray Bank, Columbia, S. C.

A. J. ORME, Counsel The Southern States Life Insurance Company, Vice-Pres. Atlanta Trust Co., Atlanta, Ga.

R. J. TAYLOR, Pres. Lamar & Rankin Drug Co., Atlanta, Ga.

CHAS. A. WICKERSHAM, Director Fourth National Bank, Director Trust Co. of Ga., Director Atlantic Steel Co., Atlanta, Ga.

MELL R. WILKINSON, Vice-Pres. The Southern States Life Insurance Company, Pres. Ashcraft-Wilkinson Co., Director Lowry National Bank, Atlanta, Ga.

JOS. H. WILLIAMS, Auditor The Southern States Life Insurance Company, Vice-Pres. Colonial Trust Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Station
WGM

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION RADIO DEPARTMENT

Programs
6-7, 9-10 P. M.
3:30-4:30, 9-10 P. M.

STAGE IS SET FOR OPENING WGM'S POWERFUL NEW STATION

ALL PLANS MADE FOR BIG OPENING WITH 3 PROGRAMS

Leide, Warner and Volpi
Will Direct Concerts
Starting 500-Watt Radio Set.

LEADING MUSICIANS
OF SOUTH HAVE PART

Hours Are Set for Programs at 6 to 6:30, 6:30 to 7 and 9 to 10:45
O'clock.

BY GEORGE C. CONGDON, JR.
The stage is set. Everything is in readiness for the opening tonight of the new 500-watt radio broadcasting equipment of Station WGM, The Atlanta Constitution.

Three programs have been especially planned for the opening. The first will be given between 6 and 6:30 o'clock by Warner's Seven Aces,
The Atlanta Constitution orchestra.
Pupils of Signor E. Volpi, Atlanta opera coach, will present the second concert between 6:30 and 7 o'clock.
The grand concert under the direction of Enrico Leide, director of the Howard theater, with the quartet under supervision of Signor Volpi, takes place between 9 and 10:45 o'clock.

Tests made during the last week with Station WGM's new equipment have shown it to more than meet expectations. It has far exceeded the hopes of members of The Constitution's radio department in its power and perfect modulation. All tests have been conducted between 1 and 4 o'clock in the morning and have been heard probably only by special receiving stations which were open to make the tests with Station
WGM.

More Efficient Set.
With General Electric 250-watt tubes as oscillators and modulators and with a modified system of the Stanley British circuit, engineers on the staff of The Constitution feel that they have prepared the station as powerful and efficient set as can be constructed for broadcast work.
The first program will be given

MUNN'S
PHONE NUMBER NOW
WALNUT 0013

PEABODY
BALTIMORE, N. D.
The Leading Endowed Musical
Scholarship. Operate training Scholarship to all grades and degrees.

Young Ladies Attending Oglethorpe University
Should Matriculate At Once. Courses offered in Literature, Journalism, Drama, Short Story Writing, Arts and Sciences,
Commerce and Business Administration. Catalog on request.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY WANTS EXPERIENCED MEN FOR SHOPS

The following positions are open in the shops of this system:
Machinists
Boilermakers
Blacksmiths
Sheet Metal Workers
Electrical Workers
Car Repairers
(Freight and Passenger)
Applications will be received for the above positions.
Standard wages and working conditions.
Report or apply to C. CHANDLER, Superintendent, 204 Southern Ry. office building, West Mitchell Street and Madison Avenue, Atlanta, Georgia.

MEN WANTED

The Central of Georgia Railway Company offers permanent employment to experienced mechanics in the following classifications and will pay wages fixed by the United States Railroad Labor Board as follows:
Machinists 70c
Boilermakers 70c
Blacksmiths 70c
Sheet Metal Workers 70c
All service in excess of eight hours each day will be paid for at time and one-half rate.
All service on Sundays and legal holidays will be paid for at
time and one-half rate.
Meals and lodging furnished on shop premises if desired.
Apply for information at—ROOM 221, Third Floor, Macon Terminal Station, Macon, Ga.
OFFICE OF LOCAL FREIGHT AGENT, Atlanta, Ga.
OFFICE OF MASTER MECHANIC, Columbus, Ga.
Shops.
ROOM 47, Red Office Building, Perry and West Broad Sts., Savannah, Ga.
Central of Georgia Railway Co.

FOR SALE

Flat newsprint paper suitable for small publishers and job printers.
The price is right.
P. O. Box 1731, Atlanta, Ga.

Artists Who Will Give Two of Opening Programs This Evening

by Warner's Seven Aces, The Atlanta Constitution orchestra, with Miss Minna Hecker, soprano, a pupil of Miss Margaret Hecht, as the soloist.
The program will be given between 6 and 6:30 o'clock and will be under the direction of B. H. Warner, who is the director of the Aces.

The program by the Aces will consist of eight numbers, one of them a group of two songs by Miss Hecker.
This soprano has been heard frequently in Atlanta and always with plan-sure. She has an unusually high voice that has drawn comment from a number of competent sources. She takes place between 6 and 10:45 o'clock.
In one of her numbers, "Vilanelle," by Del Aquia, she sings high F.
Her other number will be "Berceuse" from "Jocelyn" by Godard.

Open With Stanton Number.
The opening number by the Aces,
the first number in which Station WGM's powerful new set will be heard, will be "Mighty Lak a Rose," the words of which were written by Frank L. Stanton, the south's poet laureate and a member of the staff of The Atlanta Constitution. This will be played in a trumpet solo by Tom Brannon, of the Aces, with orchestra accompaniment.

The second number by the Aces will be "Swanee River Moon," one of their best waltz numbers, written by West. This number has drawn applause from listeners several times when presented by Warner's Seven Aces, The Atlanta Constitution orchestra.

Miss Hecker's group will come third on the program.
As the fourth number, the Aces will present the "Intermezzo" from "Cavalleria Rusticana" by Mascagni.
This is one of the Aces' most effective operatic selections.

"Parade of the Wooden Soldiers" from "Chauve Souris" by Jessel, will be the fifth number.

To Give Jazz Numbers.
Following the fifth selection, the Aces will play three jazz numbers.
They will be "Hot Lips," "Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shean" from Ziegfeld's 1922, which was introduced in the south several nights ago by

In the picture above are shown the artists who will give the Warner concert between 6 and 6:30 o'clock and the Volpi concert between 6:30 and 7 o'clock tonight for the opening of Station WGM's powerful new broadcasting equipment.
In the top row are artists who will appear on the Volpi program. They are, reading from left to right: Madame Dupuis, soprano, of Cincinnati, Ohio; Nora Allen, lyric soprano, former member of the Chicago Grand Opera company; Signor E. Volpi, Atlanta opera coach, who will direct the Volpi concert; Floyd B. Fuller, robust tenor, and Mrs. Charlotte Crumley, soprano. (Photos of Madame Dupuis, Miss Allen, Mr. Fuller and Mrs. Crumley by Walton Reeves.)
Shown below are Warner's Seven Aces, The Atlanta Constitution orchestra, who will be presented in the Warner concert. They are, reading from left to right: Joe Hudson, drums and xylophones; Ralph Bennett, violin; Tom Brannon, trumpet and slide cornet; B. H. Warner, piano and director of the Aces; C. W. Buckner, saxophone and clarinet; Bob Pittman, banjo and saxophone, and J. E. Pritchett, Jr., saxophone. (Photo by Francis E. Price.)

radio by the Aces, and "Soothing," Ralph Bennett will take the singing part of "Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shean" and Bob Pittman will take the song role of "Mr. Shean" in the "Follies" presentation.

The second program, that between 6:30 and 7 o'clock specially arranged as the second preliminary concert, will be given entirely by pupils of Signor
E. Volpi, who has made a wide reputation through his training of voices.
There are five artists on this program, including Signor Volpi, who will play all of the piano accompaniments.

Two outstanding artists have been placed on the program for the second concert. They are Nora Allen, lyric soprano, former member of the Chicago Grand Opera company, and Madame Dupuis, of Cincinnati, Ohio, who has been heard through the summer being coached in operatic roles by Signor Volpi. This is the initial appearance of Madame Dupuis on a radio program, while Miss Allen's appearance is heard by listeners as a source of unusual delight, since the latter has sung several times from

KILLS

Mosquitoes
Flies
Roaches
BUGS OF ALL KINDS MEET SURE DEATH BY FLYFLU
The immediate acting and easily applied
eradicator.
HARMS NOTHING BUT INSECTS
$20 in gold given anyone that properly applies FLY FLU without obtaining the results claimed for it.
For Sale Everywhere
Buy a bottle today!
FLY FLU CORPORATION
Ocala, Georgia

One Dollar
Bottle of Capi
Liver and Kidney Medicine
50 CENTS
All Druggists
G. E. Duxler, 700 Eighth Avenue,
New York City. "I had kidney trouble and have had it two years. One bottle of your CAPI Liver and Kidney Medicine cured me."

OLD PLANT QUILTS WITH GOOD MUSIC

Final Day of Veteran Broadcasting Set Is Marked by Three Extra Good Programs.

Two orchestras and two piano solo artists entertained radio listeners of the south with the final program over the veteran broadcasting plant of station WGM, The Atlanta Constitution. It was a matter of some regret that the thousands of radio fans cut of range of the "retiring" broadcasting unit could not "listen in" on so pleasing a program of good music.
Those who did get it, however, were profuse in their laudatory appreciation.

The final day of the 100-watt apparatus, which will be superseded today by the new giant 500-watt station, using four 250-watt tubes, began with a program by Warner's Seven Aces, The Constitution's own orchestra and the best in the south. The "Aces" played "Natch the South Sea
Moon," "Nobody Lied," "Dogie, Dogie,
Was Wa," and "Kiss Mamma, Kiss
Papa." Mr. Warner played a popular piano selection, "Symphonica."
The Aces introduced a new "Follies" number, a musical burlesque entitled,
"Listening in on Some Radio."

Opening the 9 o'clock period was the thrilling Four orchestra, a four piece aggregation of excellent musicians directed by Mrs. K. McClure. The orchestra played several compositions that have been heard on radio in this section before. The program included "Carolina Blues," "Mary Dear," "Lucille," "Chicken Waltz,"
"Three Little Words," "Smiling
Through the Years," and "When Buddha Smiled." Several requests for encore numbers were refused because of lack of time.

Mrs. Louise Howard Deagan and Mrs. Paul Conway completed the musical day and the active service of the old broadcasting plant with a program of beautifully played popular and classic piano numbers, each played on two pianos, an arrangement never tried over WGM before. Both are accomplished pianists and have won no small measure of popularity in former radio recitals. The unique program included: "Hilarious March,"
"Kiss Mamma, Kiss Papa," "Flying Doves," "Lonesome Mamma Blues,"
"Hot Lips," "Dangerous Blues," and "Val in E Flat," by Durand, played by Mrs. Deagan.

UNIVERSITY MAKES READY FOR OPENING

Athens, Ga., August 31.—(Special.)
While it is the general belief that there will be more students enrolled in the University of Georgia during the approaching session than last year, Registrar T. W. Reed has just made a statement that the increase will not be very large.
Preparations are being made by college officials for the opening of the fall term, and when the students arrive they will find the dormitories all cleaned and repainted on the inside, and many other changes on the campus that will greatly aid to the appearance of the university site.

EXCURSION
Brunswick and return, $6.50
September 2,
Southern Railway System

Girls! Girls!!
Save Your Hair
With Cuticura
Keep and Clipping to your Daughter's school.
Cuts, keeps, brings out color, keeps hair soft, shiny, and healthy.

Sloan's Liniment For legs and arms and women
All muscles—all ages
Young muscles overworked—old muscles lame—every ache yields at once to Sloan's Liniment. Penetrates without rubbing—brings quick comfort to all ailed parts.
—It kills pain!

Programs for Concerts Tonight

Following are the programs for the opening of Station WGM's new 500-watt radio broadcasting set:

GRAND CONCERT, 9 TO 10:45 P. M.

ENRICO LEIDE, Director.
SIGNOR E. VOLPI, Directing Quartet Numbers.

PART I.

1. "Medley of Southern Melodies," by Howard quartet, composed of W. N. Massengale, J. B. Clottworth, Thomas Dendy and William Van Goldsnoyen.
2. "Hungarian Fantasia" (Doppler)—Flute solo by Marino Capelli, Howard orchestra.
3. "My Love Is All for You" (Grimm)—Tenor solo by George McNulty.
4. a. "Deep River" (Burleigh).
b. "Banjo Song" (Homer).
Soprano solos by Rieley Eakin, dramatic soprano.
5. "Hunting Song" (Mendelssohn)—Piano solo by Mrs. Charles E. Dowman.
6. "Deluge" (Saint Saens)—Violin solo by Tom Standing, concert master of Howard orchestra.

PART II.

1. "Irish and Scotch Tunes," by the Howard quartet.
2. "Last Hope"—Cello solo by Perry Bremer, Howard orchestra.
3. "Elegie" (Massenet)—Cello solo by Enrico Leide, director Howard theater.
4. "White Thrush"—Piccolo solo by Marino Capelli, Howard orchestra.
5. "Sorter Miss You" (Smith)—Tenor solo by George McNulty.
6. "Dear Old Pal of Mine"—Cornet solo by Perry Bremer, Howard orchestra.
7. "Evening Star" from "Tannhauser" (Wagner)—Cello solo by Enrico Leide.
8. "Meditation" from "Thais" (Massenet)—Violin solo by Tom Standing, Howard orchestra.
9. "The Spirit Flower"—Solo by Rieley Eakin, dramatic soprano with cello obligato by Enrico Leide.

WARNER CONCERT, 6 TO 6:30 P. M.

B. H. WARNER, Director.

1. "Mighty Lak a Rose" (Nevin, words by Frank L. Stanton)—Trumpet solo by Tom Brannon, of Warner's Seven Aces, The Atlanta Constitution orchestra, with the orchestra.
2. "Swanee River Moon" (West), waltz, by Warner's Seven Aces, The Atlanta Constitution orchestra.
3. a. "Vilanelle" (del Aquia).
b. "Berceuse" from "Jocelyn" (Godard).
Soprano solos by Miss Minna Hecker, with Mr. Warner at the piano.
4. "Intermezzo" from "Cavalleria Rusticana" (Mascagni), by Warner's Seven Aces, The Atlanta Constitution orchestra.
5. "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers" (Jessel) from "Chauve Souris," by Warner's Seven Aces, The Atlanta Constitution orchestra.
6. "Hot Lips," by Warner's Seven Aces, The Atlanta Constitution orchestra.
7. "Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shean" from Ziegfeld's "Follies of 1922," by Ralph Bennett and Bob Pittman of the Aces, with the orchestra.
8. "Soothing," by Warner's Seven Aces, The Atlanta Constitution orchestra.

VOLPI CONCERT, 6:30 TO 7 P. M.

SIGNOR E. VOLPI, Director.

Artists: Nora Allen, lyric soprano; Madame Dupuis, soprano; Mrs. Charlotte Crumley, soprano, and Floyd B. Fuller, tenor. This concert will consist of operatic numbers and ballads featuring solos and duets with all piano accompaniments by Signor Volpi. At a late hour last night, Signor Volpi had not completed the details of the program. The numbers will be announced by radio.

ASKS PROOF AGAINST MACON WOMEN HELD

Macon, Ga., August 31.—(Special.)
Judge H. A. Matthews of Bibb superior court today gave Sheriff Hickey and his deputies until Monday to obtain further evidence against Misses Callie Walker and Lottie Flowers, prisoners at the Bibb county jail pending an investigation of the death of Howard M. Brown, or they will be released.

Brown was picked up in an unconscious condition near the Second street crossing of the Central of Georgia railroad about two weeks ago, dying a few hours later at the Macon hospital. The sheriff and his deputies have been working on the theory that Brown was slain for his money. They believe that he was struck on the head

PRESS BODY MEETS AT CLARKESVILLE, GA.

Athens, Ga., August 31.—(Special.)—The Ninth District Press association will hold a session in Clarkesville Friday, when a number of prominent Georgia newspaper men will make talks and addresses on subjects of interest to members of the fourth estate.
President J. W. McWhorter arranged the program and among those to take part are Rev. Wade D. Parks, Mayor F. M. Reeves, John E. Shannon, Mrs. Homer Thompson, Jack Patterson, A. S. Hardy and others.

New Victrola
Victor Records
FOR SEPTEMBER ON SALE TODAY AT Phillips & Crew's
You are cordially invited to come in and hear your favorite records.
We carry the largest stock of Victor Records in Atlanta.
PHILLIPS & CREW
PIANO CO.
181 Peachtree Street
Phone IV 5267

News of Society and Woman's Work

Roof-Garden Dinner-Dance At Capital City Club

The regular Thursday evening dinner-dance on the roof-garden of the Capital City club assembled a large number of guests.

Dinner was served at 8 o'clock, and the Seven Aces orchestra furnished the music during dinner and for dancing.

The largest party given last evening was in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Watkins, who will leave on Saturday for New York, where they will in future reside, the hosts of the occasion being Mr. and Mrs. William C. Wardlaw, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Atkinson, Dr. and Mrs. De Los Hill, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. Evelyn Harris, Mrs. G. R. Glenn, of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Davis, Mrs. Frank Boland.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Krough, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Maszale, Mr. and Mrs. Henry McGee had dinner together.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Merriam had as their guests Dr. and Mrs. John V. Pierson.

Miss Katharine Kannady, of Roanoke, Va., the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Cowles, was the central figure in a party.

Mr. and Mrs. Westerfield Terhune and Mr. and Mrs. John Glenn formed a congenial party having dinner together.

Miss Emmie Durden, of Jackson, Ga., the guest of Mrs. Macon Hobson, was honor guest in the party given by Miss Jamie Cooper. Covers were placed for Miss Durden, Mr. and Mrs. Macon Hobson, Miss Cooper, Richard Long, Dudley H. Woodward, William Heaton, of Tallapoosa, and Cy Hawkins.

Captain George Harrison entertained a congenial party of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Olaver entertained in compliment to their mother, Mrs. J. W. Olaver, and their sister, Mrs. C. F. Olaver, of New York.

Mrs. Yould's Student Recital.

The expression students of Mrs. Duane Thomas Yould gave a recital Wednesday afternoon, at Edison hall, in appreciation of Dr. S. S. Curry, late president of the Boston School of Expression.

Mrs. Yould's paper on "scientific expression" was read.

Miss Ellen Ross Lightfoot read Kipling's "The White Rose," by Ellen Willis. Her paper "In Memory of Dr. Curry," greatly impressed her audience because of the fact that she stressed the point of his being a man of service to humanity.

Miss Helen Smith, Donna Silvers, Vivian Thornton and Master Frederick C. Sutton Jr., composed the younger group of readers.

Miss Silvers was excellent in her portrayal of "The Miller of the Dee," by Charles Mackay. Miss Smith read "September," by Helen Hunt Jackson.

Vivian Thornton displayed her taste for literature when she selected and charmingly read "The Brook," by Mary N. Prescott.

Master Frederick C. Sutton, Jr., although only seven years of age, read "Spring Twilight," a beautiful lyric poem by Edward Rowland Hill.

Mrs. McCord Roberts told of her personal contact with Dr. Curry, as a member of his class.

The piano solos rendered by Mrs. Pauline Montague, graduate of St. Louis Conservatory of Music, were: "Thou Art Mine," Liszt; "The Love Boat," Ziegfeld; "Soliloquy," by Victor Herbert, and "Mandolin," by Francis Thome.

Mrs. Bowden Habersham Palmer, of Ansley Park, who was under personal direction, and once a guest of Dr. Curry, was a gracious speaker.

Children's Movies For Week-End.

When Harold Lloyd, star in "Grandma's Boy," the feature picture for the boys' and girls' matinee at the Howard Friday morning, is the first of a series of a shifty and starts after a band of robbers, there is excitement and

Mrs. W. B. Sewell Gives Party for Small Class

Mrs. W. B. Sewell entertained at a prom party, Thursday evening, at her home on Ninth street, for her Sunday school class.

Those present were Misses Mary Maffett, Rosaline Moore, Pearl Cogins, Vera May Walls, Charlie May Argo, Cora Lillian Wilson, Helen Bush, Lucy McNab, Mary Anderson, Frances Craighead, Helen Stevens, Virginia Overhine, Henry Whittaker, James Napier, Harry McCash, Joe Pickland, Allen Ford, Leonard Sewell, Lamar Braswell and others.

Dance at Garber hall for the members of the college set.

Miss Margaret Mitchell's trousseau tea this afternoon.

Rehearsal of the Mitchell-Up.

Dinner Served at Cathedral Today.

The Ladies' Aid of St. Philip's Cathedral will serve an old fashioned well cooked chicken dinner at their lunch room, 16 Washington street, today from 12 to 2:30 o'clock.

Menu: baked chicken, brown dressing, cream gravy, combination salad, hot rolls with butter, iced tea or coffee, bananas with cream. Dinner with dessert, 25 cents.

The chairman, Mrs. H. G. Greer, is assisted by Mrs. F. T. Morgan, Mrs. Sue Johnson, Mrs. B. F. Godfrey, Mrs. W. P. Outcalt, Mrs. G. H. Robertson, Mrs. Martha Rogers, Mrs. Fred Shaw, Mrs. B. Y. Robinson, Mrs. L. L. Rafter, Mrs. A. D. Boylston, Misses Caroline and Louise Sisson, Miss Ethel Wilson, Miss Doucette Larendson, Miss Marian Robinson, Miss Junia Greer. Public most cordially invited.

Menu changed daily. Dinners served every day except Sunday.

Fancy Dress Ball At Roxana Hall.

A fancy dress ball at Roxana Hall, Marietta, tonight will assemble a large company of the dancing set from Atlanta as well as Marietta, and elaborate plans are on foot to make the occasion a memorable one.

The Seven Aces, The Constitution orchestra, will provide the music.

The Roxana hall dances are weekly affairs, and popular with the younger set.

Miss Connolly to Be Honor Guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Cowles will entertain at the dinner-dance at the Driving club Saturday in honor of their lovely school girl guest, Miss Katherine Connolly, of Roanoke, Va.

Last night they entertained a party of six young people at dinner at their home, afterward attending the roof garden dinner-dance at the Capital city club.

Bessie Tift Alumnae To Meet Thursday.

The Atlanta chapter of the Bessie Tift College Alumnae association will meet at Edison hall, next Thursday afternoon, at 3 o'clock instead of this afternoon, as previously announced.

A number of important matters are to be decided upon next Thursday and it is hoped that every Bessie Tift alumna in Atlanta will attend the meeting next Thursday afternoon.

Today's Calendar

SOCIAL EVENTS

Tens at the Atlanta Woman's club.

Mrs. Samuel Cronheim will give a bridge-ten at the Atlanta Woman's club in compliment to Mrs. William Karasik, of San Francisco, the guest of Mrs. Leon Rosenberg.

Dance at Garber hall for the members of the college set.

Miss Margaret Mitchell's trousseau tea this afternoon.

Rehearsal of the Mitchell-Up.

WOMEN'S MEETINGS

The Decatur League of Women voters will meet at 4 o'clock, in the court house.

A call meeting of the executive board of B. W. M. U. will be held at the First Baptist church today at 1 o'clock. A prompt and full attendance is requested.

Shaw wedding plans, followed by a buffet supper at the home of the bride-elect's father, Eugene M. Mitchell on Peachtree road.

Morning matinee for girls and boys at the Howard theatre.

SOCIAL ITEMS

Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Morgan are in Atlanta, before returning to their home in Memphis, Tenn., after an extended trip through Georgia, North and South Carolina.

Miss Hazel Dean is improving after a recent illness at her home on Plum street.

Misses Sarah and Sue Kendrick have returned from a visit to relatives in north Georgia.

Mrs. Dwight Lowell and son, Adkins, arrived Thursday evening to the guests, for a week, of Mrs. Lowell's mother, Mrs. Adkins, before going to their home in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Rice, Miss Grace Rice, and Miss Jessie Tutwiler motored to Charlotte, N. C., during the past week for a visit with relatives. Later they will motor to various points of interest in the state.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Sewell announce the birth of a son, on August 9, at their home, 72 Park avenue. He has received the name of Homer Belk Sewell, II.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence R. Davis have returned home after a week-end stay at the White Sulphur Springs hotel.

Mrs. Robert C. Alston is at Greenbrier, White Sulphur Springs, West Va., and is among the most attractive Atlanta women present at the social affairs taking place at this fashionable resort. Mrs. Leigh Palmer entertained Wednesday at a farewell luncheon to Mrs. Frank Mebane, of North Carolina, who leaves at an early date to visit the Queen of Rumania.

Mrs. Charles W. Stone will leave, Saturday, for Birmingham, Ala., where she will join her husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Wright and son, Seaborn, will be at home in the North Park apartments on Piedmont avenue for the winter.

Mrs. Mabel Shropshire Wall has returned from North Carolina, where she spent several weeks. She attended two days of the Asheville music

Miss Reynolds Is Hostess at Bridge Party

Miss Carrie Lou Reynolds entertained at a bridge-ten Thursday afternoon at her home on Wesley avenue, the occasion assembling a group of her friends before leaving for school at Notre Dame, near Baltimore, where Miss Reynolds will enter upon her graduating year. She will be numbered among the lovely group of debutantes of Atlanta society after completing her education.

Silver baskets and bowls, holding exquisite flowers, were used to decorate the apartments where bridge was played.

The prize awarded was a beautifully bound book of poems and bridge table novelties. Ten was served following the game at the small tables.

Miss Reynolds was gown in white Canton crepe. She was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. Joseph S. Reynolds, who was gown in black georgette crepe, and her sister, Miss Mary Reynolds, who was gown in white georgette crepe.

The guests included Miss Sarah Orme, Miss Virginia Perram, Miss Emmie Nixon, Miss Elizabeth Whitman, Miss Elizabeth Stewart, Miss Margaret Nelson, Miss May Emery, Miss Lillie Welborn, Miss Martha Boynton, Miss Edna Horine, Miss Louise Inman, Miss Katherine Haverly, Miss Eleanor Gay, Miss Marjorie Weldon, Miss Ann Stringfellow, Miss Mary Nevins, Miss Mary Frances Coolidge and Mrs. W. G. Hammer, of Tampa, Fla.

A. C. McKeen is at home at the Georgian Terrace.

Mrs. Harry Henson has arrived from Highlands, N. C., and is the guest of her sister, Miss Mae O'Brien, at the Ponce de Leon.

Mrs. W. G. Hemmer, of Jacksonville, Fla., is visiting Mrs. Ravenel Beckwith, at her home on Wesley avenue.

Mrs. John C. Donaldson, of Charleston, S. C., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John M. McCullough, on Juniper street. Mrs. Donaldson was formerly Miss Harriett McCullough.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis G. Paschal announce the birth of a son at St. Joseph's Infirmary, on August 30, who has been named Milton Avery, after his maternal grandfather.

Mrs. Sidney Edmonds has returned to her home in Portland, Ore., after a visit to her mother, Mrs. E. E. Edmonds, at her home on Juniper street. Mrs. Edmonds returned with Mrs. Edwards for a visit of several months.

Mrs. B. R. Beck left on Tuesday for a visit to north Georgia mountains with her niece, Miss Sara Strickland, and Misses Juliette Garner and Clyde Clariday, of Atlanta.

Miss Mary Reynolds will leave Saturday for Augusta, where she will visit her aunt, Mrs. Marion Reynolds.

Mrs. William C. Cate and little son, William, III, who have been spending the summer in Narcoossee valley, are visiting Mrs. Charles G. Giddings for several weeks before going to their home in Americus, Mrs. Giddings returned Monday from Bel-

William Flanders Will Entertain at Dancing Party

William Flanders, who has been spending the summer with his grandmother, Mrs. L. C. Flanders, at her home in Inman Park, will give a dance Tuesday evening at Mrs. Flanders' home on North Moreland avenue previous to his departure for his home in New York.

The guests will include:

Misses Louise Fink, Charlotte Smith, Florence Smith, Henrietta Smith, Julia Mason, Nancy and Louise Llanos, Lenora and Adele Anderson, Marion and Katherine

Koonce, Katherine Ellis, Dorothy Bartlett, Eleanor Rogers, Mary Everett, Lorraine Sale, Catherine Campbell, Mrs. Tom Witherington, Harlow Branch, Tom Witherington, Gilman Tutwiler, Ross Greer, Jean Hancock, Jack Johnson, Allen Bartlett, George Bartlett, Delmar Robertson, George Schale, Paul Galois, Paul A. Johnson, Barlow and Clement Ford, Rodney Brantley, John Stoney, Edwin Everett, Mr. Peppers and others.

Mr. Flanders will be assisted in entertaining by his mother, Mrs. William Flanders. Of host Mrs. L. C. Flanders, Mrs. W. E. Larendson, Mrs. J. W. Barlow and Miss Caroline Larendson.

Dinner-Dance at East Lake Club.

The East Lake Country club was the scene of many enjoyable parties at the regular informal dinner-dance Wednesday evening.

The tables, placed on the terrace, were decorated with pink and white roses and ferns. Dinner was served at 8 o'clock, followed by dancing.

Miss Catherine Carter had as guests of honor, Miss Josephine Carter and Miss Mary Carter, of Sweetwater, Tenn. Those completing the party were Roger Jones, Paul Carter, of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Robert Carr, of Memphis, Tenn.

E. A. Emmertman, Jr., entertained Miss Dorothy Holditch, Miss Isobel Hunter, and Armin Moller, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Gordy's guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. John L. Sulzbach.

North Avenue P. T. A. To Meet Thursday.

Next Thursday afternoon, September 7, there will be a meeting at the school house under the auspices of the North Avenue Parent-Teacher association, at 4 o'clock.

All parents already belonging to the association and all parents entering children this September, and all interested patrons are invited to attend.

Interesting speakers will discuss the present conditions in the Atlanta schools.

Mrs. Stewart Is Hostess.

Fufaula, Ala., August 31.—(Special.)—Mrs. H. S. Stewart entertained at an enjoyable bridge and rook party Friday morning, honoring Mrs. John D. Stewart, of Atlanta, and Mrs. W. H. Flowers, of Jacksonville, Ga. Vases of sinias and potted plants made an attractive background for the tables and at noon a tempting luncheon with sherbet was served. The game prizes were won by Mrs. F. C. Petry and Mrs. J. B. Rees and the honor guests were presented with handmade handkerchiefs.

Incurables Board Postpones Meeting.

Of interest to the younger dancing set of the city is the announcement of a script dance to be given at Roseland, Peachtree street at Cain, Monday evening, September 4, from 9 to 12 o'clock, under the auspices of the Royal club. Former visitors are cordially invited.

Script Dance Will Be Given at Garber's.

An event of interest for the younger set will be a script dance given by Joe Whittenberg and Jack Harris, at Garber hall, Saturday.

The excellent services of "The Georgia Serenaders" orchestra have been procured.

Dancing will be enjoyed from 9 to 12 o'clock.

Carlton's For Quality and Value

School Sweaters

Good, burly wool sweaters, the kinds with wear to 'em. Solids and combinations. Pullover and coat styles for boys of 8 to 18.

$4 up

All Wool Sweaters for little boys of kindergarten age, in assorted colors. Coat models—

$3.50

Knickers—All-wool pants, full cut and well tailored. Excellent values, built for service—$2.25

Blouses—Sturdy, fast-colored percales with collars attached. Thoroughly good blouses—75c

Other School Specials

—All-wool Suits with extra knickers...$12.50
—Long-Trouser Suits, extra pants...$27.50
—Wool Caps...$1.00
—Madras Shirts...$1.00

Carlton Shoe & Clothing Co.
36 Whitehall St.

Giving Daddy A Surprise

"DADDY always looks so surprised and glad when I bring him some cold NuGrape—he pretends he don't know I take a wee little sip out of each bottle—says it makes it taste as though it had a little girl's kisses all in it."

"Brother is just crazy for Nu Grape too—I know because my bank don't rattle like it used to. I can't blame brother though—NuGrape is so good."

Genuine bottled NuGrape always has three rings in the bottle's neck.

Look for these rings.

NuGrape

At All Soft Drink
Stands and Founts

5c

NuGrape Company of America
Phone Main 0012

J. P. ALLEN & CO.

49-53
WHITEHALL

Announcing

Autumn Displays of the New Sweater Modes

THE ATHLETIC SWEATER has a distinctive leadership in the college world among a distinguished following of smartly dressed college girls. Shown in the college colors—Tech gold, white, brown, navy, maroon—

$7.50 to $15.00

BEAUTIFUL NEW, LIGHT WEIGHT WEAVE AND MOHAIR SWEATERS

—Every wonderful color of the imagination.
—Every color blend that results in the beautiful.
—Some are enhanced with silk trimmings.
—All are Tuxedo styles—one smart model is illustrated—

$5.95 to $25

Silk Sweaters—

—Very smart black and rich and lovely colors—Tuxedo modes—

$29.50—$35—$39.75

Main Floor

J. P. Allen & Co.

School Shoes

High-grade footwear for school. Our shoes are guaranteed; the customer must be satisfied. Famous "Little Wonder" welt sole brown calfskin shoes at astonishingly low prices. Competent, careful salespeople to serve you.

Sizes 8½ to 11—
with spring heels—

$4.00

Sizes 11½ to 2—spring heels, or low, flat heels—

$4.50

We give particular attention to the needs of the High School girl, the young women who still require low heel shoes for school wear. All widths from A to D, as we can fit any foot correctly.

Sizes 2½ to 7; low, flat rubber heels; stylish pointed toes, or broad foot-form toes—

$5.50

Patent colt one strap pumps, for young women, welt soles, low, flat rubber heels; sizes 2½ to 7; all widths—

$4.95

A complete showing of shoes for infants, babies and small children. Juvenile Shoe Department, Main Floor.

Richie's

WARNER'S SEVEN ACES

(The Atlanta Constitution Orchestra)
THE SOUTH'S GREATEST DANCE ORCHESTRA
For special engagements, address H. B. Warner, Care The Constitution, or telephone Mr. Warner at Henlock 4138-J.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

MONEY OR TIME

A man I know sometimes criticizes his wife because she does not seem to get as much out of the dress allowance as he gives her as he thinks she ought to.

"My sister hasn't as much money as you have," he says, "and look how well she dresses!"

He speaks the truth. The sister does dress better on less money. But he forgets a very important item. The sister has a little less money but she has four times as much time. She has no children and a tiny apartment. His wife has three children, no help and a large house. The time she can snatch for trips to town is very limited and it is always crowded with errands for house and children, leaving her only tag ends of time to spend on herself. And you cannot select a wardrobe that will be smart, becoming, and suitable, in any tag ends of time.

Several Hours a Week.

The sister spends several hours a week in the shops, and all this time is devoted to selecting her gowns, suits, shoes, hats and the little accessories. When I see a woman on the street who looks thoroughly well dressed I often think how much taste and either time or money must have gone into the buying of those clothes. I say time or money because if you have money enough to go into a smart shop and buy all you need there you can cut down your time expenditure. But if you have to shop around to cut down your money expenditure, then the time cost is sure to mount up frightfully.

Two Hours to Spend $3.

Even the simplest little detail of a PICTURE FRAMES made to order—for less BINDER PICTURE FRAME

MANUFACTURING CO.
115 N. Pryor St.

WE SELL FORD CARS
A. L. BELLE ISLE — IVY 507

SIGNOR E. VOLPI GRAND OPERA STUDIO

Voice Culture, Repertoire and Opera Coaching Special Attention Given to Beginners.
423-424 Wesley Memorial Building Phone Ivy 3797

ARTHUR WRIGLEY For County Commissioner From Country

TO THE VOTERS OF FULTON COUNTY:

I entered the race for the position of County Commissioner from the country several weeks ago, with the belief that I could be of service to the people of this County, including the City of Atlanta and the other towns within its borders.

I feel sure from the canvas which I have already made that a large majority of the people in the country districts will support me. Most of them have known me for years as a member of the County School Board, and where those who have been interested in the country schools have had every opportunity to judge of my ability and fair dealings with all sections of the County. This Board, however, has no jurisdiction inside of the City of Atlanta, so in order to further my candidacy, it is necessary for me to bring myself to the attention of the voters in the City through the public papers, as it is impossible, in so large a City, to approach the voters personally with any assurance that I may see a considerable number of them.

I find, also, that my opponent has organized his campaign and his backers are spending money very freely in his behalf. I am also informed that a well-known corporation engaged in road-building and now having several contracts both with the County and the City, and which may be expected to seek them in the future, is also actively backing my opponent. I do not believe that Mr. Johnson would be consciously influenced by this fact, but I do know that I am not the candidate of any private interest of any sort, and, if elected, I shall represent equally every section of the County and City and every citizen thereof.

I favor an economical administration above all things; the lowering of the tax rate, if that be possible; the giving to the City of its fair share of the street work, without being unfair to the country as well. I do business in the City of Atlanta, though my residence is in the country. I have just as much interest in one as the other. I have a good road in front of my place that could not be improved on, and I am seeking no gain for myself in asking for the office. I am no politician, and believe that there are enough voters in Fulton County, including the City of Atlanta, who are sufficiently independent of the politicians, and who desire to be represented by a man without entangling alliances, who intends to administer the office with honesty and faithfulness, to elect me if I am able to make them thoroughly understand the situation.

I therefore respectfully solicit your votes at the Primary to be held on September 13th.

ARTHUR WRIGLEY,
Candidate for County Commissioner From the Country.

HOW TO SAVE WHEN SHOPPING

By Ruth Leigh
Author of "The Human Side of Retail Selling," "The A B C of Retailing," Etc.

With pure, 100 per cent wool blankets rather expensive these days, some housewives are buying blankets known as "union," which is a combination of cotton warp and a wool weft or filling. While, of course, a pure wool blanket is always warmer than one containing some cotton, it should be pointed out that these union blankets are extremely satisfactory and give excellent wear. However, it is important to understand whether or not one is buying a whole wool blanket or one of part cotton.

You can tell if you are buying a union blanket—one with a cotton warp—by studying the edge, or by folding over the blanket and studying the fold. The cotton warp is detectable at the edge—the straight lines of the cotton stand out—or at the fold. In an all-wool blanket folded this way or studied at the edge, you will find crinkly, curly wool fibers, not the straight ones of cotton. Some housewives, in buying blankets, are deceived by what they think is a soft woolly nap on the blanket, or occasionally in better ones, this nap is put in by adding filling on the surface. Often this can be scraped off and the flat surface is visible beneath. If, upon scratching the surface with your fingernail you find that a tufting comes right off, it is likely to be a surface nap.

Tomorrow—some helpful suggestions about buying a good covering. (Copyright, 1922, for The Constitution.)

HUSBAND AND WIFE

HEY MAMMIE!

My wife always borrows my lead pencil and forgets to return it.—Olliver J.

WHAT DOES YOUR WIFE DO? (Copyright, 1922, for The Constitution.)

Birth Rate Drops

As Deaths Increase
In United States

Washington, August 31.—The birth rate is declining and the death rate increasing, according to statistics made public today by the census bureau, covering the first quarter of the year. The birth rate in the states from which comparative figures were available showed an average at 23.3 for each thousand of population in the first three months of 1922, against 25.2 in 1921, while the mortality average in the registration area in the first quarter this year was 13.7 against 12.6 in the same period last year.

North Carolina, with 20.2 reported the highest birth rate for the three months this year, and the state of Washington, with 16.5 the lowest. The District of Columbia had the highest mortality rate, with 17.6, and Wyoming the lowest, with 9.6.

Fair Executive Secretary Keeps Lions Roaring Loud

Mrs. Bailey Johnson, executive secretary, Lions' Club

Since the election of Mrs. Bailey Johnson, of Kirkwood, as executive secretary of the Lions club of Atlanta, that organization has exhibited a new brand of activity that bids fair to place it second to none among the civic organizations of the city. Mrs. Johnson is the first woman executive secretary of a local civic organization. While in high school she studied art under Lewis Gregg; but she has now allowed her work in art to fall off a bit since her interest in civic affairs. Things have been humming around Lions new headquarters ever since she took charge. Upon the opening of the temporary office in the chamber of commerce building, the Lions furnished it with what they termed a furniture shower. Everything that could possibly be used in an office was forthcoming, even down to some flowers, the utility of which is still a mooted question in Lions circles. "Tommy" Tomlinson is also adding his talent in boosting the organization. The Lions meet at luncheon every Wednesday at 1 o'clock in the chamber of commerce dining hall, and there they hold forth the grand keeper of the roar, the supreme twister of the lions' tail, in fact every dignified member of the tribe from the king of the jungle to the youngest whelp has but one thought—the business of the Lions.

The Housewife's Idea Box

To Clean Oil Paintings. It will soon be time to dress up

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Stove Blackening That Sticks. If a small piece of soap is added to the stove blackening it will make it stick to the stove.

Doughnut Baking. When baking doughnuts, a small piece of raw potato dropped into the hot fat will prevent the doughnuts from burning.

Prevent Rusting in Summer. To keep a stove from rusting in summer, cover it with a mixture of raw linseed oil and chalk. When you wish to use the stove remove this compound with turpentine or gasoline.

Successful Meringue. It is well to have a definite recipe for meringue, then it can never fail. Two egg whites, half teaspoonful of vanilla extract, four teaspoonfuls of pulverized sugar and a pinch of salt.

To Brighten Tiles. When the red tiles about the fireplace become dull, rub them with a cut lemon dipped in salt and then wash with soap and water.

The Constitution Patterns

A FAVORITE DRESS FOR THE LITTLE GIRL

4002. The pretty collar is not the only attraction on this dainty frock. The full skirt with becoming tucks, and the cool, comfortable sleeve will please the little wearer. Dotted challenge is here shown with ribbon trimming. The design would be very attractive in embroidered Swiss with binding or piping in a color. The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 4, 6, 8 and 10 years. A 6-year size will require 3 1/4 yards of 36-inch material.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps. In ordering patterns, write name and address plainly on a sheet of paper. Order by number and inclose price in silver or stamps. Do not mail letters to The Constitution building in Atlanta, but address as follows: Fashion Department, The Atlanta Constitution, 1188-9 Fulton Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

your home for the fall. Perhaps your oil paintings are a bit soiled. You can brighten them up by sponging them with lukewarm water. If very much soiled use a little white soap and sponge lightly with a slice of raw potato. (Do not get the back of the painting wet.) Then dry thoroughly.

THE HOUSEWIFE. (Copyright, 1922, for The Constitution.)

DRESS BY ANNE RITTENHOUSE

Top Coats Have Superseded Capes and There is a Strong Return to Enveloping and Ornamental Garments in the Collections Shown to Americans. Beige and Black Lead, With Grey Following Close Behind.

PARIS

The buyers here were astonished to see the sudden revival of the long, large top coat which was a fundamental part of every American's wardrobe for many years. Possibly the cape, long and short, lasted too long to suit the designers and the merchants, but whatever the reason, we are in for a winter of decorative, graceful, and sinuous top coats, which are able to act like charity in covering a multitude of frocks with shortcomings.

Topcoat shown by Paris of seal brown crepe de chine trimmed with black and silver braid in vertical lines. Collar closes in high choker.

The cape persists for evening, and it sometimes vaguely takes the outlines of a loose coat for afternoon costumes, but it is lost in the shuffle of new things that crowd upon us every day. There is no startling revolution in these revived top coats. They do not make an appeal through novelty. They are what they were. And women will be glad of it. Those who brought such garments over here for protective purposes are hugging themselves with delight that their time has come again.

Curiously enough, there is no prodigious hand throwing fur on these garments. The fur coat, especially the Siberian cut, is worn for evening, and the travelers to Switzerland are bringing back to Paris luxurious coats of this type for which they paid $180, less than one pays for a cloth coat at a good house in America.

By the way, the shopping done by us in Austria and Switzerland has no reason to please the French, but the truth must be reckoned with that the Americans here are not spending money on clothes.

Back to coats for our streets, however. The sketch shows one launched by a leading house. It is of brown crepe de chine (no diminution in that material), trimmed with vertical bands built of narrow silver and black braid. It crosses over in front, where it is held by a large buckle.

Molyneux introduced an Indian buckle in black and silver, two discs, that has great merit and distinction, and I hope the buyers will take it home with them. It is the kind of thing that our women like. They can put it wherever an ornament is needed for service or for purely decorative purposes.

The fabrics in these revived long coats are rather light for our bitter days, but they permit interesting. They have more monkey fringe than any other fur. Their immense dollar which wrap about the neck, are usually decorated with primitive designs of the cloth, especially with corals, fine and supple.

Belts are not shown on these garments, nor on the long jackets for suits, and sashes often substitute belts on short coats for street.

THE HOUSEHOLD Edited by Anna Rittenhouse.

SOUP IN SUMMER.

Some people simply strike soup out of their bill of fare in summer. A wiser way is to modify your list of soups, eliminating those that would be tempting in warm weather and adding others that are especially suitable.

In general, the puree type of soup is best restricted to winter. This is the soup thickened with flour, cornstarch or other cereal. The plain milk soup is not so inappropriate for summer, and may be used in the diet of children to advantage. If you have money enough to go into a smart shop and buy all you need there you can cut down your time expenditure. But if you have to shop around to cut down your money expenditure, then the time cost is sure to mount up frightfully.

There is no time like summer for making vegetable soup because of the cheapness of vegetables. Moreover, the well-made vegetable soup is tempting save on extremely warm days. However, it should be made fairly thin. This does not mean that it should be watery, but that there should not be much solid vegetables in it. The experienced cook needs no direction for making vegetable soup. Whatever you use for this type of soup, it is well always to have tomato and a little onion. For the rest you may use the water in which almost any vegetable has been boiled—cabbage, celery, spinach, carrots, etc. Cabbage water makes a rather strongly flavored soup. If you wish any cabbage, it is better to add a few leaves of young cabbage, well shredded, to the soup kettle. It is not necessary to have any meat stock for the vegetable soup when no meat is used. If any meat stock is used it should be thoroughly rid of any suggestion of fat. Beans, potatoes and other starchy vegetables should be used sparingly if at all in the summer soup.

(Copyright, 1922, for The Constitution.)

THE CHEERFUL CHERUB

Like a drum my mind is empty. Never does a new thought come. Yet through life I march unworried, Noisily as any drum.

THE HUB
WILL TRUST YOU!
4 MONTHS TO PAY!
Small First Payment Down The Balance Arranged to Suit

MORE DRESSES

Of the Same Matchless Charm
AT THESE TWO LOW PRICES:
$19.98 A $29.98

Soft Silks, Canton Crepes, Crepe de Chines, Poiret Tuill, in Stunning Models

FOR WOMEN & MISSES

Other Frocks at all Prices

MEN'S DEPT.

YOUNG ULSTERETTES
Handsome models, smartly tailored from $24.50 UP
SUITS, $22.50

Advance Showing

Women's FALL SUITS & MISSES' FALL COATS
READ OUR TERMS

THE HUB
83 Whitehall St.

This Dress $29.98

Open Sat. Eve'gs
Out of town accounts invited

All sport -- leads to thirst

Drink
Coca-Cola
Delicious and Refreshing

5¢

Drink Coca-Cola

The Coca-Cola Company
Atlanta, Ga.

"ARE ALL MEN ALIKE?"

By Arthur Stringer

Author of "The Prairie Wife," "The House of Iniquity," etc.

Continued From Yesterday.

Gerry West Gets Busy and Teddie Writes a Check.

Teddie recoiled three full steps, and stood with her arms straight at her sides and a black rage in her eyes. Gerry's own hands had dropped to his side, and his head fell forward, for all the world like a chryseleum that needed watering.

"O-o-o-o-o!" gasped Teddie, with the most unmistakable accents of loathing and anger in her voice. "Are all men like that?"

"Wait!" called out Gerry, unhelpfully, pleadingly.

But Teddie had no intention of waiting. She withered him with one short look of revulsion, of utter repudiation, wheeled about, and strode out of the office.

Then Gerry West, as though to make up for lost time, exploded into a sudden fury of movement.

He punched the buzzer-button for his stenographer, jerked down the messenger-call lever and caught up the telephone directory with one hand while he possessed himself of the receiver with the other.

"I'll show 'em," he muttered darkly to himself. "I'll show 'em they can't pull that cave-man stuff around my home circle!"

And in half an hour's time he had an ex-pool-roomer from a private detective agency busily shadowing Gunboat Dorgan, and another quiet-moving agent gathering what data he could as to the physical disabilities of Raoul Uhlman, and an expedition clerk from the outer office confirming the address and movements of a certain Miss Ruby Reamer.

Then, having started these wheels into motion, he hurriedly looked up a point or two of law, consulted his watch, and called up Louis Lipsett, of The Star, at the Press club.

"Louis," he said over the wire, "I've got a great news story for you."

"Good!" promptly announced the other.

"Yes, it's so good, in fact, that you've got to come and help me kill it in the bud."

"Now, the one thing that Avenue-robin Uhlman can't stand, the one thing he doesn't want, in all this, is print in his ink," Gerry West wound up.

"So it's up to us to give him what he's afraid of. It's up to us to hold a full-page Sunday story over his fat head."

"I want you to go right up to him as a reporter from The Star, with every detail I've given you. I want you to let him see just what it'll look like when it's unrolled, the entire unsavory story."

"And if he isn't sending a hurry-call in for the soft pedal before you're out of the elevator I'll buy The Star and give it to you to play with when you've got writer's cramp in the coccy."

"And supposing our Romeo doesn't weaken?"

"He can't help it. But if he's crazy enough not to, I'll bring Gunboat Dorgan up there myself. And if that doesn't turn the trick, I'll call the rotter out myself and give him what he deserves. And if that doesn't work, I'll put a bullet into him!"

"The man from The Star office smiled a bit warily."

"Say, Gerry, doesn't this strike you as going pretty far for a mere client?"

"A mere client?" echoed the other. "A mere client?" he repeated as he looked his confederate straight in the eye. "She's a darned sight more than that. She's the girl, please God, that I'm going to marry!"

"Then let's get busy," suggested Gerry as he reached for his hat and coat, after a moment's talk over the wire.

"They've got to write for me, and the sooner we have our pow-wow the better!"

Teddie was beginning to see, as she felt seismic undulations in what she had so foolishly accepted as bedrock, that her home-life had perhaps stood for more than she imagined.

So she promptly stopped in at the Waldorf telegraph desk and sent a message to her Uncle Chandler at Hot Springs.

"Please wire my banker," she said "eleven thousand dollars without delay or foolish questions, as it is urgent. Lovingly, Teddie."

Her Uncle Chandler, after frowning for a full hour over this unexpected message, now too willingly wired instructions for eleven thousand dollars to be placed to the credit of his niece.

Then, after still another hour of troubled thought, he sent a day-letter off to old Commodore Stillman at the Nasturtium club, explaining that he had reason to believe that Theodore was in some sort of trouble and requesting him to drop quietly down to the girl's studio and have a look around to see just what was wrong.

And the Commodore, instead of being upset by this calamitous intimation of beauty in distress, adjusted his cravat and stopped it at Thorley's for the insertion of a Richmond rose-bud in the button-hole of his right-hand lapel.

Then he toddled blithely down to the wilds of Greenwich Village, where he arrived at Teddie's studio just in time to see an urbane old gentleman pocket, with an air of quiet but unqualified satisfaction, a narrow slip of paper which looked remarkably like a bank check.

Even Teddie herself, he finally ventured, ought to marry.

"No young whippersnapper, mind you," discreetly qualified the old Commodore, "but some older and steadier man who knows the world and its ways, a man to be relied on in times of trouble, a man who'd be a harbor of refuge when the seas got to kicking up a bit!"

But this didn't seem to impress Teddie as he had hoped it would.

"I've seen all I want of men," she announced with unexpected passion. "I despise them, the whole pack of them!"

Teddie's unhappiness so melted the heart of the benignant old Commodore that he took her hand and stroked it as he talked to her.

And so gratified was he to see even the ghost of a grim little smile about her lips that a paternally commiserative impulse prompted him to stoop down and kiss the magnolia-white cheek!

So intent, indeed, had he been on his contemplation of this white cheek faintly shot through with its shell-pink, that the door had opened and a third person had stepped into the studio without his being conscious of the fact. And it was the voice of this intruder, more than Teddie's sudden recoil of startled wonder, that promptly brought the Commodore to attention.

"So he's doing it, too!" called out Gunboat Dorgan, with a quaver of incredulity in his young voice. Whereupon he threw down his hat and advanced slowly toward the table end.

"Say it quickly," the princefighter commanded. "D'uh want me to knock his block off?"

"No, no," cried Teddie, already on her feet. "There's been too much of that already!"

"I want to talk to you!" she said, with great deliberation. And she made that announcement with such an unlooked-for note of masterfulness that, unimpressed as it left the newcomer, it rather bewildered the old Commodore.

"And I guess I gotta careful or two to unload to yuh!" countered Gunboat, betraying that he was laboring under an excitement which more recent events had only temporarily eclipsed.

"I came here to find out what right a law-sharp named West has got to take that car of yours away from me. I wantta know what call he's got to load Ruby up wit' a lot o' talk about me goin' to state's prison."

"It's been very kind of you, I'm sure," she said, in a voice of laboriously achieved patience, "but you can't possibly help me, and you can't possibly do any good by remaining here. So if you'll permit, Mr. Dorgan and me to talk this quietly over, by ourselves—"

"You are requesting me to leave you?" her would-be benefactor inquired, as he reached for his hat.

"You must," announced Teddie. "Then permit me, Miss Hayden," said the other with dignity, "to bid not only you, but also your—your professional boxer, a good afternoon."

And the old Commodore buttoned his coat and took his departure and dispatched a none too carefully worded message to Uncle Chandler in Hot Springs, announcing that things looked very dark indeed, and that Theodore seemed to be mixed up with a young prizefighter by the name of Dorgan, and suggesting that the sooner Theodore's uncle could get back to the city the better it might be for all concerned.

Teddie, alone with her irate young prizefighter, turned and regarded him with studiously narrowed eyes.

"Now, what do you want to know?" she quietly demanded.

She felt oddly and immeasurably older than she had felt only one short week ago.

"I want to know who's playin' double in this mix-up," Gunboat Dorgan promptly asserted.

"I've just paid Raoul Uhlman $22,000 as compensation for his injuries," explained Teddie, as coolly as she was able.

Gunboat Dorgan felt back gaped a little, and then swallowed hard.

"Yuh paid—yuh paid that mutt—that money—for—for what he'd get rotter out myself and give him what he deserves. And if that doesn't work, I'll put a bullet into him!"

"I'm going to make that studio-lit come across with a bang," cried Teddie, harboring a strangely muddled up and reluctant admiration for the just paid Raoul Uhlman, the Saint Anthony light in his blazing blue eyes.

"Of course yuh don't. The thing's got yuh buffaloes the same as yuh got me buffaloes," proclaimed the knight of the ring.

Teddie tried to stop him as he turned away.

"Nothin' doing!" he proclaimed, with his movie hero side-movement of the hand. "I'm Irish, I am, and me Irish is up. Yuh're goin' to see this good bit on a month-gag, or yuh're goin' to see crape swingin' over his door mat!"

"It's no use," Teddie still tried to tell him. "It's too late. It will only make things much worse than they already are."

But Gunboat Dorgan hadn't been crowned with that sobriquet of beligerency without fit and proper reason.

"I'm wise to this layout now," he announced from the doorway, "and I'm goin' to have a hand in winnin' it up. It's no use tryin' to flag me off. And I ain't sayin' yuh're a quitter, for yuh're only a girl. But yuh don't see me layin' down in the shute wit' a thing like this under me nose. I'm goin' through wit' this, and nobody's goin' to stop me. And maybe this'll square up a little for—for them lamps o' yours I put on the blink!"

Continued Tomorrow.
(Copyright, 1922, for The Constitution.)

Washington Seminary

Its College Preparatory Course.

A greater number of girls each year are fitting themselves ultimately to enter some of the Class A colleges. For years Washington Seminary has maintained a special college preparatory course.

On completion of this course, the students are accredited at the leading colleges, such as Vassar, Wellesley, Agnes Scott, Smith, Hopkins, Randolph-Macon, Goucher, etc., to all of which institutions a number of our students have gone.

For illustrated catalogue address L. D. & E. B. Scott, principals, 1374 Peachtree road, or phone Hemlock 0207.—(adv.)

Then he toddled blithely down to the wilds of Greenwich Village, where he arrived at Teddie's studio just in time to see an urbane old gentleman pocket, with an air of quiet but unqualified satisfaction, a narrow slip of paper which looked remarkably like a bank check.

Even Teddie herself, he finally ventured, ought to marry.

"No young whippersnapper, mind you," discreetly qualified the old Commodore, "but some older and steadier man who knows the world and its ways, a man to be relied on in times of trouble, a man who'd be a harbor of refuge when the seas got to kicking up a bit!"

But this didn't seem to impress Teddie as he had hoped it would.

"I've seen all I want of men," she announced with unexpected passion. "I despise them, the whole pack of them!"

Teddie's unhappiness so melted the heart of the benignant old Commodore that he took her hand and stroked it as he talked to her.

And so gratified was he to see even the ghost of a grim little smile about her lips that a paternally commiserative impulse prompted him to stoop down and kiss the magnolia-white cheek!

BEAUTY CHATSFACE CREAMS.

There are very few complexions that are not greatly benefited by applications of good creams. In the big cities, or manufacturing districts, the air is filled with sooty particles that settle upon the skin. Ordinary cleansing with soap and water will not remove this soil where a cream will as it can be worked into the pores dislodging these particles. There are virtues in the use of cream for a massage—since the oils nourish, keeping the skin youthful and elastic—that mean less tendency to form lines.

As people advance in years the oils in the body are being absorbed, which is the reason for so many skins shriveling. Such people should use cold cream liberally. It is the thin, nervous, energetic woman who is apt to age in this way unless she feeds both her skin and her body generously.

Her cream should be made from the best vegetable oils, since they are both nourishing and cleansing. Of course, there is no harm in using the cleansing cream for its own purpose, but it has very little in it for nourishment. The stout woman does not need the same amount of cream as the thin one but she cannot neglect the cleansing process. During the hot season the cleansing cream is of the greatest need. In this there is often no vegetable oil to fatten, and the bulk is comprised of a mineral oil which only acts as a lubricant. This makes a good cream for those inclined to oily skins.

Vanishing creams have their uses since they produce a temporary effect of softness. I do not think, however, they are a good choice for constant use as they close the pores, retaining whatever soil there is on the skin.

Watchful—Rosy cheeks are natural to some types. If you are healthy and still do not have these coveted attractions, it is because it is not in your nature to acquire them. The Irish and English types are most likely to have the rosy cheeks, but they would not always be suited to other types. For instance, the olive skin which is milky clear, would be spoiled if color was added to it.

W. V. R.—To have lost your entire head of hair in a few weeks must be the result of some very serious trouble to have brought on such a shocking condition. It would be impossible to advise without knowing more particulars, but you should continue with your doctors. They must be helpful since you are having some encouragement through a new hair growth that is beginning to show in small spots.

Tomorrow—Home Physical Culture."PEGGY"
A New Arrival at THE ELIZABETH MATHER

An innovation at THE ELIZABETH MATHER when school opens for the fall term, September 12, will be the new and already famous desk called "Peggy," with which the Kindergarten will be equipped. The inventor is Mrs. Vernon Watkins. Her desks have been in great demand in private homes as well as kindergartens, and they are indeed a delight to the little tots.

The desk receives its name from the pegs used in making pictures and construction work, and is a splendid instrument in developing the creative powers of a child's mind and teaching him facility with his hands.

"Bobbie," our Miss Bessie Duke Small, expert costume designer, is designing gowns for one of the popular actresses at the Forsyth. She will be with us this year to conduct classes in this interesting art.

Registration begins September 7. Register early, for enrollment is limited. For full particulars, write or phone Blanche Groebec Loveridge, Th.D., 65 E. Fourteenth street, Hemlock 5295.—(adv.)

WOMAN'S ILLS MAKE UNHAPPY HOME

There is no question but what the ills of women conspire against domestic harmony. The husband cannot understand these troubles and the physician finds it hard to cure them; therefore the overworked wife and mother continues to drag around day in and day out with headaches and backache, fretful and nervous.

Such women should be guided by the experience of women whose letters we are continually publishing in this paper. Many of them declare that they have been restored to health, strength and consequent happiness by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for the distressed young fire-eater who is spoiled if color was added to it.

W. V. R.—To have lost your entire head of hair in a few weeks must be the result of some very serious trouble to have brought on such a shocking condition. It would be impossible to advise without knowing more particulars, but you should continue with your doctors. They must be helpful since you are having some encouragement through a new hair growth that is beginning to show in small spots.

Two-Pants School Suits

—A Special at $10

"Are they all wool?" you ask. Indeed they are—we handle no other kind. The famous Johnny Tuptans included. No better clothes built!

Ready! The New Sweaters

They're ALL WOOL, too. Pullover and coat styles in school colors and combinations. Ages 8 to 18 years$5.75

Juvenile Sweaters for little fellows of 2 to 6; white, pink, turquoise, brown, oxford buff. All wool, of course$3.75

THE BOYS' SHOP

6 Whitehall Street

A delightful daily health beverage

Pure Ginger from Jamaica combined with Pure Mineral Water from a spring flowing 2,600 feet above the level of the sea is the secret of flavor and goodness in

WAS-COTT GINGER ALE

Was-Cott Ginger Ale is good for children as well as grown-ups. It has a refreshing quality that never palls. It costs no more to get the best.

Order Was-Cott Ginger Ale from your retail Grocer or Druggist.

H. L. SINGER COMPANY
WHOLESALE DISTRIBUTORS
—Main 6194—

"Always on hand if bought by the case."

Agnes Scott Opening

Agnes Scott College will open its next session on September 13th. While there has been a waiting list for dormitory space since February 1st, applications are still being accepted for the "Honor List." Details will be furnished on request.

The day student registration is the heartiest in the history of the College and is rapidly nearing our limit. No student can be accepted on this list until the admission certificate is complete. For blanks write or telephone the College.

F. H. GAINES, President, Decatur, Ga. (Adv.)

AT WOMAN'S WINDOW

BY W. L. GEORGE

Have you noticed that many girls buy an expensive hat and that they perch it on top of hair which would provide a suitable asylum for the nestling bird? Have you observed that under a pair of white kid gloves, over which are drawn several bracelets, lie hands which have not been washed since lunch and need it badly? I am sure that many girls have noticed a tendency in ribbons to appear where they are not wanted, of lace to precipitate itself suddenly through unexpected apertures, and the cussedness of shoes the top of which seems to select in the street the one lump of dirt that happens to be there. I am sure they have noticed these things in others.

It is extraordinary how tender one is to oneself, how one tells oneself that it doesn't matter. What a girl really means when she says it won't matter is that she can't be bothered. At the back of that hangs a vast conceit in whose shadow she moves as under the wings of a condor; she feels so charming that she can afford to take risks. In fact, no girl can afford to take risks. First of all the competition is terrific. Secondly, if anything is wrong in her appearance, that is the thing which will weigh upon her consciously; the result will not be unconscious, but self-conscious. Lastly, the one thing wrong is just the thing that will be noticed. For the good she will get no credit. It seems to me that a habit of mind must be contracted by a girl. She is absurd if she never does. I feel that she needs two minutes' solitude every hour, with a mirror and a brush and a cake of soap. Let her look for something wrong. It will not be long before she finds it.

The Home in Good Taste

BY HAROLD DONALDSON EBERLEIN

Joint Author of "Practical Book of Interior Decoration," Etc.

No. 58—Queen Anne Wing Chairs.

Comfort was the keynote of Queen Anne furniture, and especially in the chairs of the period. It is called a wing chair because of the wings or projections that extend forward from the top of the back and were meant for two purposes—for the occupant of the chair to lean his or her head against, and, secondly, to keep off draughts.

These chairs had the same cabriole legs before referred to, and also a shaped apron beneath the front of the seat, the shaping sometimes continuing around the sides. In some cases, however, the aprons were made with cut shaping. The top of the back was shaped or arched with cyma curves as already explained, and the upholstered arms were rolled over and curved outward in front. These armchairs were comfortably upholstered on seat, back and arms and were covered with the velvets, brocades or neepest of the period, or else with some of the less expensive but equally beautiful printed linens and chintzes. Another type of Queen Anne upholstered armchair had a low, straight-topped back without wings. Many of these Queen Anne chairs are being successfully reproduced and may be warmly recommended for general use. (Copyright, 1922, for The Constitution.)

The Problem of His School Clothes

Is Made Easy Here

First of All

His Suit

These Suits at $10.00

With Two Pair Pants
Are Truly Fine Values
Sizes 6 to 17

Knickerbocker suits, sturdy, well-made garments—all-wool, of course—lined with striped mohair. Both pair pants are full lined and seams are taped.

Belted coats with pleat in back. Tweeds, Homespuns and Chevrons, in greys, browns and tans—light or dark shades.

Also corduroy suits in brown.

Other Boy Needs are here in abundance and at equally good price-savings.

Tub suits, hats, caps, sweaters, pajamas, trousers, shirts, ties, hose, underwear—everything for completely outfitting the boy for Fall.

Boys' Section—Main Floor

Unusually Good Values
Knitted Ties at 50c

These fiber silk knitted ties for boys are especially attractive—so many pretty new weaves and color combinations.

They offer the best of looks and wearing qualities to be had at a modest price.

A Sale of Children's Sox Offers Regular 35c Sox at 18c

Men's Pajamas in a Clearance Sale
At $1.00

Mercerized Lisle of fine quality in very great variety.

White, black and solid shades of pink, blue, brown, yellow and other colors.

Also white and colored sox with fancy woven tops of every description—all colors in stripes and checks of fancy weave.

Section of Juvenile Hosiery

Regular $1.69 and $2.00 garments.

These are slightly soiled from showing—all regular stock and mostly regular $2.00 pajamas. Domestic, in white, pink, blue and corn color, with silk frogs. Percale in white with stripes of black or color.

Men's Wear—Front

CHAMBERLIN-JOHNSON-DuBOISE CO.

The Constitution's Novel-a-Week

The Beloved Traitor

BY FRANK L. PACKARD

Next Week, "The Quest of Alistair"
By Robert Allison Hood

Continued From Yesterday.

He folded the note, placed it in an envelope, addressed it to Henry Bliss, and pinned it to the sleeve of his ulster. Then taking up both the ulster and the bundle he had made, and leaving the light turned on, he went to the outer cabin door, opened it cautiously and peered out. There was no one in sight. He opened the door wide, marked the spot where the light from the room lay across the ship's rail; then, stepping out he closed the door softly behind him. He crept across the deck to the rail and hurled the bundle with all his strength far out over the ship's side. The next instant he laid the ulster upon the deck beside the rail. It was perhaps fastidious in a suicide to remove his ulster, but the light from his room when the door was opened, would shine upon the white paper pinned on the sleeve.

"Marie-Louise! Marie-Louise!"—like a prayer, softly, he breathed her name; and, thrilled, eager, his blood afire, he turned from the rail, and ran to the deck companionway. Then he stopped to assure himself that the saloon passengers were still avoiding the wet, unsheltered portion of the deck beneath; and then, descending quickly, he stole across the deck space below, gained the second ladder, and, boldly now, but with the swift agility born of the fishing days of Bernays-sur-Mer, swung himself down to the steering deck. And here, almost leisurely, he turned, and, seeking the darkest shadow, stood motionless. Surely she was still here! Yes—who was that, whose form he could just make out in the darkness at the ship's side far along the deck?

He moved quickly, still keeping in the shadows, until he reached the side of the ship furthest from the ladder by which he had descended, and then stepped out across the deck. And now—was she sure! Her back was turned, and, as before, she was leaning over the ship's side, but—it was Marie-Louise!

He halted a yard away from her, trembling with an emotion that brought a strange weakness to his limbs, and reached out his arms—her name quivering, low and passionate, upon his lips.

"Marie-Louise!"

She turned sharply, in a frightened, startled way, and for a moment stared at him; and then, even in the darkness, he could see her face grow death-white, while her hand groped blindly out behind her for support.

"Dead!" she whispered. "I was praying to the bon Dieu for you, Jean. And now you are dead, and you have come to me."

"Aye," he cried blunderingly in his joy. "Aye, that is true, Marie-Louise! Jean Laparde is dead!"

She moaned a little, and shrank back, and pressed her hands to her face.

"Dead!" she whispered again. "You are dead, Jean, and you have come to me."

She was swaying as he caught her in his arms. Fool, accursed fool, that he had not understood!

"No, No; Marie-Louise, cherie, ma beinnee!" he said tenderly. "See, are my arms not real about you? See, it is I, it really is I! It is not death, it is love that has brought me!"

"It seemed as though for a space she were in a faint, so white her face was, so quiet she lay; and then her hand felt out and touched his shoulder, and his face, and his hair in a wondering, hesitant, incredulous way. Her lips moved.

"You—you are like Jean as he used to be before he went away to the grand monde!"

He bent his head, and laid his cheek against her cheek.

"Yes, Marie-Louise," he said softly. "And now I shall always be that Jean. Try very hard not to understand, little one! See, I am back again—for always—for always—and I will never go away from you any more!"

"Yes," she said, in a low, dead voice, "and you—you were lying there on the floor, Jean—Monsieur Valmain said so. And afterwards, Mademoiselle Bliss said so too."

"Monsieur Valmain! Myrna! The others too—they all saw you there! They knew! Ah!"—he cried, a gathering fury in his voice. "Ah, I begin to understand Myrna's sudden desire for a voyage to America! There was to be no chance that we should meet, you and I, Marie-Louise! Nom dieu, I begin to see—many things! And you, meanwhile—how did she get rid of you? She made you leave Paris, eh?"

"It was not mademoiselle who made me," she answered. "It was sick for a little while, and then I went away, but you must go back to France—and to your work."

"Marie-Louise!"—it was like some panic fear at his heart. "Marie-Louise—you do not mean that?"

"There is no other way," she said. "It was so grand and big, Jean, for you to do what you have done tonight—but there is tomorrow. Jean, dear Jean, in your great loving impulse you have not counted that. You could not live without the world you have come to know."

"You do not believe me?"—it was like some cruel amazement upon him. "It is because I will not let you spoil your life that I am going," she said slowly.

She was gone! He stood there in a numb way. Go back—and leave Marie-Louise! He would not go back!

"How are you getting along with your first auto, Paul?"

"FINE, RAYMOND—FINE."

"NO TROUBLE, THEY?"

"YOU SHOULD HAVE SEEN ME WHEN GOT OUT FROM UNDER IT LAST NIGHT—"

"SURE! NOW IT'LL LOOK NICE IF IT TURNS TURTLE."

"WHAT? DUSTED OFF THE BOTTOM OF YOUR CAR?"

"THAT WAS ALL RIGHT, WASN'T IT?"

"SURE! NOW IT'LL LOOK NICE IF IT TURNS TURTLE."

"NAW, I DUSTED IT ALL OFF UNDERNEATH."

"WERE YOU GREASING IT?"

Being blind is no drawback to Miss Grace E. Keator, of New York, who, in spite of her incapacity, is able to take 80 words a minute by stenography.

Adelle P. Hughes, of Cleveland, Ohio, has the distinction of being the only woman manager of a symphony orchestra in America.

Radio broadcasting is just beginning in Great Britain.

THE GUMPS—THE PEOPLE'S CHOICE

THE COMMITTEE THAT CALLED ON ANDREW GUMP REQUESTING HIM TO RUN FOR CONGRESS ON AN INDEPENDENT TICKET HAVE RETURNED WITH SUFFICIENT NAMES TO ASSURE HIS CANDIDACY—

HELLO CONGRESSMAN—

He would never go back. Tomorrow, aye, and the tomorrow all through life, Marie-Louise would find him there!

He raised his head suddenly. High above on that upper deck there was confusion—and from the bridge shrilled an officer's whistle. Then, from

MR. GUMP, WE HAVE MORE THAN SUFFICIENT SIGNATURES TO PLACE YOUR NAME ON THE BALLOT AND WHILE WE KNEW YOU WERE POPULAR NEVER IN OUR WILDEST DREAMS DID WE REALIZE HOW ENTHUSIASTICALLY THE PEOPLE WOULD WELCOME YOUR CANDIDACY— NOW WE ARE READY TO BEGIN— WE NEED CAMPAIGN LITERATURE AND MUST OPEN HEADQUARTERS— THIS WILL NECESSITATE AN EXPENDITURE OF ABOUT $10000 TO START WITH—

THAT'S VERY SATISFACTORY TO ME, GENTLEMEN, AND WHILE I DON'T CARE TO SPEND MY ENTIRE FORTUNE I'M IN THIS THING TO THE FINISH AND I'LL SHOW YOU YOUR NEXT CONGRESSMAN IS NO PIKER— I'LL FINANCE MY OWN CAMPAIGN— I'LL BE 100% FOR THE PEOPLE— I'LL WEAR NO MAN'S COLLAR—

NOW BEE WHAT YOU HAVE DONE— I'LL BET YOU NEVER WOULD HAVE HAD YOUR HAIR BOBBED IF YOU'D KNOWN THAT YOU WOULD BE THE WIFE OF A CONGRESSMAN— BOBBED HAIR AT A WHITEHOUSE RECEPTION WOULD BE JUST LIKE A SILK HAT ON A BELL DIVER—

SOMEBODY'S STENOG—Morning Exercises at Camp Cam O'Flage

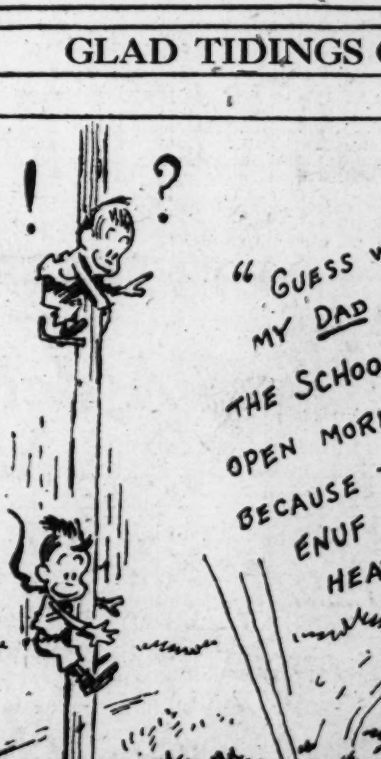

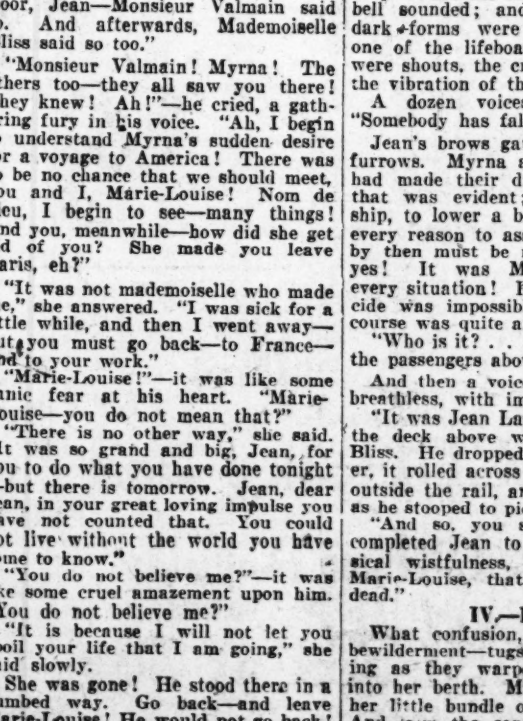

HOME, SWEET HOME—Bam!

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER

The Trip Home A Success

GLAD TIDINGS OF GREAT JOY

Being blind is no drawback to Miss Grace E. Keator, of New York, who, in spite of her incapacity, is able to take 80 words a minute by stenography.

Adelle P. Hughes, of Cleveland, Ohio, has the distinction of being the only woman manager of a symphony orchestra in America.

Radio broadcasting is just beginning in Great Britain.

Being blind is no drawback to Miss Grace E. Keator, of New York, who, in spite of her incapacity, is able to take 80 words a minute by stenography.

Adelle P. Hughes, of Cleveland, Ohio, has the distinction of being the only woman manager of a symphony orchestra in America.

Radio broadcasting is just beginning in Great Britain.

Being blind is no drawback to Miss Grace E. Keator, of New York, who, in spite of her incapacity, is able to take 80 words a minute by stenography.

Adelle P. Hughes, of Cleveland, Ohio, has the distinction of being the only woman manager of a symphony orchestra in America.

Radio broadcasting is just beginning in Great Britain.

Being blind is no drawback to Miss Grace E. Keator, of New York, who, in spite of her incapacity, is able to take 80 words a minute by stenography.

Adelle P. Hughes, of Cleveland, Ohio, has the distinction of being the only woman manager of a symphony orchestra in America.

Radio broadcasting is just beginning in Great Britain.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Boston Wins Two.
Boston, August 31.—Boston took both games from Philadelphia today, 5 to 4 and 7 to 2. Roster's single in the eighth inning of the first game scored two runs and in the ninth he went back to the wall and pulled down Pinch-hitter. Peters' terrific drive for the concluding out.

FIRST GAME.

The Box Score.

PHILA.	ab.	r.	h.	po.	a.	e.
Mohr, cf.	5	0	0	2	1	0
Williams, cf.	4	1	1	4	0	0
Walker, rf.	4	2	1	0	0	0
Hendline, c.	2	1	1	2	0	0
Parkinson, 2b.	2	0	1	1	2	0
Leslie, 1b.	3	0	1	12	0	0
Meadows, p.	4	0	2	0	4	0
xLee, p.	1	0	0	0	0	0
xPeters, p.	1	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	35	4	10	24	11	3

xLee for Williams in 9th.

xxBatted for Walker in 9th.

BOSTON.

ab.	r.	h.	po.	a.	e.
Powell, cf.	3	1	1	4	0
Kopf, 2b.	4	1	5	2	0
Walker, rf.	4	2	1	0	0
Roser, lf.	3	0	1	0	0
Barbare, 3b.	4	0	1	1	0
Gibson, 1b.	4	0	6	0	0
Ford, ss.	3	0	1	3	0
O'Neill, c.	3	0	0	4	1
Marquard, p.	3	0	0	1	0
Totals	31	5	7	21	11

Score by innings:

Philadelphia.....012 000 010-4

Boston.....300 000 02-5

Summary—Two-base hit, Williams; sacrifices, Hendline, Roser, Leslie;

double plays, Ford, Kopf and Gibson;

left on bases, Philadelphia 9, Boston

4; base on balls, off Meadows 1, Mar-

quard 3; struck out by Meadows 2,
Marquard 3; wild pitch, Meadows
umpire, McCormick and Emslie.
Time, 1:45.

SECOND GAME.

The Box Score.

PHILA.	ab.	r.	h.	po.	a.	e.
Rapp, 3b.	3	0	0	1	2	0
Pletcher, ss.	3	1	0	2	1	0
Williams, cf.	4	0	1	4	0	0
Walker, rf.	3	0	0	0	0	0
Parkinson, 2b.	4	0	0	3	6	3
Lee, lf.	4	1	2	3	0	0
Leslie, 1b.	3	0	2	8	0	0
Fetis, c.	4	0	1	3	1	0
Winters, p.	3	0	1	0	5	0
xWrightstone, p.	1	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	32	2	7	24	15	6

xxBatted for Winters in 9th.

BOSTON.

ab.	r.	h.	po.	a.	e.
Powell, cf.	5	0	1	1	0
Kopf, 2b.	4	1	2	4	0
Walker, rf.	4	2	1	0	0
Roser, lf.	5	1	1	0	1
Barbare, 3b.	5	1	2	4	1
Gibson, 1b.	4	2	2	1	0
Ford, ss.	3	0	2	1	6
O'Neill, c.	4	0	1	3	0
McNamara, p.	1	0	0	1	0
Oeschger, p.	2	0	0	0	0
xChristenbury, p.	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	37	7	11	27	13

xxBatted for McNamara in 3d.

Score by innings:

Philadelphia.....011 000 000-2

Boston.....002 010 40-7

Summary—Two-base hits Lee, Leslie, Peters, Ford. Three-base hits

Williams, Roser, Gibson. Stolen base

Leslie, Gibson. Sacrifices, Rapp,

Ford, Gibson. Double play, Parkinson to Fletcher. Left on base, Philadelphia 7, Boston 11. Base on balls Winters 3; McNamara 1;

Oeschger 1. Struck out by Winters 3,

Oeschger 4. Hits off McNamara 4 in

3, Oeschger 3 in 6. Winning pitcher

Oeschger. Umpires Hart and Rigler.

Time 1:55.

Giants Lose to Dodgers.

Brooklyn, August 31.—Brooklyn made it two straight from the National league leaders today, winning 7 to 4. The Dodgers knocked Jesse Barnes out of the box in the third inning and the Giants chased Sherry Smith in the seventh. Manauzo, who relieved Smith, retired the Giants without a hit in the last three in-

The Box Score.

NEW YORK	ab.	r.	h.	po.	a.	e.
Baer, 1b.	5	0	1	0	5	0
Grub, 3b.	5	0	1	3	0	0
Frisch, 2b.	5	2	3	1	3	0
Meusel, lf.	4	0	2	4	0	0
Young, rf.	3	1	1	4	0	0
Kelly, 1b.	4	1	2	9	1	0
Cunningham, cf.	3	0	1	3	1	0
Stengel, cf.	1	0	0	0	0	0
Snyder, c.	3	0	1	0	0	0
J. Barnes, p.	1	0	0	0	0	0
Jonnard, p.	1	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	36	4	12	24	10	0

xxBatted for Jonnard in 8th.

BROOKLYN.

ab.	r.	h.	po.	a.	e.
Olson, 2b.	4	1	1	3	1
Johnson, ss.	4	1	2	6	0
Wheat, lf.	4	1	2	3	0
Myers, cf.	4	0	1	2	0
Richman, 1b.	4	0	1	0	0
Hibb, 3b.	4	0	1	0	0
Miller, c.	4	1	2	3	0
S. Smith, p.	3	2	2	0	0
Manauzo, p.	1	0	1	0	0
Totals	35	7	13	27	11

Score by innings:

New York.....000 100 000-3

Brooklyn.....000 003 100-7

Summary—Two-base hits Johnson,

Wheat, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

Johnson, Johnson, Johnson, Johnson,

quard 3; struck out by Meadows 2,
Marquard 3; wild pitch, Meadows
umpire, McCormick and Emslie.
Time, 1:45.

The Box Score.

WASHINGTON	ab.	r.	h.	po.	a.	e.
Rice, cf.	4	0	1	1	0	0
Harris, 2b.	4	0	0	3	2	0
Judge, 1b.	3	1	0	10	1	0
Goslin, lf.	4	0	1	4	0	0
Brower, rf.	3	0	2	4	1	0
Gharriy, c.	3	0	2	2	1	0
Peckinpaugh, ss.	4	0	0	2	2	0
Lamotte, 3b.	3	0	2	0	3	0
Mogridge, p.	3	0	1	2	0	0
Totals	31	1	8	24	12	0

NEW YORK.

ab.	r.	h.	po.	a.	e.
Witt, cf.	4	0	0	4	0
Dugan, 3b.	4	1	1	2	1
Ruth, rf.	3	0	0	0	1
Pipp, lf.	4	1	1	1	1
Schlag, c.	1	0	0	0	0
Meusel, lf.	2	1	0	0	0
Ward, 2b.	2	0	1	5	3
Scott, ss.	2	0	0	5	0
Bush, p.	2	0	0	1	3
Totals	25	3	4	27	14

Score by innings:

Washington.....000 100 000-3

New York.....021 000 00-3

Summary—Two-base hits Witt,

Dugan, Dugan, Dugan, Dugan,

Dugan, Dugan, Dugan, Dugan,

Dugan, Dugan, Dugan, Dugan,

Dugan, Dugan, Dugan, Dugan,

Dugan, Dugan, Dugan, Dugan,

Dugan, Dugan, Dugan, Dugan,

Dugan, Dugan, Dugan, Dugan,

Dugan, Dugan, Dugan, Dugan,

Dugan, Dugan, Dugan, Dugan,

Dugan, Dugan, Dugan, Dugan,

Dugan, Dugan, Dugan, Dugan,

Dugan, Dugan, Dugan, Dugan,

Dugan, Dugan, Dugan, Dugan,

Dugan, Dugan, Dugan, Dugan,

Dugan, Dugan, Dugan, Dugan,

Dugan, Dugan, Dugan, Dugan,

Dugan, Dugan, Dugan, Dugan,

Dugan, Dugan, Dugan, Dugan,

Constitution Want Ads Take the Tragedy Out of the Servant's Quitting, the Secretary Getting Married, or the Need for Larger Business Place

RAILROAD SCHEDULES

Schedules as Information (Central Standard Time.)

Atlanta Terminal Station

Arrive—A. & W. P. R. R. Leaves
8:15 pm. Condon-Flintville. 7:30 am.
9:30 am. Brunswick-Wyckoff. 7:30 am.
9:30 am. Tifton-Macon. 7:30 am.
9:30 am. Milledgeville. 7:30 am.

Arrive—Savannah-Albany

8:30 am. Savannah-Albany. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Albany-Savannah. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Albany-Savannah. 7:30 am.

Arrive—Seaboard-Albany

8:30 am. Seaboard-Albany. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Albany-Seaboard. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Albany-Seaboard. 7:30 am.

Arrive—Southern Railway

8:30 am. Southern Railway. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Southern Railway. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Southern Railway. 7:30 am.

Arrive—Atlantic Coast

8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.

Arrive—Atlantic Coast

8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.

Arrive—Atlantic Coast

8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.

Arrive—Atlantic Coast

8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.

Arrive—Atlantic Coast

8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.

Arrive—Atlantic Coast

8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.

Arrive—Atlantic Coast

8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.

Arrive—Atlantic Coast

8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.

Arrive—Atlantic Coast

8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.

Arrive—Atlantic Coast

8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.

Arrive—Atlantic Coast

8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.

Arrive—Atlantic Coast

8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.

Arrive—Atlantic Coast

8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.

Arrive—Atlantic Coast

8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.

Arrive—Atlantic Coast

8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.

Arrive—Atlantic Coast

8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.

Arrive—Atlantic Coast

8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.
8:30 am. Atlantic Coast. 7:30 am.

MONEY—On Real Estate

Atlanta Trust Company

PRUDENTIAL INSURANCE COMPANY OF AMERICA

OFFERS money secured by business property or residences in Atlanta and suburbs on five year terms from $1,000 up. Will loan from 50 to 60 per cent of appraised value.

STRAIGHT loans at lowest rates. INSTALLMENT loans at 8 per cent simple interest.

213 Atlanta Trust Co. Bldg. PHONE WA 1011.

CHARLES BLAKE, Vice President

MARIE W. CAULFIELD, Mgr. Loan Dept.

RESIDENTIAL LOANS

WE specialize in real estate loans on residential properties.

LOANS delivered immediately.

NO unpleasant details.

PROMPT, courteous attention paid to every loan.

MORTGAGE BOND AND TRUST COMPANY

Successors to T. J. Bates & Co., Inc. Broad at Walton Street, Atlanta, Georgia.

PLENTY MONEY

AT 6% TO 6 1/2%

On Atlanta Residence Or Business Property

T. B. GAY

409 Trust Co. Bldg. WA 1011

UNLIMITED money, no commission, 7 per cent for five and ten years. Repayment on or before as desired. J. T. Carson & Co., Walnut 2550, Mr. Rodgers.

TO LEND on real estate at 6 and 7 per cent also monthly plan. Quick action. Purchase money notes and bonds.

Established since 1880.

M. R. McCLATCHY, Chandler Bldg.

MONEY

ON CITY REAL ESTATE—First and second mortgages. Building loans made. Large amounts of money loaned.

SLINGER, NORMAN & WYFORD.

310 North Forsyth St. Phone WA 1011.

CENTRAL PROPERTY & TRUST CO.

RESIDENCE PROPERTY, 6% TO 7 PER CENT. W. B. SMITH, Walnut 1011.

MONEY FOR REAL ESTATE LOANS

W. O. ALSTON, 1211 GIZZ & SOU. BANK BLDG.

Money in bank for quick real estate loans.

WE HAVE money on hand to make real estate loans at current rates. Address: Real Estate Co., 1011 North Forsyth St., Atlanta, Ga.

FUNDS on hand for loan and purchase money notes. A. P. Liebman, 85 N. Forsyth St., Atlanta, Ga.

MONEY to loan at current rate on improved property. W. Carson, 414 Atlanta Trust Co. Bldg.

FIRST and second mortgage loans. A. G. Smith, 313-315 Palmer Bldg., Wal. 4270.

MONEY TO LOAN

THE GREAT MONEY-LENDER

WITH A HEART

WE lend money to persons having steady employment; loans for sums needed for business, or for other purposes.

Monthly payments, or arranged to suit convenience of each borrower; legal rates charged on all loans; no hidden charges unless loan made; deals confidential and discreet; quick service; no delay.

Beneficial Loan Society

420 Palmer Bldg.

Member of Atlanta Chamber of Commerce. Licensed by Superintendent of Banks.

ROOMS—For Rent

FURNISHED bedroom to gentlemen, modern conveniences; steam heat; with private bath; 241 North Forsyth St., near North Ave. Phone Walnut 2810.

NICELY furnished room, adj. bath, steam heat, conveniences; also double room for two or three gentlemen. 321 Peachtree St., No. 10, Hemlock 0070.

ELIGANTLY fur. front room, bath, conveniences, immaculate sleeping porch. Hemlock 2868.

IN private family, nicely furnished room, meals if preferred; furnace heat; all conveniences. Business couple or business woman preferred. WEAT 1148.

PEACHTREE INN 301 PINE ST. Commercial and family hotel. Hot water at all hours, $10 to $15 week; $10 to $15 day.

FIVE BENTLEY large rooms with bath between, to one or two gentlemen. Private home; also garage. Phone Hemlock 1000.

THE ADOLPH ROOMS—Up-to-date, 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

LOVELY front room, with clean, comfortable, hot and cold water, private bath, and conveniences. Price $10.00 per week. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

GATE CITY HOTEL ROOMS—Up-to-date, 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

OVEN, refrigerator, sink, and bath. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

TWO nice bedrooms, private bath, steam heat, reasonable. 124 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week. 124 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

TWO nicely furnished rooms for business couples or gentlemen, all conveniences, also garage. 148 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week. 148 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

LARGE front room, all conveniences, private bath, 2 meals, if desired. 680 N. Blvd. Price $10.00 per week. 680 N. Blvd. Price $10.00 per week.

TWO nice rooms and kitchenette; all conveniences, private bath. 14th St. N. 1838. Price $10.00 per week. 14th St. N. 1838. Price $10.00 per week.

LARGE room, heat, hot and cold water, private bath, and conveniences. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

FURN. room, pleasant steam-heated bedroom for gentlemen. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

OVEN, refrigerator, sink, and bath. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

NICELY furnished room for one or two gentlemen; private home; all conveniences. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

Private home, two or three bedrooms, private bath, 2 meals, if desired. 680 N. Blvd. Price $10.00 per week. 680 N. Blvd. Price $10.00 per week.

FURNISHED room for gentlemen, sleeping porch, if desired, shower bath. HE 2801.

LIVING room, dining room, bath, kitchen, all large, to man and wife and children. 241 North Forsyth St., near North Ave. Price $10.00 per week. 241 North Forsyth St., near North Ave. Price $10.00 per week.

THREE or four rooms, bath, garage, clean, comfortable, moral surroundings, nice location. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

FIVE ROOMS FOR RENT; ALSO GARAGE. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

TWO large rooms, electric lights, private bath, with owner. 517 N. Moreland Ave. Price $10.00 per week. 517 N. Moreland Ave. Price $10.00 per week.

TWO large rooms, electric lights, private bath, with owner. 517 N. Moreland Ave. Price $10.00 per week. 517 N. Moreland Ave. Price $10.00 per week.

WANTED—Roommate

BUSINESS lady to share room and kitchenette in brick building; heat, electric, close in. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week. 1015 1/2th St. Price $10.00 per week.

HOUSES—For Rent

68 WASHINGTON AVE. nicely furnished 6-room bungalow. Walnut 0033.

UNFURNISHED. 20 COLUMBIA AVE. 5-r. house. $50.00. 107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00. 708 N. BOWLING AVE. 10-r. house. $50.00.

FINISH AVE., EAST LAKE. 8-r. house. $50.00. 204 GORDON ST. 5-r. house. $50.00. 107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00.

107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00. 708 N. BOWLING AVE. 10-r. house. $50.00. 204 GORDON ST. 5-r. house. $50.00.

204 GORDON ST. 5-r. house. $50.00. 107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00. 708 N. BOWLING AVE. 10-r. house. $50.00.

708 N. BOWLING AVE. 10-r. house. $50.00. 204 GORDON ST. 5-r. house. $50.00. 107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00.

107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00. 708 N. BOWLING AVE. 10-r. house. $50.00. 204 GORDON ST. 5-r. house. $50.00.

204 GORDON ST. 5-r. house. $50.00. 107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00. 708 N. BOWLING AVE. 10-r. house. $50.00.

708 N. BOWLING AVE. 10-r. house. $50.00. 204 GORDON ST. 5-r. house. $50.00. 107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00.

107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00. 708 N. BOWLING AVE. 10-r. house. $50.00. 204 GORDON ST. 5-r. house. $50.00.

204 GORDON ST. 5-r. house. $50.00. 107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00. 708 N. BOWLING AVE. 10-r. house. $50.00.

708 N. BOWLING AVE. 10-r. house. $50.00. 204 GORDON ST. 5-r. house. $50.00. 107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00.

107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00. 708 N. BOWLING AVE. 10-r. house. $50.00. 204 GORDON ST. 5-r. house. $50.00.

204 GORDON ST. 5-r. house. $50.00. 107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00. 708 N. BOWLING AVE. 10-r. house. $50.00.

708 N. BOWLING AVE. 10-r. house. $50.00. 204 GORDON ST. 5-r. house. $50.00. 107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00.

107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00. 708 N. BOWLING AVE. 10-r. house. $50.00. 204 GORDON ST. 5-r. house. $50.00.

204 GORDON ST. 5-r. house. $50.00. 107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00. 708 N. BOWLING AVE. 10-r. house. $50.00.

708 N. BOWLING AVE. 10-r. house. $50.00. 204 GORDON ST. 5-r. house. $50.00. 107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00.

107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00. 708 N. BOWLING AVE. 10-r. house. $50.00. 204 GORDON ST. 5-r. house. $50.00.

204 GORDON ST. 5-r. house. $50.00. 107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00. 708 N. BOWLING AVE. 10-r. house. $50.00.

708 N. BOWLING AVE. 10-r. house. $50.00. 204 GORDON ST. 5-r. house. $50.00. 107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00.

107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00. 708 N. BOWLING AVE. 10-r. house. $50.00. 204 GORDON ST. 5-r. house. $50.00.

204 GORDON ST. 5-r. house. $50.00. 107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00. 708 N. BOWLING AVE. 10-r. house. $50.00.

708 N. BOWLING AVE. 10-r. house. $50.00. 204 GORDON ST. 5-r. house. $50.00. 107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00.

107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00. 708 N. BOWLING AVE. 10-r. house. $50.00. 204 GORDON ST. 5-r. house. $50.00.

204 GORDON ST. 5-r. house. $50.00. 107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00. 708 N. BOWLING AVE. 10-r. house. $50.00.

708 N. BOWLING AVE. 10-r. house. $50.00. 204 GORDON ST. 5-r. house. $50.00. 107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00.

107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00. 708 N. BOWLING AVE. 10-r. house. $50.00. 204 GORDON ST. 5-r. house. $50.00.

204 GORDON ST. 5-r. house. $50.00. 107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00. 708 N. BOWLING AVE. 10-r. house. $50.00.

708 N. BOWLING AVE. 10-r. house. $50.00. 204 GORDON ST. 5-r. house. $50.00. 107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00.

107 S. GORDON ST. 7-r. bungalow. $50.00. 708 N. B

Notice to Contractors

Sealed proposals for straightening, dredging and deepening the channel of Peachtree Creek between Peachtree Road Bridge and Howell Mill Road Bridge will be received until 2 p. m., September 24, 1922, by C. M. Holland, Purchasing Agent, for Fulton county, at his office in the Courthouse and no changes in the bids or other proposals will be received or considered thereafter. Specifications may be obtained from said Purchasing Agent at 507 Courthouse, Atlanta, Ga.

SPECIAL for TODAY

at LAMBERT'S

Broiled Spanish Mackerel
With French Fried Potatoes..... 35cLAMBERT'S CAFETERIA Connally Building

Daffodil Dainties

Served at All Soda Fountains—

An efficiency expert says that five minutes' relaxation with a small amount of food, taken mid-morning or mid-afternoon, is worth two hours time without it. STEP TO THE FOUNTAIN AND ASK FOR A DAFFODIL DAINITY AND A DRINK.

Daffodil Fruit Cakes
In decorated air-tight containers will make an ideal Christmas Present.

The Daffodil
111 NORTH PRYOR

Walker & Barnwell

Auto Supplies
203 Peachtree St.

Specials

Flashlights, all nickel, 2-cell..... $1.25
Large Klaxon Horns..... 9.00
STOP Signals..... 2.25
Aluminum Step Plates..... 1.50
Large Chamois..... 1.50
Wool Dusters..... .90
Mitten Dusters..... .50

Wolverine Bumpers

Made of the highest grade spring steel.
Guaranteed against breakage. Steel Brackets.

Double span, all nickel..... $15.00
Single, black and nickel..... 9.75
For Fords..... 8.75

Flashlights (2-cell)..... $1.25
The Safest Motometer Lock..... 1.50
Five lbs. Buckeye Soap..... 1.20
Cuno Cigar Lighters..... 8.00
Tire Covers, all sizes..... 2.85

SPECIAL PRICE ON ALL SIZES
WEED CHAINS

"The lowest prices on standard accessories"

Walker & Barnwell
203 Peachtree St.
Atlanta, Ga. IVY 3123CONTRACTORS' DAY
AT FORDSON SHOW

The Southeastern Fordson Industrial Exposition continues to be one of the big attractions of the week in Atlanta. The second attendance of Wednesday was duplicated yesterday and the crowds too busy during the day to visit the exposition packed the grounds in the evening.

Today is Contractors' day and will be featured by special demonstrations of interest to both building and road contractors. Special invitation has been extended to the local contractors and arrangements made for special transportation to the grounds by the Ford dealers.

It is expected that it will be possible to announce the winner in the Constitution prize contest tonight. The clerical force of The Constitution is busy engaged in going over the thousands of answers and yesterday additional clerks were hired to help rush the work. Announcement will be made by radio of the result.

One of the attractions of the exposition is the Fordson locomotive operating on a quarter-mile stretch of track which surrounds the exposition grounds. The locomotive speeds around the track at 25 miles an hour at times, and most of the safety methods usually used in railroading.

Service Station Shows.
A model service station equipped with the latest inventions for repairing cars, trucks and tractors has a crowd around it all the time. Of particular interest seems to be the practical demonstration of re-babbiting bearings. By an improved method the bearings are re-babbiting and finished simultaneously. The entire operation requires only a few minutes.

As announced by Mr. W. W. Mitchell, local Ford manager, the exposition will be open until Saturday evening.

Dinner Friday Night.
The Citizens and Southern bank will give the exhibitors at the Fordson show a dinner Friday night, complimentary to W. W. Mitchell, branch manager of the Ford Motor company in Atlanta.

The dinner will be served in the dining room in the bank quarters and will begin promptly at 6 o'clock.

Catharine de Medici introduced the ballet into France.

Manhattan Shirts
Your Manhattan Shirt today expresses your idea of a good shirt.

$2.50 and Up
We also carry a complete line of Fashion Knit and Berkeley Knit Neckwear.

I wish to announce the arrival of the new Woolens for Fall and Winter Suits made to your individual measure.

$35.00 to $55.00
GOLDBERG'S
Haberdashery—Tailoring
Ansley Hotel

WE SELL FORD CARS
A. L. BELLE ISLE — IVY 507

TALLULAH-ON-THE-LAKE
Tennis, swimming, boating, fishing, mountain climbing, Orchestra for dancing. Excellent cuisine. Most picturesque scenery in America. Racing mountain in the September in the Blue Ridge is wonderful. Rates, $12.50 to $30 per week; $3 and $2.50 per day. Write or wire for literature.
CLIFF HOUSE, Tallulah Falls, Ga.
J. E. HARRY, Proprietor.
Ralph Lane, Clerk.

NOTICE TO GENERAL AND MECHANICAL CONTRACTORS.
Bids will be received on or before 8 p. m., Friday, September 8, by the Board of Education, City of Atlanta, for a new school building, to be known as Northwest Junior High School. Also for mechanical work consisting of plumbing, heating and wiring etc., for Ivy and Calhoun (mergers). The character of contracts and estimates, both general and mechanical, to be called for on bid blanks.

For new building to be known as "Northwest Junior High School," covering work in general contract and work in mechanical contracts.

General contract bids to be indorsed on cover "Bids for Northwest Junior High School Building." Bids for mechanical work to be indorsed on cover "Bids for Mechanical Work for Northwest Junior High School."

For mechanical work on Ivy and Calhoun (mergers). Bids to be indorsed on cover "Bids for Mechanical Work for Ivy and Calhoun (mergers)." Bids to be addressed to Board of Education, in care of Mr. J. N. Landers, City Purchasing Agent.

Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check in the sum of 2 per cent of each bid for both general and mechanical work under the conditions and specifications. The Board of Education reserves the right to reject any or all bids and waive technicalities.

Plans and specifications for Northwest Junior High School by Messrs. Albert A. J. Barrett, Architect, Ivy Calhoun by Messrs. J. E. Freuder Architects, bid blanks may be procured at the office of the Superior Building, 117-119 Forsyth Building, at his direction.

(Signed) City Purchasing Agent.

FREEMAN MEETS
NASH IN DEBATE

Decatur, Ga., August 31.—(Special.)—At a political rally, staged by the L. T. Y. Nash campaign committee in behalf of the candidacy of Mr. Nash for the commission of roads and revenues of DeKalb county, here tonight R. J. Freeman, former commissioner and the only opponent to Mr. Nash in this campaign, reiterated his promise to withdraw from the race if he was elected.

Two Fordson stand side by side belted to two generators which have been converted from electric motors.

The statement was made in reply to a published declaration by Mr. Nash that he had reduced the indebtedness of the county, left by Freeman when the latter retired from the commission on January 1, 1919, to approximately $80,000.

The meeting, which was presided over by Dr. McCain, of Agnes Scott college, was attended by an audience that filled the DeKalb county court-room to capacity, the sentiment of those present, judging from the reception accorded the two speakers, being about equally divided between Nash and Freeman partisans.

Turned Into Joint Debate.
Although called as a Nash meeting, the Nash committee, as the chairman explained, through a desire to be fair and to give the voters of Decatur an opportunity to hear both sides of the questions at issue, resolved it into a joint debate between Messrs. Nash and Freeman, with Captain Scott Howell, mayor of Decatur, and J. Howell Green, president of the Decatur Bank and Trust company, following each with an address in behalf of Commissioner Freeman.

In his opening address Commissioner Nash declared that when he took office four years ago, following the twelve years' uninterrupted tenure of former Commissioner Freeman, he found the county in debt $308,810, with no funds on hand, practically no equipment with which to carry on improvements, and he said, "without credit to the extent of 5 cents."

He vigorously defended his methods of administration, accounting for the money he had spent and explaining the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

FREEMAN MEETS
NASH IN DEBATE

Decatur, Ga., August 31.—(Special.)—At a political rally, staged by the L. T. Y. Nash campaign committee in behalf of the candidacy of Mr. Nash for the commission of roads and revenues of DeKalb county, here tonight R. J. Freeman, former commissioner and the only opponent to Mr. Nash in this campaign, reiterated his promise to withdraw from the race if he was elected.

Two Fordson stand side by side belted to two generators which have been converted from electric motors.

The statement was made in reply to a published declaration by Mr. Nash that he had reduced the indebtedness of the county, left by Freeman when the latter retired from the commission on January 1, 1919, to approximately $80,000.

The meeting, which was presided over by Dr. McCain, of Agnes Scott college, was attended by an audience that filled the DeKalb county court-room to capacity, the sentiment of those present, judging from the reception accorded the two speakers, being about equally divided between Nash and Freeman partisans.

Turned Into Joint Debate.
Although called as a Nash meeting, the Nash committee, as the chairman explained, through a desire to be fair and to give the voters of Decatur an opportunity to hear both sides of the questions at issue, resolved it into a joint debate between Messrs. Nash and Freeman, with Captain Scott Howell, mayor of Decatur, and J. Howell Green, president of the Decatur Bank and Trust company, following each with an address in behalf of Commissioner Freeman.

In his opening address Commissioner Nash declared that when he took office four years ago, following the twelve years' uninterrupted tenure of former Commissioner Freeman, he found the county in debt $308,810, with no funds on hand, practically no equipment with which to carry on improvements, and he said, "without credit to the extent of 5 cents."

He vigorously defended his methods of administration, accounting for the money he had spent and explaining the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

FREEMAN MEETS
NASH IN DEBATE

Decatur, Ga., August 31.—(Special.)—At a political rally, staged by the L. T. Y. Nash campaign committee in behalf of the candidacy of Mr. Nash for the commission of roads and revenues of DeKalb county, here tonight R. J. Freeman, former commissioner and the only opponent to Mr. Nash in this campaign, reiterated his promise to withdraw from the race if he was elected.

Two Fordson stand side by side belted to two generators which have been converted from electric motors.

The statement was made in reply to a published declaration by Mr. Nash that he had reduced the indebtedness of the county, left by Freeman when the latter retired from the commission on January 1, 1919, to approximately $80,000.

The meeting, which was presided over by Dr. McCain, of Agnes Scott college, was attended by an audience that filled the DeKalb county court-room to capacity, the sentiment of those present, judging from the reception accorded the two speakers, being about equally divided between Nash and Freeman partisans.

Turned Into Joint Debate.
Although called as a Nash meeting, the Nash committee, as the chairman explained, through a desire to be fair and to give the voters of Decatur an opportunity to hear both sides of the questions at issue, resolved it into a joint debate between Messrs. Nash and Freeman, with Captain Scott Howell, mayor of Decatur, and J. Howell Green, president of the Decatur Bank and Trust company, following each with an address in behalf of Commissioner Freeman.

In his opening address Commissioner Nash declared that when he took office four years ago, following the twelve years' uninterrupted tenure of former Commissioner Freeman, he found the county in debt $308,810, with no funds on hand, practically no equipment with which to carry on improvements, and he said, "without credit to the extent of 5 cents."

He vigorously defended his methods of administration, accounting for the money he had spent and explaining the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

FREEMAN MEETS
NASH IN DEBATE

Decatur, Ga., August 31.—(Special.)—At a political rally, staged by the L. T. Y. Nash campaign committee in behalf of the candidacy of Mr. Nash for the commission of roads and revenues of DeKalb county, here tonight R. J. Freeman, former commissioner and the only opponent to Mr. Nash in this campaign, reiterated his promise to withdraw from the race if he was elected.

Two Fordson stand side by side belted to two generators which have been converted from electric motors.

The statement was made in reply to a published declaration by Mr. Nash that he had reduced the indebtedness of the county, left by Freeman when the latter retired from the commission on January 1, 1919, to approximately $80,000.

The meeting, which was presided over by Dr. McCain, of Agnes Scott college, was attended by an audience that filled the DeKalb county court-room to capacity, the sentiment of those present, judging from the reception accorded the two speakers, being about equally divided between Nash and Freeman partisans.

Turned Into Joint Debate.
Although called as a Nash meeting, the Nash committee, as the chairman explained, through a desire to be fair and to give the voters of Decatur an opportunity to hear both sides of the questions at issue, resolved it into a joint debate between Messrs. Nash and Freeman, with Captain Scott Howell, mayor of Decatur, and J. Howell Green, president of the Decatur Bank and Trust company, following each with an address in behalf of Commissioner Freeman.

In his opening address Commissioner Nash declared that when he took office four years ago, following the twelve years' uninterrupted tenure of former Commissioner Freeman, he found the county in debt $308,810, with no funds on hand, practically no equipment with which to carry on improvements, and he said, "without credit to the extent of 5 cents."

He vigorously defended his methods of administration, accounting for the money he had spent and explaining the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

FREEMAN MEETS
NASH IN DEBATE

Decatur, Ga., August 31.—(Special.)—At a political rally, staged by the L. T. Y. Nash campaign committee in behalf of the candidacy of Mr. Nash for the commission of roads and revenues of DeKalb county, here tonight R. J. Freeman, former commissioner and the only opponent to Mr. Nash in this campaign, reiterated his promise to withdraw from the race if he was elected.

Two Fordson stand side by side belted to two generators which have been converted from electric motors.

The statement was made in reply to a published declaration by Mr. Nash that he had reduced the indebtedness of the county, left by Freeman when the latter retired from the commission on January 1, 1919, to approximately $80,000.

The meeting, which was presided over by Dr. McCain, of Agnes Scott college, was attended by an audience that filled the DeKalb county court-room to capacity, the sentiment of those present, judging from the reception accorded the two speakers, being about equally divided between Nash and Freeman partisans.

Turned Into Joint Debate.
Although called as a Nash meeting, the Nash committee, as the chairman explained, through a desire to be fair and to give the voters of Decatur an opportunity to hear both sides of the questions at issue, resolved it into a joint debate between Messrs. Nash and Freeman, with Captain Scott Howell, mayor of Decatur, and J. Howell Green, president of the Decatur Bank and Trust company, following each with an address in behalf of Commissioner Freeman.

In his opening address Commissioner Nash declared that when he took office four years ago, following the twelve years' uninterrupted tenure of former Commissioner Freeman, he found the county in debt $308,810, with no funds on hand, practically no equipment with which to carry on improvements, and he said, "without credit to the extent of 5 cents."

He vigorously defended his methods of administration, accounting for the money he had spent and explaining the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

FREEMAN MEETS
NASH IN DEBATE

Decatur, Ga., August 31.—(Special.)—At a political rally, staged by the L. T. Y. Nash campaign committee in behalf of the candidacy of Mr. Nash for the commission of roads and revenues of DeKalb county, here tonight R. J. Freeman, former commissioner and the only opponent to Mr. Nash in this campaign, reiterated his promise to withdraw from the race if he was elected.

Two Fordson stand side by side belted to two generators which have been converted from electric motors.

The statement was made in reply to a published declaration by Mr. Nash that he had reduced the indebtedness of the county, left by Freeman when the latter retired from the commission on January 1, 1919, to approximately $80,000.

The meeting, which was presided over by Dr. McCain, of Agnes Scott college, was attended by an audience that filled the DeKalb county court-room to capacity, the sentiment of those present, judging from the reception accorded the two speakers, being about equally divided between Nash and Freeman partisans.

Turned Into Joint Debate.
Although called as a Nash meeting, the Nash committee, as the chairman explained, through a desire to be fair and to give the voters of Decatur an opportunity to hear both sides of the questions at issue, resolved it into a joint debate between Messrs. Nash and Freeman, with Captain Scott Howell, mayor of Decatur, and J. Howell Green, president of the Decatur Bank and Trust company, following each with an address in behalf of Commissioner Freeman.

In his opening address Commissioner Nash declared that when he took office four years ago, following the twelve years' uninterrupted tenure of former Commissioner Freeman, he found the county in debt $308,810, with no funds on hand, practically no equipment with which to carry on improvements, and he said, "without credit to the extent of 5 cents."

He vigorously defended his methods of administration, accounting for the money he had spent and explaining the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.

He said that he had made the improvements he had made in the county.